Ludlow Trims Bearcats, 71-56

The Ludlow Panthers tuned up for their title defense in the Ludlow Invitational Tournament by polishing off a good Walton-Verona team, 71-56, December 21, in Ludlow.

The Panthers in winning their fifth game in six outings closed out the night's play with a 25-point fourth period that ended whatever hopes the Bearcats had for victory. Although the 'Cats never got out front, they made a battle of it all the way until the final period.

Reeves led the Panther attack with 20 points. Caple added 18, and Alig 15. Rick Goldsberry and Bobby Messner led Walton-Verona in scoring with 13 points each. Ronnie Huffman added 11.

The Ludlow reserves won the first game by a 52-37 score over W-V.

Cats Take Beechwood In Tourney

A 26-point third period enabled Walton-Verona to beat off a pesky Beechwood team and go on to a 78-51 victory in the first round of the Ludlow Invitational Tourney on Tuesday, Dec. 29.

The Beechies, trailing by only five points at the half, were outscored by 17 in the period to drop out of contention.

Rick Goldsberry led the winners with 18 points, while Mike Ferguson added 17, Ronnie Huffman 16, and Gary Ingram 10. Mark Robinson led Beechwood with 24 points.

The same evening, Ludlow came through with a 62-60 win over Pendleton County.

Bearcats Lose In Semifinals

MARCH OF DIMES MONTH PROCLAIMED

Gov. Louie B. Nunn has proclaimed January as March of Dimes Month in Kentucky.

Praising the National Foundation-March of Dimes for their campaign to guarantee every newborn American child a birthright of good health, the governor urged all Kentuckians to join in a generous support of the March of Dimes program.

Due to the generosity of millions of Americans, more than 100 March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers have been established for research into the prevention and treatment of congenital diseases.

Although significant progress has been made in both prevention and treatment of these dread maladies, much still remains to be done if some 250,000 newborns annually are to be spared the scourge of birth defects.

Open House For Pastor

Open House will be held at the Immanuel Baptist Church, 20th and Madison, Covington, on Sunday, Jan. 10, from 2:30 until 4:30 p. m., for the new pastor, Rev. Walter A. Ialey. The reception is to give members of the church and other churches and friends an opportunity to meet and welcome Rev. and Mrs. Ialey to Northern Kentucky.

Rev. Ialey attended the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville. For the past four years he has served as pastor of the Brooksville Baptist Church, Brooksville, Ky. He and his wife, Carolyn, have a daughter, Kimberly.

George Bernard Shaw once attended a dull party where the hostess inquired, "Are you enjoying yourself?" He replied, "Yes, but that's all I'm enjoying."

Industrial Park Affects Economy

The Northern Kentucky industrial park will play a growing role in the economy of the community as the tri-county area moves into 1971.

A survey by the First National Bank and Trust Company, Covington, uncovered reports that additional companies are shortly expected to purchase land in the sprawling tract.

In addition, current companies are anxious to obtain more acreage for expansion. The bank was informed that 60 per cent of the land has been sold.

The activity of the industrial park foundation was only a part of the story released on the economic health of the community as the new year began.

The outlook is mixed, the survey shows, but with the good outweighing the bad.

Retail sales, dollar-wise, were up as the year came to a close but higher costs have cut into profit margins. Auto sales, down 35 per cent during the past year, are expected to move higher as the industry prepares for a predicted good year.

Financial institutions report savings are returning to local banks. Home building reversed a trend as 1970 came to a close. Tobacco sold at averages above last year but acreage cuts and then possibility of more to come dimmed the outlook.

Tax collections, officials said, have been good but that report had an offsetting factor with cities and school districts facing financial problems brought about by increased demands for services.

Two emerging industries were spotted as possible bright spots in the future of the area. There is an increased demand for mobile homes and mobile home parks for those who, for one reason or another, do not want conventional housing.

The convention business is the other new industry which may bring new dollars to the area. The construction of quality facilities is credited with this plus factor. However, the First National survey also pointed out that conventions are booked years in advance so the new dollars may be delayed in arriving.

Burley Mostly Sold Before Christmas

Over 85 per cent of Kentucky's projected burley tobacco poundage was sold before the holiday recess, according to figures released by the State Department of Agriculture.

Volume on the state's markets during the pre-Christmas auctions was over 327 million pounds, which brought farmers some $2366 million. The estimate for the total 1970 crop is 383.4 million pounds.

Lexington's market led the way, with over 13.5 million pounds sold. Maysville was second, selling 5.3 million pounds.

The Greensburg market sold for the highest session average, paying $73.43 per hundred.

Auction houses were reopened on Wednesday, January 6.

$6,000 Base For Teachers

The Kentucky Education Association is working out a legislative package for 1972 that would include a $6,000 base salary for teachers with no experience, a professional negotiation bill and other proposals, it is reported.

President Sends Greetings

A birthday card from President and Mrs. Nixon was among the greetings that Dale M. Elkins, Walton, received on his 93rd birthday, Monday, Dec. 28. Mr. Elkins was born in 1877 in Wolfe County, Ky., and for the past seven years has made his home with a daughter, Mrs. Freddie Green of Plum Street.

Ten of his 14 children are living, and he has many descendants down to the fifth generation (three great-grandchildren). Mr. Elkins is a cavalry veteran of the Spanish-American War, and was a farmer in Kentucky and Indiana before retirement. He still enjoys good health, Mrs. Green said.

The Kenton County Garden Club Meets

"All Through the House," was the theme used by Mrs. Wesley Hall to decorate her home for the third annual Christmas party of the Kenton County Garden Club.

Her mantel was ablaze with color on a Christmas tree form decorated with 25 handmade ornaments. Mr. Hall designed the tree frame.

A seamstress, Mrs. Hall used remnants of velvet and satin and discarded beads and pearls to decorate styrofoam balls to add a sentimental accent to the holiday setting.

An eye catcher in the dining room was an antique kerosene lamp accented with snowed evergreens and red bow. An antique wooden bowl filled with old ornaments emphasized a painting done by the Hall's daughter, Elaine, a senior at the Cincinnati Art Academy.

During the Garden Club meeting, Mrs. Leontine Stephens, the program chairman, read legends of Christmas and the Christmas tree and the story of the birth of Jesus Christ as written by Luke.

Members displayed ornaments they had made at workshops during the year.

Attending the meeting were: Mesdames Chalmers Ballinger, Ralph Gough, John Herron, Frances Keeney, Forrest Popp, Leontine Stephens, William Straw, and Misses Elma Taylor and Alice Jane Williams.

ULH&P to Spend $7 Million in 1971

The Union Light, Heat & Power Company plans to spend $7 million on construction projects in 1971 and $40 million in the next five years, to provide continued growth of reliable service, according to John Yeager, president.

Construction of the new $1,000,000 office building of ULH&P being built in Covington is progressing satisfactorily. The new building is located on the South side of Fourth Street, between Madison Ave. and Russell St.

All activities conducted at the 7th and Scott Streets office will be transferred to the new building when it is finished. About 35 employees will be housed in the new structure.

ULH&P has completed the construction of a Liquefied Natural Gas Plant at Erlanger, costing more than $1 million. The new plant makes it possible to furnish gas service to remote areas. Dry Ridge and Crittenden are receiving gas service through LNG process. Gas pipelines have been extended to Glencoe.

The electrical capacity of the Lima-burg Substation, Route 237, near Youell Road, will be increased at a cost of $66,000.

Work is continuing on a $1 million project to increase the capacity of an electric line from the Taylor Mill area to Walton, to 69,000 volts from its present 33,000 volts. This project involve the building of two new substations, one on Beaver Road, near I-75, and the other on Route 16, South of Harris Pike, and the rebuilding of the Decoursey Substation, South of Latonia.

It will cost the company about $750,000 in 1971 to relocate gas and electric facilities because of street and highway improvement work in Northern Kentucky.

During the next five years, Mr. Yeager said, CG&E plans to spend about $725 million on construction projects, including $422 million for work on transmission facilities and power station projects that will nearly double the company's present electric generating capacity by 1976. The present capacity is 2,018,470 kilowatts.

ULH&P taxes totaled $3.4 million in 1970. This included property taxes of $712,000, of which $373,000 was for schools.

Census Bureau Gives Population of Cities

The Census Bureau has released figures of cities in Northern Kentucky in 1970. It seems there may have been errors in the count in some areas, but we give the figures we have.

The city with the largest percentage of growth in the past ten years was Independence, with a 477.3 percent increase, going from 309 in 1960 to 1,784 in 1970. Taylor Mill had a large increase, 358.2 percent, going up from 710 in 1960 to 3,253 in 1970.

Walton gained 17.7 percent, going from 1,530 in 1960, to 1,801 in 1970. Florence was up 75.1 percent. In 1960, the population was 5,837, and in 1970, 11,457. However, it seems City officials think this should be higher.

Warsaw grew from 981 in 1960 to 1,232 in 1970, an increase of 25.6 percent.

Crittenden went from 287 in 1960 to 359 in 1970; Dry Ridge from 802 to 1,100, and Williamstown upped its count from 1,611 to 2,063.

The injuries were quite serious, it is said, and Mr. Hinsdale is in intensive care at Sparta's St. John's Hospital, being treated for a back injury. The accident took place at an intersection when a car slammed into the car driven by Jimmy Hinsdale, son of the school head and his wife, Elizabeth. The car struck on the side where Mr. Hinsdale was sitting.

The Hinsdales had gone to South Carolina to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hinsdale, who reside near Sparta, Ky.

Mrs. Hinsdale was not with her husband and son at the time of the accident.

BEAVER LICK

Lori Wilson is still in the hospital, and is beginning to show improvement.

The Beaver Baptist Church had their Christmas program on Wednesday evening. A large crowd attended, and it was enjoyed by all. After the entertainment, a treat of fruit and candy was had for all.

Henry Black entered Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, Wednesday, and underwent surgery Thursday. We all wish him much success in his surgery.

Miss Sandy Stephenson is enjoying the Christmas holidays at home in Beaver.

Everyone was sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Leon Hall, and all extend sympathy to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rosenstiel had their family in for Christmas dinner the Sunday before Christmas; also Mrs. Rosenstiel's sister, Mrs. Louise H. Cope, of Walton.

We have just learned that Henry Black is back home but in severe pain. Albert Rosenstiel, Elizabeth and Sandy Stephenson attended the funeral of Elizabeth's cousin, Mrs. Leonard Noble, of Jackson, Saturday, Dec. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Crouch spent Christmas with their daughter and son-in-law, Sue and Lon Murphy, in Covington.

The New Year's Eve watch night service was another enjoyable occasion of the Beaver Baptist Church. A good crowd attended.

Randall Rhodes and children have all been sick with a virus, but are better and up and around.

DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS

M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

Earlier last month, the House took final action on the Defense Department Appropriation Bill for the current fiscal year. It provides for an appropriation of $66.6 billion. This is $2.1 billion less than the budget recommendation. It is less than provided in any of the defense appropriation bills for the last three years.

When the Conference Report on this bill was before the House several members expressed their concern over the adequacy of the national defense, particularly as we look to the future. We share this concern. We share the viewpoint by Congressman George Mahon, (D) of Texas, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee when, in response to a question he said:

"If we are to maintain our military superiority, if we are going to avoid being outgunned strategically and otherwise, we are going to have to do more in certain areas of defense than we are doing in the pending bill. I would predict that unless the talks with the Soviet Union are fruitful that the next budget will have to be above this budget."

Since the Nixon Administration assumed office in January of 1969, Defense Secretary Laird has closed or reduced operations at 849 bases. The number of civilian employees has been reduced by 271,000 and our armed forces reduced from a Vietnam War peak of 3.5 million to about 2.9 million. There will no doubt be additional closing of bases and additional reductions in personnel.

Defense expenditures are unproductive and not popular. Nonetheless, we must at all times look to our country's security. We dare not let down our guard.

"OLD-TIME RELIGION"

Lesson for January 10, 1971

Background Scriptures: Matthew 9:14-17; 13:31-33, 51, 52; Mark 4:26-29.

Bishop Gerald Kennedy of the United Methodist Church tells an old story of a hungry Arab, who, one night in his tent, lighted a candle, and peeled open a date, to his dismay, there was a worm, so he threw it aside. A second and third date also had worms. Exasperated, the Arab blew out the candle and ate the fourth date.

"Rather than face unpleasant realities," comments Bishop Kennedy, "we often find it easier to stay with things as they are and hope for the best. It hardly ever works."

"It's good enough for me"

Many of us may be like the Arab; we do not like to face unpleasant realities. One of the most unpleasant realities for Christians today are the rapid changes — sociological, technological, theological, moral, political — taking place in our world. They are unpleasant because they are challenging us to change and we do not want to change. It is not so strange, then, that many of us look back to the "good old days" and sing: "Give me that old time religion... it's good enough for me."

No doubt about it, the old-time religion was good. But what we forget is that what made it "good" was that in its own day it spoke to the needs of people where they were. Its genius was that it was not geared to some day gone by, but present circumstances. Though it preserved the best of the past, it was not afraid to push on into the future with whatever new resources God would give.

"We never did it that way before"

When we go back into the Bible we find that all the great moments of spiritual history were regarded as "new-fangled" by people when they first appeared. Moses was often rejected by his people because he would introduce some "new thing" from God. It doesn't take too much imagination to hear the people of Israel greet Moses down from Mount Sinai with the Ten Commandments, saying: "But we never did it that way before!"

It was the same story when Israelite leaders tried to unite the tribes into one unified nation, when David sought to build a temple, when prophets challenged the people with their "new ideas." It was also this kind of resistance which gave Jesus so much opposition and which, indeed, brought about his death. His preaching and teaching were radically "new" and "different" and quite contrary to much that the rabbis held dear.

Jesus tried to help them to understand that his message was not really "new," but rather a contemporary interpretation of the eternal truth. No one, he said, "puts a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for the patch tears away from the garment and a worse tear is made." The same is true in trying to pour new wine into old wineskins. The fermentation of the new wine will burst the old, weakened material.

Old wineskins

The wineskins are the various forms in which we express our religion. They are our religious institutions, our style of church life, our form of worship, our mode of witness. These forms wear-out in time and the freshness of the Gospel is always in danger of bursting them. The important thing is not the wineskin, the form, but the eternal reality, the new wine. It is the Gospel, not our forms of expressing it, that is eternal. At one time it was normative to worship secretly in catacombs; today there is no need to do so. The important thing is that we worship, not where or how or when.

Do you believe in the tremendous capabilities of man? Christians do...

Do you, on the other hand, believe that man is quite helpless to overcome many of the forces that threaten his progress? Christians do...

How can the same religion support such contradictory views?

Well, we take for granted that a tank-load of gasoline will propel an automobile many miles. But there are cold mornings when we can't even get the engine started. What is missing?

A spark! A continuing series of sparks!

Never over-simplify the functioning of the human soul. Like the internal-combustion engine it can be powerless when denied the fire that unlocks its energy.

To be himself — to be all that God intended him to be — a man needs God.

Bring your hopes and frustrations to church next Sunday.

Faster living. Convenience foods. Shopping habits change. Why—and what's ahead? What are the "so-called" new trends? Look at the grocery carts these days. Processed products crowd out most of the fresh lettuce, cucumbers and peppers—but what about the other vegetables?

U. S. Department of Agriculture economists report that we use less tomatoes, onions and celery than we did 20 years ago. But, actually, the trend away from fresh vegetables is not really new. It started to decline in the late thirties and early forties. We stopped eating quite so many fresh peas and lima beans—then we stopped eating as many snap beans. In the fifties we didn't demand fresh cabbage in quantities as we used to—then we started picking up fewer bunches of carrots from the produce bins.

We started the switch to frozen broccoli instead of fresh, then it was frozen Brussels sprouts and cauliflower. New the trend is towards frozen ears of corn—away from the fresh ones. Next the shift to frozen spinach and other green leafy vegetables. And so it goes. By 1969, canned or frozen items accounted for approximately 54 percent of the total vegetable consumption.

Why the trend? What really encourages housewives to switch to the frozen or canned lines and away from the familiar fresh-from-the-farm varieties. Convenience is the number one factor. The demand for more services grows along with rising incomes. If Dad gets a pay raise, Mom doesn't put plain fresh spinach in the grocery cart—no, she buys frozen spinach soufflé. Mom may be out adding to the family income too—she has less time, but usually more money—so she needs the convenience foods.

F. J. LUCAS SANITATION CO.

According to USDA's Economic Research Service the trend won't change but the pace of the shiftover will probably slow down because now most families have already shifted to convenience lines.

Only a few crops grow well on acid soils because they require calcium and magnesium which are replaced by applications of agricultural limestone. This material not only corrects the soil acidity, but also supplies the plants with the needed calcium and frequently magnesium.

Soil pH, which is a measure of the acidity or alkalinity of the soil, affects the availability of all elements which influence crop production. An application of liming material to an acid soil increases the availability of plant nutrients which are important to crop production. Among these are nitrogen, phosphate and others. Liming reduces luxury uptake of potash by the plants and reduces the availability of aluminum and iron manganese which are harmful to plant if they are present in sufficient quantities in the soil. Liming also helps increase the number and activity of beneficial soil bacteria. It helps improve the physical condition of the soil by supplying the calcium needed by leguminous crops to increase their growth. It increases root development and permeability of the soil.

Lime is the most economical factor involved in crop production on most soils in the humid areas, as they are acid in varying degrees. The application of needed fertilizers is also one of the most economical factors in crop production. The wise use of water—both rainfall and irrigation—is still another factor involving crop production. However, the one which is most frequently by-passed is the application of agricultural limestone and this is the first step in a sound fertility program on most soils in the humid area. Failure to apply this material limits crop production and wastes fertilizer dollars as well as the producer's capital investment and his labor in crop production. To get a better picture of soil needs, a soil test is recommended. Bring your soil samples to the Extension Office for a test.

TV Hazard

To eliminate the hazard of x-radiation, color television viewers should sit at least six feet from the set according to the Federal government's Bureau of Radiological Health. While black and white sets present no danger, turning down the color intensity of a color set to produce black and white still doesn't reduce the possibility of x-radiation from some sets. Since most servicemen aren't equipped to test for a color set's x-radiation, viewers should follow the distance guideline. This is particularly important for small children.

Cold Sores

Cold sores are little fever blisters which often occur in small groups around the face with the onset of a cold. Due to a virus or infection, they rapidly become crusted and sore. In the initial stages, sprays of camphor or tincture of benzoin may make the tender areas less sensitive and hasten drying. The healing process may also be accelerated by the use of drying lotions or powders. Cold sores usually dry up in a week to 10 days. However, if the problem persists, see your doctor.

First Woman Seated On Walton-Verona Board of Education

Mrs. Colleen V. Shields has begun a four-year term as a member of the Walton-Verona Board of Education. She has the distinction of being the first woman to serve in this capacity. Mrs. Shields had attended two previous meetings to familiarize herself with procedures.

The Walton-Verona school system is no strange thing for Mrs. Shields as she attended both elementary and high here and taught in the mathematics department for 10 1/2 years.

In stating some of her desires and objectives for the school system, she said:

"I am interested in keeping Walton-Verona an independent school system. I know there are many arguments pro and con, but in this age when we are all reduced to a number, it is nice to have the teacher-student relationship that the smaller independent school system can provide.

"I think we should strive to provide the best possible education for each child. I feel the needs of the student should always be considered first in the distribution of funds.

"I am interested in providing safe transportation for the students, hiring qualified substitutes when available, providing the best maintenance of existing buildings, and increasing communication between the school and the community.

"In general, the school should provide a challenge for the child with the high IQ, as well as the slow learner, and all those in between the two."

Mrs. Shields and her husband, Clinton, reside at 17 Alta Vista, and they have a son, Val Britton, age 5 1/2. Also beginning new four-year terms are Walt Ryan of Verona, and J. B. McCubbin of Walton. This is the second term for each of these men. Daniel Hance and William Waller are the other members of the five-member board.

Business Session Light

The amount of business conducted Saturday by the school board was held to a minimum. One important item approved was the changing of the meeting time to the second Thursday of each month at 7:30.

The treasurer's December report: Balance, Dec. 1 $124,086.59 Received $39,663.03 Disbursed $33,946.74 Balance, Dec. 31 $129,800.88

In case of severe weather conditions the school closing report will be given on WLW radio.

Fess Parker Meets With Louie B. Nunn

Fess Parker reportedly met in Frankfort last Wednesday with Gov. Louie Nunn to discuss roads on his proposed $20 million amusement park near Walton.

Word of the meeting came from Al J. Schneider, a friend of Parker's and prominent builder and developer in Louisville.

"He went to see the governor," Schneider confirmed. "There are some roads connected with it (Frontier Worlds) . . . that was primarily their meeting."

Schneider said Parker arrived in Kentucky Tuesday, stayed in Louisville then left by plane for Tennessee before returning to California.

Schneider reported that Parker was "very encouraged" after his meeting with Gov. Nunn. "The governor has been very cooperative."

Frontier World, a dazzling development for northern Kentucky, has been in the making for more than three years, but has been stymied by lack of financing.

Fespar Enterprises, Frontier World's developing firm, holds several hundred acres in the Walton area, purchased for more than half a million dollars.

BOONE FISCAL COURT SEEKS BUILDING IDEAS

Boone County Fiscal Court members toured the new Covington-Kenton County Municipal Building, Tuesday evening. Purpose was to gain ideas in planning Boone County's proposed new jail-penitentiary.

Carl Bankemper & Associates of Covington, designed the Covington building, and is also architect for the proposed Boone structure.

Need for a new Boone County jail has long been pointed out and was recently accentuated by the escape of nine prisoners in two jailbreaks. But size, scope, cost, financing and location of a new building have not yet been determined.

Fiscal Court members met at the Bankemper office at 7:30 p. m. and then toured the Covington-Kenton building with the architect.

January Meeting of Local Literary Club

The Walton Woman's Literary Club held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, January 6, at 2:00 p. m., in the Walton Christian Church.

Mrs. A. H. Gaines, president, opened the meeting by leading members in the salute to the flag and the reading of the club collect.

Mrs. Zayda Clore made a short report on the recent White House Conference on Children, held for six days in Washington, D. C. The conference is held once each decade to find ways to increase opportunities for better health and education of America's 55 million children under 14 years of age.

Miss Louise Conrad urged members and their friends to continue the collection of coupons from General Mills products for kidney machines for local hospitals.

She recited the poem, "Abu Ben Adhem," by J. H. L. Hunt, with emphasis on the line, "Write me as one that loves his fellow men." She closed the devotional with prayer.

Mrs. Lloyd Watson, past president, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. John Acra, State Home Life Department Chairman of KFWC. Her topic was written as a personal prayer by Mary Stewart, a native of Ohio. Mrs. Acra illustrated her talk with candles, lighting a white taper for each petition in the prayer: Freedom from pettiness, from fault finding, from pretense, from hasty judgment, and help for serenity, for better impulses, to disregard little differences, and to be kind.

Mrs. Gaines announced that the Fifth District would host the KFWC State Convention, January 25-26-27, at the President Motor Inn, Dixie Highway, Ft. Mitchell.

Mrs. Dan Bedinger reminded club members that January, 1971 is the 48th birthday of the Walton Woman's Literary Club. She expressed the appreciation of the club to Mrs. Gaines for serving as the club's president in 1970-71. Mrs. Gaines is a charter member and past president of the club. She has served the club in many ways during the years.

Hostesses were Mrs. Cameron Brakefield, Mrs. Carl Conner, Mrs. A. J. Russell, and Mrs. Walter Whitson. A delicious dessert course was served. The tables were attractive with a snow man centerpiece and miniature snow man place favors.

Burley Marts Reopen And Prices Are High

Northern Kentucky's tobacco auction folk puffed happily after the post-Christmas season's first day.

"Good sale, right smart high prices," said Bobby Franks, general manager at Route 25 New Burley Tobacco Warehouse, near the I-75 Richmond exit.

Erlanger Tobacco Market had its sales at Covington Independent, 3158 Dixie Highway. "Prices were a little higher than in the pre-Christmas auctions," smiled President Nathan Elliott. He saw 153,058 pounds go for $108,104.87; a $70.63 average.

Historical Marker Presentation At Richmond Presbyterian Church On Sunday Afternoon

On Sunday, January 17th, Richmond Presbyterian Church will dedicate an historical marker, awarded to the church by the Highway Marker Committee of the Kentucky Historical Society.

The ceremony will take place at 3:00 p. m., at the church on Richmond Road, Walton, followed by a reception in the parish house.

Special music will be provided by Mrs. Robert Schaffer and Mrs. Charles Higdon. Ellis Crawford, well known historian of Northern Kentucky, will make some introductory remarks, followed by an historical sketch of the church by Ashlin Logan, an elder in the church.

The dedicatory address will be given by Rev. Julian Charles, a former pastor of the church, now minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Covington.

The Richmond Church is the oldest Presbyterian Church in the Northern Kentucky Tri-County area, having been founded in 1834 by Joseph Cabell Harrison of the distinguished Harrison families of Virginia and Kentucky. He was a first cousin of William Henry Harrison, President of the United States. "Few churches, either city or rural, have the distinction of having as their founder a member of one of the most prominent families in the history of the nation and whose blood connections included the Breckinridge, who worked with him closely and intimately in the interest of other country churches during the first half of the nineteenth century.

Of the 13 original members, one was Sophia Rice Harrison, wife of the founder and granddaughter of David Rice, a graduate of Princeton, and the father of the Presbyterian Church in Kentucky. A lineal descendant of the founder and of David Rice, Ashlin Logan, is the only descendant of the original 13 who now worships regularly at the Richmond Church. Miss Jean Chambers, of Walton, now in her nineties, is the oldest living member of the church.

"The Restless Ones" at The First Baptist Church

"The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Walton on January 27, in the First Baptist Church.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teenage crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems.

Here is a film which dares to be different, a story which will stir the heart and mind. Having seen "The Restless Ones," you will never be the same. The film has skillfully brought into focus the contemporary plight of both parents and teenagers.

Buy Police Radio System For Boone

Boone County has purchased almost $7,000 worth of new equipment to set up its own police radio system.

The Fiscal Court accepted the bid last week of Bluegrass Communications of 2431 Alexandria Pike, Highland Heights, to provide General Electric equipment at a cost of $6,728.50.

Delivery of equipment is expected within 45 days, it is said. However, it was reported some time ago that the system would be in operation this month.

The new equipment includes a 130-foot tower, base station, and intercity radio.

Boone County's police cruisers are already equipped with two-way radios, presently operating through Erlanger Police Department's base station.

County police, sheriff and deputies and Walton police will then be dispatched on a round-the-clock basis through the Boone radio system.

County Judge Bruce Ferguson said the base station would be set up in the old Martin house, next door to the Burlington Courthouse.

Plans are to move both the police headquarters and radio system into a new police headquarters and jail still in the planning stage.

That One Big Chance . . .

He spent his days at meager tasks

Explaining all the while

That soon he'd get that "one big chance"

And then he'd live in style.

But while he sought that "one big chance"

He somehow failed to see

The hundred "little chances" that

Each day greet you and me.

He still waits that "one big chance"

He'll never learn I guess

That "little chances" are the rungs

On ladders of success.

Drivers, Meet The Ky. Point System

If you're like the majority of Kentucky drivers, you've probably never examined the make-up of Kentucky's point system unless you've received a ticket for a traffic violation. Then, the questions begin:

How many points can be accumulated before one loses his license? How long does it take to clear points from one's driving record? What can be done if one's license is lost?

"The point system, contrary to public opinion, seeks to identify and improve problem drivers rather than punish them," according to Lt. Roger Wilhoite, director, of Driver Licensing. The system, initiated in 1957 has been twice revised.

Major violations and their point values are:

RACING—
1st offense, 90-day suspension.
2nd offense, 1-year suspension.
3rd offense, 3-year suspension.
SPEEDING—
Under 16 MPH over speed limit, 3 points.
16-25 MPH over speed limit, 6 points.
62 MPH over speed limit, 90-day suspension.
Passing in area designated as "No Passing" zone, 5 points.
Reckless driving, 4 points.
Running stop sign or electric signal, 3 points.
Driving too fast for road conditions, but under the posted speed limit, 3 points.
When one amasses six points on the driving record, he receives a warning letter from the Division of Driver Licensing. With the accumulation of 8 through 11 points, another letter is sent, advising the driver that he is placed on "probation" and must have a personal interview with a Driver Improvement officer. If the driver fails to comply, his driving privileges are suspended for 30 days.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

Mrs. Denver Binder enjoyed a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Henry in Miami, Fla., during the holiday season.

We regretted to hear of the serious accident which happened to R. C. Hindsdale at Spartansburg, S. C. The last word that we heard was that he is improving and hopes to soon be able to return to Kentucky.

Carse Brinkley returned to his home Dec. 26th after spending six weeks in the hospital following surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Huff, who have lived several years in Lexington, have come to make their home in Kenton County on South Taylor Mill.

Mrs. Charles Losey, who has been quite ill, is much better.

We were glad to have Bruce Wallace of Walton, show a couple of interesting films at the church here on Sunday evening, January 3.

Mr. and Mrs. George Binder and Elwood spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Willoughby in Florida. Thelma and Elwood returned this week to pack and move their furniture.

We were saddened by the sudden death of Joseph B. Richardson, Dec. 29th. He had been under the care of a doctor for several months, but seemed to feel as good as usual.

Miss Tina Marshall is somewhat improved but still in Booth Hospital.

Mrs. Don Keeney and Stephen, Mrs. G. A. Damon and Mrs. Frances Keeney visited the conservatory in Eden Park, January 3rd.

Ho-Say, I'm a self-made man. She-Well, it certainly is nice of you to take all the blame.

SAFETY IS OUR BUSINESS

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

The National Transportation Safety Board has just issued a report illustrating to me that it is almost futile for government to try to regulate safety if the human beings involved persist in careless habits.

The report concerns a charter aircraft that crashed with the loss of six lives because men operating a fuel truck at an airport filled the tanks with the wrong kind of fuel.

The plane was a piston-engine type which required gasoline and oil. The filler caps on the gasoline tanks were plainly inscribed that 100 octane fuel should be used. The men who filled the tanks with jet fuel failed to look or read the inscription.

Compounding their error, they added 57 quarts of piston engine oil to the engines. It should have occurred to them that a plane using jet fuel oil would not need piston engine oil.

Even this might have been corrected if the men in charge of the aircraft had been observant. However, the first officer of the plane supervised the fueling. The fuel truck and the tank on the truck were both plainly labeled, in large letters, that it contained turbo jet fuel. The first officer did not observe this.

The captain of the aircraft then signed a receipt which was plainly marked in large letters that it was for JET fuel.

The aircraft took off and experienced almost immediate loss of power, crash landed on a highway, and was destroyed.

The Board now suggests that aircraft gas tanks and fuel hoses be color-coded in the hope that those responsible will match the color of the hose nozzle with the color of the filler cap.

I question whether this or any of the hundred other safety regulations the Federal Government issues will be of great value if people refuse to take simple ordinary precautions.

The 1971 ASCS Farm Program Announced

New information on the 1971 farm programs has recently been announced according to Jack Welch, Chairman of the Kentucky State ASC Committee.

"First of all, the sign-up period for the feed grain and wheat will be March first through April 9. Between now and March 1 we expect to announce all details of the program which will be operated under the new farm law, The Agricultural Act of 1970," Mr. Welch said.

Final determinations on set aside acreages have not been made, but a tentative 20 percent set-aside for feed grain and a set-aside of between 60 and 75 percent domestic wheat allotment have been announced. The set-asides for these two crops will not exceed 20% on feed grains and 75% on wheat. Decision on the actual percentages will be made before March 1.

"Set-aside is an important new concept," the ASC Committee Chairman said. Under the set-aside programs for feed grain and wheat, a participating farmer will set aside a certain percentage of his base or allotment and put this acreage in a conserving use. He will also maintain his farm's conserving base in conserving use.

On his remaining cropland he will be free to plant whatever he chooses, except that he cannot grow crops which are under marketing quotas—Tobacco. A farmer in the feed grain or wheat program will receive set-aside payments whether or not he produces the program crops. He re-emphasized that participants in any of the programs—feed grain and wheat—have no acreage limitations on production other than the required set-aside acreage and maintenance of their farm's conserving base.

For example, suppose a farmer has 300 cropland acres, including a 100 acre feed grain base and a 50 acre conserving base. Now suppose we do have a 20% set-aside for feed grains—remember, that 20% is still a tentative figure. The farmer sets aside 20%—20 acres of his feed grain base, maintains his 50 acres conserving base, and is free to plant the remaining 230 acres to whatever crops he chooses, except he can't plant quota crops mentioned earlier. He can plant soybeans, grain sorghum, vegetables or specialty crops—which he figures will bring him the best returns for his investments.

The example would be just as true for wheat participants. The important thing for farmers to remember in planning for 1971 is that the feed grain and wheat programs provide them flexibility in their farm management, allowing more efficient operations than the more restrictive programs of past years.

Letter From Vietnam

November 8, 1970

They don't give us enough time to write to everyone back home, so I will write to the church so everyone will know what is going on.

I miss you all very much and I wish I were with you now, but Uncle Sam doesn't think so. But soon I will be home to stay.

Rev. Davis, I don't write letters so good, but I just wanted everyone to know that I am thinking of them and praying for them.

You know I thought that I was living pretty hard, but Rev. Davis these people over here have nothing. There is water in their huts all the time. Their water is not drinkable, and they have to beg the GI to give them food. I wish there was something I could do for these people. Everyone back in the States should be grateful for what they have because these people over here have nothing.

Well, I better be going. We are getting ready to go back to the field.

I'll see everyone soon, so take care.

Love,
Little Butch

"THE SIGN OF FARMER JUSTICE, EQUALITY, AND STRENGTH"

FARMERS REALIZE:

1. Farm prices are at a drastically low level, (while producers' expenses are at an all time high).
2. Conglomerate Corporations are buying out farm producers.
3. Major feed companies are mushrooming vertical integration.
4. These and many other factors are squeezing the commercial family farmer into non-existence.

Must Act NOW:

1. Become a part of the dynamic NFO movement initiated at the 1970 convention.
2. Take advantage of the unity and determination of neighboring farmers NOW—join NFO and become a participating member.
3. Stand behind NFO to raise your farm prices.

AND THIS, coupled with NFO's determination to take whatever steps necessary for commercial family farm survival, is the turning point for rural America—we must stand UNITED—once this is accomplished, the major farm battle is won. Only farmers can change the chaos at the market place by using collective bargaining through NFO.

FARMERS THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES ARE SENDING AN URGENT PLEA FOR FARMERS TO UNITE. THE FACT IS NOW RECOGNIZED THAT

"NFO Is The Farmers Only Hope"

NFO has initiated a three-fold attack for the 1971 farm battle—

1. A massive commodity lift to raise general price levels, (including red meat, grain, and specialties crops).
2. Legislative action to stop vertical integration and packer feeding.
3. Use every legal weapon available to achieve our goals.

FARMERS WON THE BATTLE IN 1776 FOR THEIR FREEDOM; FARMERS MUST WIN THE BATTLE IN 1971 FOR THEIR SURVIVAL.

ASCS Urges Signup On Wool Program

The 1970 wool marketing year ended December 31st. Growers have a month or until February 1, 1971 to apply for payments on wool, unshorn lambs and mohair. Each grower is encouraged to apply as soon as he completes his last sale of the year.

Data from all timely filed applications will be included in determining the national average price of wool and the payment rate. Most payments will be made in April but payments on applications received after the February 1 deadline may be delayed.

If you have not filed, please bring your bills to the county ASCS office at your first opportunity.

If you have filed one or more applications but later made additional sales, you will need to file a supplemental application to receive payment for the additional sale.

In addition, the ASCS reminds all farmers that they will be receiving a statement—CCCI-82—on payments earned for 1970 from the USDA for income tax purposes. Anyone not receiving a form 182 who has received payments from the USDA on any program should get in touch with their ASCS office. These forms should be in the hands of the producers by the end of January.

The woman lecturer was going strong. "For centuries women have been misjudged and mistreated," she yelled. "They have suffered in a thousand ways. Is there any way that women have not suffered?" As she paused to let that question sink in, it was answered by a voice down front. "Yes, there's one way," the masculine voice said. "They have never suffered in silence."

The abusive attorney finally asked the witness how far he had been from the scene of the accident. "Sixteen feet, 11 inches," was the reply. "How can you possibly be so exact?" roared the lawyer. "Well," drawled the witness, "I figured some fool would ask me, so I measured."

Mother to son: I don't care if the basement wall is cracking. Quit telling everyone you come from a broken home.

CHEATING OURSELVES
Lesson for January 17, 1971

Background Scripture: Matthew 13:44-50; Luke 14:15-24

A father was bitterly lamenting his son's refusal to go to college. "I've tried to make him see what he's passing up, but he wouldn't listen," the man exclaimed. "Several years from now when he realizes that he can't get a decent job without a diploma, he'll regret this choice—but then, it'll be too late!"

We can appreciate the father's feelings. Yet, we also know that this tendency to pass-up golden opportunities is typical of human nature. Many of us can look back upon many bad choices which today we can hardly understand having made.

Deliberate wrong choices

The fact of human nature is that we often make deliberate wrong choices. We know something is good for us, but fail to make use of it, choosing something else which, at the moment, may be more attractive. The child passes up spinach for candy, regardless of his understanding that spinach is good for him and candy may not be.

If only this perverse tendency ended with the termination of childhood, but it doesn't. Adults continue to make these wrong choices, if on a more sophisticated level. Some people are inclined to continually complain that they "were behind the door when the goodies were passed out." There are times when we are tempted to ask whether they were behind the door by accident or chose to be there!

They made excuses

Jesus is speaking of this human tendency in his parable of the great banquet. He is picturing the imaginary scene of the great banquet of the Kingdom of God when the Messiah has come. This is what the people of Israel were waiting for with great eagerness. Yet, Jesus is picturing many of the people as choosing not to go to the banquet when at last it comes.

There are three typical excuses. One man has just bought a field and he is anxious to see it. Another has just purchased some oxen and is anxious to try them out. A third man has just married and wants to stay home. (Deuteronomy 24:5 provides the following law: "When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business, but he shall be free at home for one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken.")

Each knew what he was passing up, yet chose a lesser good. Each was determined to just what he wanted. Even though their excitement with a new field, a new set of oxen, or even a new wife would wear-off in time, still they preferred these to the Kingdom.

This seems incredible that anyone should make such a choice, yet we make those kind of choices frequently in our own lives. Several months ago our church invited a speaker of national renown to address a special occasion. The speaker was known for the excellence of her message and the compelling nature of her delivery. Her witness has changed many lives.

Missing out

The night of the special service came and the church was full. Yet, despite the "full house," I felt a sense of regret in noting the many people who had not come but who could have profited so much by hearing her. The alternatives many had chosen included a bridge club, bowling, shopping, and a night in front of television set.

This is typical of the kinds of golden opportunities which we allow to slip by every day. It is often not a choice between "good" and "evil," but between "better" and "higher good." When, for some perverse reasons, we choose the lower good, it is ourselves whom we are cheating.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

The good Lord has once again permitted us to resume our life on this earth another year. Yes, here it is the start of a new year—1971, and as we read our newspapers and magazines we still see the same old problems from 1970 are still with us. The war in Viet Nam is the most tragic of all, with so many of our young men in prisoner of war camps, and seemingly being ill-treated. Let us all add our repulsion against such inhumane treatment of our young men in the camps in North Viet Nam. Let us be much in prayer for a quick solution to this war that should point to the right direction to stop other such wars in the near future.

The New Banklick Baptist Church has much to be thankful for last year, 1970, as the Lord has most assuredly given us more than we "deserved." He added to our church those who should be saved; and those who chose to join in the good fight of faith. He has blessed us financially this year more than any previous years. He has permitted us to have some of the finest men and women to lead in our church program; and we do expect more to take part in 1971. We are so proud of our youth in all their efforts in 1970. We are thankful for the mission opportunities that have been entrusted to our keeping. We encourage our readers to join us in a special prayer for 1971, that God will try us in greater ways that will be a blessing to others.

We would like to reminisce just a bit of the most important blessings the Lord gave us in 1970 that are so vividly imprinted in our hearts. May we share them with you?

First, was the ordination of Brother Carl Evans into the full Gospel Ministry (pastor Rosedale Baptist Church in Latonia) in March. This was followed by our Mission Conference in April with speakers like Mrs. Thelma Bagby from Brazil, Rev. Bertis Fair, migrant worker in the United States, Rev. Buford Dunavent, mountain missions in West Virginia, Rev. John Lee, Area Missionary in Tennessee and Chaplain Robert L. Campbell of Viet Nam. What a wonderful World Mission Conference that was!

Then we were blessed with the purchase of a new 67 passenger bus in May. This was followed in June with one of the finest Vacation Bible Schools we have recorded in the history of our church. The enrollment was 267. This was not only a real blessing, but a great challenge with the shortage of workers and space.

Then in August we had Brother Bob Utz and his 30 boys and girls from Wildwood, Florida who blessed our lives with their special musical presentation of "Good News." This was a first with our church. And another first came along in August with the organizing of our first Youth Choir. They have really come a long way under the able direction of Mrs. Nancy Rentiers, Jackie Grayson, Francis Beach, and Katherine Hopperton. They have sung in several churches and missions. They are one of the greatest blessing in our church that came along in 1970.

Another of our great blessings was the Homecoming on Sunday, September 20, with the Southern Aires and Brother Bob Hopkins (former pastor, 1958). The largest crowd in many years was present. Our Revival of ten days from September 21 thru 30, with Evangelist Wallace E. Koon of Selma, Alabama, had one of the most uplifting effects seen in years. There were over 200 decisions made during this great revival. Truly this was ONE OF THE GREAT MOMENTS in our church history.

And finally we closed out our year with two great presentations: On Sunday, December 20, our choir, Junior and Adult, presented a wonderful Christmas program at the Kyles Lane Sanatorium, and the Youth of our church blessed our hearts with a wonderful presentation of "The Christmas Story" and then on Wednesday night, the 23rd, a special musical program by both choirs was presented with the singing of many of our Christmas Carols and closed the program with several beautiful old Gospel numbers. Thus we come to the close of another year, and we pray that God's blessings will be upon us all in 1971

The pastor of New Banklick, James D. Johnson, staff, and members take this opportunity to thank you, our readers, for sharing these moments in our articles with us. May God richly bless you in all things . . .

Someone has said the eyes are the windows of the soul. And when it's our own child — how easy to believe that in those sparkling eyes we have seen and understood an infant soul.

Well, we have seen a mind eager to grow . . . character ready to be molded.

If in our child's eyes we would see his soul, then one thought should possess us: This is a soul known to God but not yet knowing God.

Soul-searching is always the threshold to spiritual growth. The need we recognize in a baby's eager eyes is a need adult souls never outgrow.

Remember as you plan your family's religious future, God knows each and every human soul. The life He has given us is our opportunity to know Him.

January Meeting of Capt. Lillard DAR

The January meeting of Capt. John Lillard DAR was at Harp House where a Dutch Lunch was served at the noon hour.

The regent, Mrs. Charles Allphin reviewed the President General's New Years message. "Our most important accomplishment has been the continued net increase in membership. The National Headquarters is aware of the problems faced by local chapters in dealing with the press. A series of official statements identified as "Press Guidelines" has been issued.

In the National Defense program, Mrs. T. A. Perry warned us about the rise of military power in Russia. Vice Admiral Rickover said, "The Soviet Union is working toward supremacy in sea power. Their submarine fleet is three times larger than our own. Their navy is operating in all oceans of the world, and their submarines are off both coasts of America."

The flag chairman, Mrs. Abram Hedges, said the flag should never be draped over any moving vehicle, such as car, train or boat.

The various committees worked together in making of the annual report which is to be sent to the State and National Society the first of

MANY DRUNKS HAVE LICENSES TO DRIVE

Fewer than 4% of all drivers on the road are heavy drinkers. Yet heavy drinkers are involved in nearly 50% of all traffic deaths.

The frightening truth is that drunks are the deadliest drivers ever let loose on the highways. Knowing that, you might think our licensing officials would take extraordinary measures to hunt down this small gang of killers and get them off the road, saving 25,000 lives a year.

It's not happening. The way things are now, there's no effective way to take a drunk's license away before he kills somebody.

With 25,000 lives at stake, safety experts at the Continental Insurance Companies point out, there must be a better answer than that.

Maybe it's a thorough physical examination. A doctor must certify that every new driving-license applicant is not an alcoholic.

Maybe there's a better way, but certainly what Pennsylvania does is better than nothing.

And nothing is what all but a handful of states actually do.

This is one reason why safety groups ask that we write to our local legislators and urge that they get drunken potential killers off the road.

Walton-Verona Schools Free Lunch System

The Walton-Verona Independent Schools system has a policy to provide lunches free or at a reduced price to those children determined by the principals to be unable to pay the full price for their lunches.

The policy provides that an application form be completed and returned to the school. Copies of this form have been sent home in a letter to parents, and additional copies may be obtained at the principal's office in each school.

The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need, based on the gross family income, the number of persons in the family, the number of children in school or service institutions, and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school lunches. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility for free and reduced-price lunches, school officials said.

Under the provisions of the policy, the principals will make the determination of individual eligibility. The family size income scale which the Walton-Verona Independent Schools have adopted for use in the system will be used to determine eligibility for free and reduced-price lunches.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of a principal he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision. The request should be made to E. C. Roberts, Superintendent.

The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the procedures as outlined in the policy.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office where it may be reviewed by any interested patron.

FARM CROPS' VALUE IN KENTUCKY DECLINES

Southern feed blight, which ruined some 35 percent of Kentucky's corn crop this year, was the main cause of a $23 million drop in the state's total farm crop value, according to recent projections from the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The projected value of tobacco, including dark types grown in Western Kentucky, was off about $9 million, or 3 percent under last year, because of less production. Average prices, however, rose a little more than two cents per pound—70.2 cents for 1970, compared with 68 cents for 1969.

The value of corn for grain, not including silage, dropped more than $24 million.

Soybeans offset some of the losses to corn and tobacco by increasing in value to over $42 million, $11 million over 1969. Processed vegetables more than doubled in value to $2.5 million.

Middle Age: That time of life when your narrow waist and your broad mind change places.

WHAT IS A SMILE?

What is a "smile," and what are some of its values?

It is a contagious thing that makes life better when you "catch it" and even happier when you "spread it around." A real smile is an outer reflection of an inner condition. None are so rich they can get along without it and none so poor but are richer for its benefits.

It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and nature's best antidote for trouble. It cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen for it is something that is of no earthly value to anyone until it is given away.—Copied

Floannie Edrington, Reporter

Mrs. May Wilson of Florence, visited Mrs. Allie Chandler last week.

Mrs. Floannie Edrington received word last week that her brother-in-law, Lloyd Gibbs, of Rising Sun, Ind., had passed away last Wednesday at Dearborn County Hospital. Mrs. Edrington did not get to attend the funeral as her daughter, Mrs. Iris Hughes, was ill with the flu.

Sorry Miss Linora Spicer fell last week at school and broke her collar bone and will have to lay flat of her back for three weeks to keep from being paralyzed in her arm.

Lon Wilson was brought home from the hospital last Monday. He is some better but still remains very ill.

We were glad to hear of Charlie Richards getting to come home from the hospital last week. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. May Wilson was calling on Floannie Edrington, Wednesday.

We extend sympathy to the family of Gobel Brashear in the loss of their loved one. Hamilton Funeral Home was in charge.

We are sorry to learn Vincent Rosenstiel had to be taken back to the hospital.

Harry Rich and Mrs. Ebbie Spicer were going to St. Elizabeth Hospital one day last week to see Mrs. Spicer's daughter, Linora, and they had a car wreck. Some man came out a side road and ran into their car, and threw Mrs. Spicer through the windshield. She broke her nose and cut her face pretty badly. She is in the hospital. We hope she will soon be able to come home. Mr. Rich was not hurt much, just a few bruised places and shook up.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glacken of Crittenden, were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sturgeon, Sunday.

IT'S A FINANCIAL FACT

THE RISK OF BORROWING

THE FIRST TWO YEARS

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

It has taken the departure of a Democrat—Daniel Patrick Moynihan—from the White House staff to put the accomplishments of the Administration into perspective.

I have felt for some time that the press has not only misinformed the general public, but those within government, of the true accomplishments and progress being made by our President.

Using the occasion of the year-end meeting of the Cabinet and sub-Cabinet, Moynihan first discussed the problems that had faced the Nixon Administration when it took office two years ago. He described what had been done in terms of the diminishing war in Southeast Asia, government reform and other substantial accomplishments.

Moynihan told the meeting, "depressing, even frightening things are being said about the Administration. They are not true. This has been a company of honorable and able men, led by a President of singular courage and compassion in the face of a sometimes awful knowledge of the problems and the probabilities that confront him."

He concluded, "it is necessary for members of the Administration to be far more attentive to what it is the President has said and proposed. Time and time again the President has said things of startling insight, taken positions of great political courage and intellectual daring, only to be greeted with silence or incomprehension."

Moynihan who has been a counselor to the President is leaving the Administration to return to his teaching post at Harvard, so he will not lose tenure gained there before he came to Washington.

Walton Lodge To Meet

Walton Lodge, No. 719, F&AM, will hold its regular monthly business meeting on Thursday, January 21, at 8:00 p. m. All members are urged to be present, and visitors are welcome.

Letter To The Editor:

I wish to thank the Walton Life Squad for their action in helping my wife and two friends to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Monday morning, January 11, 1971, after an accident occurring on I-71. The squad was very kind, courteous, and also very efficient in action. Your community must be proud to know that their welfare is in capable hands. Thank you again.

Mother: Our church is sure going to pot. The pews are too hard, the choir is off key and the sermons are poor. Little daughter: But mother, what can you expect for a dime?

"The Restless Ones" at The First Baptist Church

"The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Walton on January 27th, in the First Baptist Church, beginning at 6:30 p. m.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teenage crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems.

Here is a film which dares to be different, a story which will stir the heart and mind. Having seen "The Restless Ones," you will never be the same. The film has skillfully brought into focus the contemporary plight of both parents and teenagers.

A big game hunter was on his way back to camp one evening when an enormous tiger appeared out of the jungle not 20 feet away. As the tiger was about to spring, the hunter fired his last cartridge and missed. The tiger sprang too far and landed 15 feet beyond the hunter, who then ran for camp and got there safely. The next day the hunter went behind the camp to practice a little shooting at close range. He heard a strange noise in the brush and went to investigate. It was the tiger—practicing short leaps.

Belts have re-established themselves as necessities in the fashionable wardrobe. Women who had grown happily accustomed to the freedoms of beltlessness and insisted they would never return to their confines, have slowly given in.

Belts of all sizes and styles are being worn with everything from pants to minks. The heavy leather belt is sharing the spotlight with the popular chain varieties as the status accessory with casual apparel. However, leather models are usually worn slightly loose, sitting on top of the hip bone.

Brass-riveted belts or those with antiqued brass buckle holes carried all the way around the waist look the newest this year. So do skinny belts in leather, perhaps only ½" wide. They're often worn in groups of two and three in different colors above the waist, at the waist and on the hip bone. Long chain necklaces can be fashionably switched and worn at the waist with pants and at-home skirts.

We do not know how inexpensive the seeds of happiness are or we should scatter them often.

TWO LOST SONS

Lesson for January 24, 1971

Background Scripture: Luke 15

Some have called the Parable of the Prodigal Son the greatest short story in the world.

Yet, for all this popularity, it is often misunderstood — or perhaps, not fully understood. Many people seem to miss the fact that Jesus is concerned with two sons, not just one. Both are central to the story: "Jesus said, 'There was a man who had two sons.'"

The younger son who "came to himself"

This is the son with whom we are best acquainted. We have known many people like him; perhaps we have even seen a bit of him in ourselves. Despite a loving father and a life that must have been materially quite adequate, he is restless and brazenly asks his father for his share of the estate so that he might leave home.

How typically he represents many young people: he wants to be independent, but he asserts his independence while continuing to live on the resources that come from the one from whom he is separating himself. He leaves home because he obviously wants to be free of all its encumbrances. At last, he will do as he pleases, when he pleases, and how he pleases. No one will dominate him.

Yet, like many of us he comes to find that when we are "free to do as we please," we are not really free but often dominated and in bondage to our own immature impulses and drives. Free of our parents or some other authority, we become slaves to something else. We exchange one kind of bondage for another.

But at last the younger son "comes to himself"—begins to become his true self. He begins to realize that in being the rebellious, prodigal son, he was not really himself. He had tried out a role that he came to realize was not really his. Thus, Jesus is telling us that when a man is "away from God," when he sins, he is not his real self, not the self which he can be and was created to be.

The son who stayed at home for the wrong reasons

But there was another son, the eldest son, to be exact. Jewish law indicated that he was to receive two-thirds of his father's estate and his younger brother one-third. We find nothing about him until his younger brother returns home. Then it becomes obvious that he, unlike his brother, remained with his father, assuming his share of the labors of the family farm.

At first it warms our heart to think that, though the father's heart was broken by his prodigal son, he at least had the faithful love and assistance of another son. But it was obvious that, although the eldest son had done the right thing, he had done it for the wrong reasons. Though he had not rebelled openly, neither did he serve his father for any admirable reason.

It was very apparent that what had seemed to be years of obedience and faithfulness to his father were, in reality, years of grudging service. The labor he performed was apparently, not out of love, but in anticipation of what he would receive in return for it. He was not working for his father, but for himself. His respectable behavior had always, it seems, masked a resentment toward his father.

The son who was really "lost"

Actually, this man is even less attractive than his prodigal brother. There is no compassion for his brother: he calls him "your son," not "my brother." He was obviously a self-righteous man, proud of his goodness, certain it should bring him certain rewards. The Father had two sons and one "came to himself" and returned home. But one, though he had never left home, remained "lost." God, it seems, has more difficulty with this kind of son.

ident, Mrs. Marie Rich, Mrs. Roy Payne and Mrs. L. Wayman. Mrs. J. Shaw, vice-president, conducted the meeting. Answering roll call were: Mrs. L. J. Rapp, Mrs. James Elam, Mrs. C. Hill, Mrs. M. Mann, Mrs. L. Faulkner, Mrs. D. Nitschke, Mrs. F. Keeney, Mrs. Edith Ware, Mrs. M. Wharton, Mrs. V. Damice, Mrs. V. Lynch, Mrs. J. Shaw, and two guests, Mrs. Russell Rector and Mrs. Carl Simpson. Some questions concerning the program for next year were discussed and filled out. Mrs. Lynch, who was hostess for the day, at this time called us to lunch, which is always a pleasant interlude. A plate was filled for Mrs. Florence Stein, a member who is a shut-in. When the tables were cleared and dishes washed, we reassembled to hear the lesson of the day, which was very interestingly given by Mrs. Rector and Mrs. Simpson from the Ock Island Club. The topic was Home Nursing and some very clever ways were presented and discussed for the comfort and help of the ill in our families. Leaders were named for the projects for the remainder of the year. We decided to meet Jan. 17 at the church. The February meeting will also be at the church with Mrs. M. Mann as hostess on Feb. 2.

Miss Neva Jo Finnell has been ill for several days.

Dawson Ballinger is better but not yet OK. Hope he is soon feeling fine.

The George Binder family and Woody Armstrong are in Florida, near Orlando, where they plan to make their home.

Mrs. John Shaw has an injured tendon, which must have rest to heal, so the carrier her arm in a sling. Carsee Brinkley is a little better each week. We think he will improve much faster when warmer weather comes.

TO TURN AGAIN

In winter the pond freezes over, and the old mill wheel is idle. But although the landscape appears dormant, there is hidden life beneath the surface. One day it will be spring again, with water rushing over the mill wheel and corn being ground into meal.

If you have been living in a winter of your own, why not take a lesson from the old mill? The winters of our life are bleak—they are hard to weather. But forever and ever there is the chance to start again. Spring will come and your church will sustain you through doubt and disappointment and give you promise of another chance—another life.

WALTON—

Our community sustained a great loss in the passing of W. O. Rouse. He was a good citizen, a man of high ideals, he loved his family, his friends, and was a friend to the friendless and needy; he loved his home, his church, his friends, and was a devoted and faithful member of the Masonic lodge; he made a record attendance in the Methodist Sunday School, having attended something in excess of 1,800 consecutive Sundays. In October, 1950, he was presented a beautiful 35-year pin for record attendance of which he was very proud.

Dawson Hightower and Bruce Cox sold 866 pounds of tobacco at the Independent Tobacco Warehouse in Erlanger, for an average of $66 per hundredweight.

Mrs. W. E. Waller and sons spent New Year's Eve in the J. T. Lamn home.

STAFFORDSBURG—

Miss Minnie Rapp returned this week after spending Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Rapp of Maggee, Arkansas.

One of our most faithful Sunday school teachers, Mrs. Dawson Ballinger, was kept in by a cold, but is now better.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gadker visited a short time Sunday with Mrs. Stella Richardson.

Mrs. W. E. Hanna, Mrs. J. J. Barnett, Mrs. D. Ballinger and Mrs. J. A. Keeney attended a very much enjoyed talk and picture show by Mrs. T. J. Liggett at the Walton Christian Church, last Thursday.

Home Agent's Party Line

By

What are the most flammable fabrics? The nice, soft napped fabrics are most flammable—flannelette and brushed nylon and brushed synthetics; pile fabrics, such as corduroy, velvet and similar materials; loosely woven fabrics; and lightweight, fluffy sheers used for party clothes, according to specialists at the University of Rhode Island Cooperative Extension Service. Rayon, cotton, linen and some nylons are highly flammable, although one nylon called "nometex" is flame resistant, according to the Extension Service. Other flammable fibers are acetates, such as arnel, acele, celanese and chrom-spun, and acrylic fibers and polyesters. Silk and wool burn very slowly, but the more sheer they are, the more readily they will burn.

Washable fabrics, however, may be dipped in a flame-retardant solution, and non-washables be sprayed with the same solution. The solution can be made at home and applied to clothing, curtains, draperies, upholstery and scatter rugs, as well as to holiday costume materials and decorations.

According to the University of Rhode Island specialists, one solution which can be used for garments and household fabrics (except those made of rayon or resin treated cottons, crush-resistant, wrinkle-proof and permanent press), is made by dissolving seven ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid in two quarts of hot water. The boric acid powder will dissolve more readily if mixed with a small amount of the water to make a paste before stirring it and the borax into the hot water.

For resin-treated fabrics and rayon, the University Cooperative Extension Service recommends a solution of 12 ounces of diammonium phosphate dissolved in two quarts of water.

A veterinarian quit his practice and successfully ran for the legislature. One day, in the midst of a bitter debate, an opponent asked with a sneer, "Isn't it true that you're actually an animal doctor?" "Indeed it is," he replied. "Are you ill?"

COUNTY AGENT'S 1/2 ACRE

JOE CLAXON

In September, 1969, the USDA, while it still had the authority, manned four general patterns of use for DDT.

(1) All uses on aquatic areas, marshes, wetlands and adjacent areas; (2) All uses on tobacco; (3) All uses on shade trees, and (4) All uses in or around the home.

DDT products labelled for the above uses that were in channels of trade at the time the ban was announced could be sold and used legally until the supply was gone. Also uses 1 and 4 control of disease vectors as determined by Public Health officials can still be used as far as Federal law applies.

The 1970 Kentucky General Assembly amended the Kentucky Economic Poison Law, which further limits the use of DDT. The amendment states in part that no person or unit of government shall use DDT in this Commonwealth except for the following purposes: control of household pests, control of subterranean termites, control of bats, control of rats and mice, and any other use for which the director finds there is no safe substitute.

The State Law and the Federal Law conflict in some aspects, but the safest procedure for you is to not use DDT if either law prohibits the use pattern in question. Although Kentucky Law would allow the use of DDT in the home, Federal Law does not, unless Public Health Officials determine it necessary to control disease bearing insects. DDT for use on many crops and animals is still registered at the Federal level, but is banned at the State level, unless the director finds there is no SAFE substitution. The director could not authorize the use of DDT on a particular crop because of economic hardship on the growers.

Particular attention should be given to clarifying the DDT situation in relation to tobacco. In the 1970 season the use of DDT was banned on tobacco, but DDT products labelled for use on tobacco and in channels of trade could be used legally. However, growers would not be eligible for price support on their crop if they used DDT on their field tobacco. A few growers may have taken the option to use DDT on tobacco in the field and forget about price support. In the 1971 season growers will not have this option. DDT is banned on tobacco by both State and Federal laws and cannot be used on tobacco in the field or in the bed, regardless of your having DDT on hand.

Bearcats Win Two And Pioneers One

Walton-Verona 55, Brossart 44

Walton-Verona won its third game in four Northern Kentucky Independent Athletic Conference games by defeating Bishop Brossart, 55-44, Tuesday of last week, at Alexandria.

The Bearcats settled the outcome in the third period by doubling the score on the home team. Brossart was losing in the conference for the seventh time in 11 games.

The reserve game was won by the Walton-Verona boys, 47-39.

Simon Kenton 66, Conner 55

Simon Kenton ran its winning streak to three games by defeating Conner High School, 66-55, last Friday night at Boone County.

It was the fourth NKAC victory for the Pioneers and their sixth in 13 games this season.

After a tied first quarter, Simon Kenton got the winning margin with a 29-point total in the second period.

Greg Halderman led the winners with 15 points, while Leistner had 13, and Davis 11. Carlton Hempling topped Conner with 24 markers, and Fields added 10.

Mike Ferguson had 20 points for the winners, while Bob Messner added 18, Sargent 14, and Ingram 11. Vaughn Kelsch had 24 for the losers, S. Kelsch added 12, as did Baker.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE—

... large billows of black smoke pour into the sky ... must be a large building on fire. This idea must have been shared by many residents of Walton last Friday afternoon, shortly after two o'clock.

It turned out that the origin of the smoke was at the Northern Kentucky Sanitation landfill, located off Beaver Road. Contents of several large barrels of flammable liquid were burning.

The Walton Vols responded to the scene and helped extinguish the blaze. No apparent injury or damage resulted.

Oak Island Homemakers

The Oak Island Homemakers will meet Monday, February 1 at 1:00 p. m., in the home of Miss Elma Taylor, 18 Sidney Drive, Independence.

The program, "Annual Flowers," is to be presented by Mary Jackson and Miss Taylor.

Low Teacher Status Is A Disappointment

A national poll conducted for the White House Conference on Children and Youth, by Gilbert Youth Research, shows only 3 percent of 500 children—10 to 12 years old—rated a teacher as the person "most admired." Friends in the children's peer group rated highest with 33 percent. Parents were next "most admired," with 12 percent.

If the poll is valid, it reflects a sharp drop in status of the teacher by children. The results of the poll may also indicate the need for a good public relations program by all school personnel.

Local Students On

Dean's List at EKU

Twelve students from Boone county have been named to the dean's list at Eastern Kentucky University for the fall semester.

To attain the list, a student must make a scholastic average of 3.5 or better for 14 hours or more.

The list includes Dianne M. Rehkamp, Kerry L. Courtney, Richard L. Deglow, Carol J. Moore, Sandra S. Osborne, Charlotte R. Smoot and James P. Woods, Florence; George W. Haley and Deborah Hempel of Walton; Marilyn J. Scroggin, of Burlington; Timothy L. Stanford, Darla J. Vogelsang of Hebron.

"John," said Mrs. Spenders, "I've got lots of things I want to talk to you about." "Glad to hear it," her husband snapped, "usually you want to talk to me about lots of things you HAVEN'T got."

Boone Planners Okay Landfill Near Walton

The Boone County Planning Commission approved a special use permit for the Bavarian Trucking Co. to operate a sanitary landfill on the North side of I-71 at the end of McCoy's Fork Road, near Walton, recently.

Conditions attached to the permit specify that the landfill must be covered daily and no burning be allowed, that no harmful industrial waste will be disposed there, and that the company allow the planning commission to inspect the site.

Local Board Members Attend Louisville Meet

All board members of the Walton-Verona schools attended the orientation conference in Louisville, Sunday night, January 17. The purpose of this meeting was to acquaint new board members with their duties in the management and operation of the Kentucky public schools.

Approximately 170 new board of education members will take office this month as a result of November's election.

Walton-Verona PTA Meet Held

The Walton-Verona PTA met on Monday evening at the high school with only a small attendance.

The vice-president, Mrs. Robert Eischmidt, presided in the absence of Mrs. Edward Lay, who was ill. The devotional chairman, John Johnson, gave the scripture from Psalms 100.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. James Stephenson and was on drugs and their misuse. Six students related information that had been received during attendance at various meetings.

Donna Coyle, Thurman Thorpe, Peggy Garrison and Dean Ward told of their trip to the Governor's Workshop, held in Louisville, in December. They told how that although there are many legal uses of several drugs, there has been an increase in recent years to abuse several types of drugs. They told what symptoms to look for in detecting persons who are using some form of drug illegally. Penalties in some of the various categories were also discussed.

Beverly Bonar told several facts of a visit she made to the Clinical Research Center near Lexington. This hospital is used in the treatment of drug addicts from across the U. S. and rehabilitation of these persons as they find a place again in society.

Debbie Boyers attended a workshop at Thomas More College early this year. Many state officials as well as business people and youth, led in this meeting as the drug problem was presented by film and group discussion. This presentation was capably presented by the students.

Principal Billy Prewitt thanked the students for a nice program and said that the teachers will talk on drug misuse during an in-service day on February 12.

It was announced that ETV on channels 52 and 54 will begin a series of programs on Tuesdays and Thursdays dealing with the help available in this nationwide drug problem.

During the business session, Mrs. Don McMillan gave the secretary's and treasurer's reports. The room count was won by Mrs. James Layne's fifth grade room. Ernest Hahn reported that the new copying machine is expected soon. It will be used by the elementary grades at Verona.

The February meeting will be a Founders' Day program. Plan now to attend and support the PTA.

With this grant award, I trust we have taken a constructive step toward fulfilling that responsibility." Grant recipients are required to match the awards—usually on a 60 per cent federal, 40 per cent local ratio.

TRYING FOR 100 YEARS

T. O. Ballard—10 years ago

Next Monday, February 1, T. O. Ballard will celebrate his 94th birthday. A retired barber, after 67 years, Mr. Ballard resides at 20 North Main Street, Walton, next door to Ryan Hardware.

When he retired, Mr. Ballard said that he would like to live to be 100 years old, and each birthday brings him one step closer to this dream.

A widower since 1949, he keeps active by doing his own housework, cooking and running errands.

He does some reading in the daily papers and of course gets the Walton news from the Advertiser. He has been a subscriber for many years—ever since Roy Stanler and Jim Wallace ran the Advertiser in a little shop across the street from his home—in a part of the Walton Garage.

"Butch" attends services regularly at All Saints Church, where he is a member.

T. O. expects to have dinner with relatives on Sunday.

Girl Scout Cookie Time

The words, "Hello, I'm from the Licking Valley Girl Scout Council—would you like to place your cookie order with me?" will be heard from January 29 through February 7, as the "Girls in Green" launch their annual cookie sale.

Since 1912 Girl Scouting has offered girls a chance to grow, to become more aware of the world around them and of their place in that world. Buy some cookies from the girls!

NFO President Gives Prospects For 1971

Oren L. Staley, President of the National Farmers Organization, has declared that the "hog lift" demonstration by NFO hog producers on the East coast early in January was only a sample of things to come.

The farm leader from Rea, Mo., stated that "The winter of 1971 will go down in history as the farmers' winter of discontent and action."

Staley said, "More American farmers than ever before are realizing that NFO is their only hope. Farmers' backs are against the wall and the only way out of agriculture's economic crisis is through NFO collective bargaining programs that get down to the nitty-gritty of raising farm prices."

The leader added, "Farmers must fight the monstrous food chains that have built monopolistic power that permits them, in effect, to dictate 15c hogs to the farmer while at the same time dictating $1.00 pork chops to the housewife. Farmers must no longer tolerate fellow farmers being squeezed out while wondering how long before it's their turn to be pushed out of their homes and way of life into overcrowded cities because they cannot as individuals receive justice at the marketplace."

Staley then declared, "Farmers are ready to back up their demands by blocking production together and putting a price tag on it so they will become price-makers instead of price-takers. NFO will lead the fight and buyers who see the handwriting on the wall won't be caught without NFO contracts that will be filled by progressive farmers who are determined to price their products."

The NFO president concluded the challenge to those who buy from farmers, saying, "We are demanding economic justice for farmers and NFO is going to see the battle through."

Literary Club to Meet

The Walton Literary Club will meet February 3, at 2:00 p. m., in the Walton Christian Church.

Hostesses will be Mrs. John Farrell, Mrs. Sam Sleet, Miss Virginia Beverly and Miss Kathryn Scott.

Mrs. Charles Alphin will be the speaker. Her topic on "High Points of International Affairs," is expected to be quite interesting.

"When I went to school, I walked five miles a day," father said to his bearded son home from college for the summer. "Wow," replied Sonny, "it must have been some PROTEST march!"

STONE CAVERN HARD TO EXPLAIN

Geologists have many theories about the reasons for the unusual forms of the stalactites (growing down from the ceiling) and stalagmites (growing up from the ground) in America's famed Luray Caverns in Virginia, but few of the scientists agree on any one theory. It is known that the Caverns are ten to 12 million years old, and that parts of it are still growing at the rate of one cubic inch of cave onyx every 120 years. The largest room is 300' x 500', and ceilings range up to 140' in height.

—DEATHS—

CLAUDE CAMERON BURNS, JR.
Walton man, employed as a teacher and bus driver in Kenton County, was found dead in his school bus on Tuesday morning of last week.

The Kenton County coroner's office ruled that the death of Claude Cameron Burns, Jr., 36, was caused by a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Mrs. Burns was called when her husband failed to start his run, and she found the body in the bus at 8:00 a. m., one-tenth mile South of Walton, on U. S. 25. Kentucky Police Detective Charles Seay, Walton, said that Burns left his home at 149 South Main St., Walton, at about 7:30 a. m. He drove the bus to a gravel spot on the side of U. S. 25, where his wife found him. There were no children in the bus at the time.

Seay said that Burns had been dependent over an illness. Burns taught ninth grade social studies at Twenhofel Junior High School, Taylor Mill Road, near Nicholson.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Janet Lee Anderson Burns, he is survived by a son, Andrew Cameron Burns, and one daughter, Laura Ann Burns, both at home, and his mother, Mrs. Lillian Walker Burns.

Services were held at 2:00 p. m., last Friday at the Smith-Rees Funeral Home, Cynthiana. Visitation was from 4:00 to 9:00 p. m., last Thursday at the Chambers and Grubbs Funeral Home, Walton. Burial was in the Kenton County Cemetery in Robertson County.

CECIL R. FISK

Cecil R. Fisk, 65, of Route 1, De-mossville, died last Saturday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Verda Knight of Norwood, Ohio.

Services were held at 11:00 a. m., Tuesday at the Wilmington Baptist Church, Fiskburg. Burial was in the Wilmington Cemetery.

Swindler Funeral Home, Independence, had charge of arrangements.

GERALD G. ROLAND

Gerald G. Roland, 37 died at his home on Beaver Road, at 4:15 a. m., Tuesday. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Roland had been under the care of a doctor for some time. He was employed by the Walton Lumber Company, where he had worked for about 20 years. He is survived by his wife, Shirley Brooks Roland; four sons and one daughter; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Roland of Walton, and a brother, Eugene Roland.

Arrangements are being completed by the Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, Walton.

JOHN S. RICH

John S. Rich, 79, of Verona, died last Sunday at his home.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Samuel Setters of Taylor Mill, and Mrs. Roy Brown of Walton; three sons, Virgil Rich of Union, and Kenneth and John Rich of Walton; a sister, Mrs. Peggy Moore of Cincinnati, and two brothers, Harry Rich of Verona, and Jake Rich of Big Bone. Services were held at 2:00 p. m., Tuesday at the Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, Walton. Burial was in the Big Bone Cemetery.

Marine Lance Corporal Charles M. Denton, son of Mrs. Jessie M. Denton of 60 North Main Street, and husband of the former Miss Evelyn M. Ensley of Old Lexington Pike both of Walton, was promoted to his present rank while serving with the Second Marine Air Wing at the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Point, N. C.

Never trust a man who says he's boss in his own house. He'll probably lie about other things, too.

CARD OF THANKS . . .

Many thanks to the Wa-Na Club and everyone who sent cards, gifts, cookies and candies to me at Christmas time. It was greatly appreciated. SGT. JOE G. NORRIS Vietnam

The first sign of fall was once falling leaves, but now it is the appearance of Christmas merchandise in the stores.

A gentleman on a bus was smoking a foul-smelling cigar. Turning to the little lady sitting next to him, he asked, "My smoking won't bother you, will it?" "No", she replied, "not if my getting sick won't bother you."

A large department store hired seven men to act as Santa Claus for the holiday season. One man was put in charge. The other six were given the joint title "subordinate Clauses."

"So you're a painter?" "Yep." "Paint houses?" "Nope. Paint men and women." "Then you're an artist?" "Nope. Paint 'men' on one door and 'women' on the other."

Hippie girl to hippie boy, "Of course I love you...What a stupid question! I love everybody."

BEAVER LICK

Mrs. Bertha Jack is on the sick list this week and under the care of a doctor. We all hope she's feeling a lot better by now.

A group of young folk from Morehead University, were at the Beaver Baptist Church last Sunday. After church all went home with Sandy Stephenson for dinner. In the afternoon, all attended the baptismal service at Union for Mary Wood, who was baptized by Bro. C. E. Vaughn of Beaver Baptist.

Lon Wilson is back home from the hospital but isn't improving as well as his friends and neighbors would like for him to. Maybe, when the weather gets warm, he will feel much better.

Mrs. Ferguson of Beaver is on the sick list; also Keith Collins of Cleek Lane.

Mrs. Al Crouch is all full of pep and getting anxious. She just heard her son, Butch, is coming in soon from service on a 10-day leave.

Albert Rosenstiel was called to the Falmouth Hospital, last Friday night, where his sister is reported to be in a serious condition.

Staffordsburg

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

We are glad that R. S. Hinsdale is back in Kentucky, and we wish him to know that many are praying for his complete recovery.

We were shocked to learn of the serious illness of our one-time mail carrier, Randall Wagner. We would that if it be His will, the healing touch of God be given him.

Miss Neva Jo Finnell, who went back to school on Tuesday, had a sore throat again on Friday. We hope it was just a temporary setback and that she will soon be able to be in her usual good health.

Casey Brinkley tells us that his doctor is well pleased with his progress, but to him it seems very slow. We think he will be much happier when he can get out of doors more.

We were glad to welcome Mrs. Charles Losey back to church Sunday. We called on Mrs. Ernest Ryle on Thursday and were very pleased at her recovery following recent surgery.

Had a letter from Mrs. Everett Miller (Thelma Keeney). They have moved into Waco and like their apartment. Ida is about as usual. Thelma sends greetings to all.

Dawson Ballinger, who has been ill, is feeling better. He had x-rays taken and is reassured that while he has pain, he is not in danger. Wish for him better health.

I enjoyed very much a call from Edgar Riggs. His call was on business but that was quickly ended and then we just visited for an hour.

I talked recently with Mabel Gatewood. She seemed to have good health this winter. Said she was feeling very well, and to greet her old friends and neighbors.

RUMBLINGS IN THE VINEYARD!
Lesson for January 31, 1971

Background Scriptures Matthew 19:23 through 20:16

At the beginning of the twentieth century, most Christians were Europeans, Russians, or North Americans. By the beginning of the next century, however, it is predicted that Christianity will have shifted its base in a southerly direction and will be well on its way to becoming predominantly a religion of non-whites. Africa, Asia, and Latin America will most likely be its new focus.

The "others" who will come in By the end of this century, according to a report of the Africa Department of the National Council of Churches, the number of African, for example, will be about 351 million or 46 per cent of the continent's population. In 1900, by comparison, there were about 4 million African Christians, or 3 per cent of the total population of Africa. "For sheer size and rapidity of growth," says a National Council spokesman, "this must be one of the most spectacular stories in history. This tremendous growth of African Christianity may 'well give Christianity a permanent non-Western base.' It may not be too far-fetched, say some observers, to envision a day when missionaries from Africa and Latin America might be sent to evangelize in the very Western countries that first brought the gospel to them.

Many of us will have two different reactions to this news. On the one hand there will be a feeling of gratification. After all these years of struggling and worrying over our overseas missions efforts, it seems they are to bear fruit perhaps beyond our greatest dreams. How wonderful to know that the Gospel has made such great progress in what we once called "the dark continent."

"Our Vineyard" Yet, mixed with the elation of this "success story" there may be feelings of disquiet. Suppose Christianity should become "predominantly a religion of non-whites?" Suppose the next century should give Christianity a permanent non-Western base? We have long believed that the nonwhite had a place in Christianity. We have prepared that place and everything has been fine so long as they have stayed within it. Until now they have always seemed to know their place: we are the "Daddy's" and they are the "children."

Today, however, they are not staying in their place. According to the article, they are beginning to move up into our place, and that shakes us up.

For too long we have regarded the Church as "our vineyard." We broke the soil, planted the seeds, tended the vines—surely the fruit is ours to dispense as we please! But we are quite wrong and have always been wrong about the vineyard: it is not ours, it never has been, it never will be. The Church belongs to God, no matter who erected its buildings, paid its debts, or held its offices.

"What belongs to me?" It has never belonged to the Western world. Anglo-Saxons got the Good News from Italians and Greeks, and these got it from Jews. It began, not in the West, but in the Near East and among its first converts were black Copts and brown Egyptians.

Many of us have come to look upon the Church as many regarded the Kingdom in Jesus' time. They thought it belonged to them and when Jesus told of "outsiders" coming in, they were upset. Thus, in the parable, the owner of the vineyard says to the malcontented: "Friend, I am doing you no wrong... Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me?"

It is that same question which God poses to those who murmur in his vineyard today.

Someone to thank

"God is a product of man's imagination," announced the dignified intellectual who occupied our TV screen. "God isn't dead," he argued as our children watched. "He was never alive!"

Mary and I felt that Christian children such as ours should realize that not everyone believes in God. Perhaps, knowing this, they could better understand the state of the world. We would encourage and answer their questions as best we could, confident that God would not allow their faith to be destroyed.

Later, before I tucked Kristen into bed, she clasped her hands and closed her eyes. "Dear Lord," she prayed, "Thank you for Mommy and Daddy. Thank you for Zoomie (her goldfish) and Toddy and my new dress..." She stopped suddenly, and I raised questioning eyes to her. "Daddy," she said anxiously, "that man on TV doesn't have anyone to thank!"

Do you have Someone to thank? Come to church this Sunday.

TOP HATS 4-H CLUB

The January meeting of the Top Hats 4-H Club was held January 14 at the home of Patti and Pam Mullins. The meeting was called to order by the president and pledges were also led by the president.

The secretary-treasurer read the minutes and treasurer's report. Both were approved. We discussed the variety show, which will be held March 5 or 12. This we are planning to make a definite decision at the next meeting.

We also are going to have a bake sale which will be held in April on Good Friday. We chose a committee to plan and get things set up for the sale. Those appointed by Chris Sipple, president, were Susan Campbell, Cathy Jackson, and Pam Mullins. So, everyone start deciding what kind of goodies you want to buy.

We also talked about the 4-H start party, which will be held February 2, in Latonia. We would like to remind all 4-H'ers about the officer training which will be January 30 at 2:30 at the Independence Courthouse and the foods training, February 20, 1:30 at the RECC Building, Independence.

We decided to have the next meeting a week earlier so we can get started on the variety show. The meeting will be at the home of Cathy and David Jackson after school, Feb. 4.

Those who attended were Mrs. Riddell, leader; members, Lynn Rice,

Pam Mullins, Cathy Jackson, Chris Sipple, David Jackson, Mike Sipple, Ralph Collins, and Patti Mullins.—Reporter

Your Capitol and The New Congress

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

The occasion of returning to Washington for the convening of the new Congress reminds me of what, a historian, Allan Nevins, has said about our Capitol. He called it a place of resounding deeds.

It is true. No where can one find the ideals, the patriotism, the sentiments, the purposes and the honored traditions of our country so nobly enshrined as in our Capitol. It is a symbol of the majesty of a grand and great land. It is both the heart of a nation and the foundation-head of our government.

Our Capitol is the center from which radiates the people's authority, their power and their goodness. "We, the People," with the inspiration, the power and the promises of our Constitution are here ennobled to achieve the goals that prompt the respect and admiration of the world.

It is the place that holds out hope for the less fortunate, gives assurance to the successful and promise to the ambitious.

Within its historic walls the voice of the Republic has been heard—a voice that is still heard in the country. It is the citadel of the basic freedom. It is the forum for representative government.

Unfinished business of the 91st Congress, which finally adjourned less than 24 hours before it legally expired, may get us off to a fast start if the President's will prevails.

COUNTY AGENT'S 1/2 ACRE

JOE CLAXON

Agriculture is now Nation's largest industry and certainly must be counted as one of the soundest and most essential segments of our total economy. Each year our growing population requires increased amounts of food and natural fiber products. This means that farmers and ranchers have to expand the size of their operations, utilize bigger and more expensive equipment, build more and larger buildings, and incorporate the latest scientific and technological advances to increase their productivity.

Yes, agriculture is a thriving, prosperous and big business with a built-in growth factor. It is an industry essential to everyone. Like all modern businessmen, farmers and ranchers need capital to expand their operations. Much of this capital is borrowed.

The Kentucky Feeder Calf Association completed its 15th year of operation in 1970. Thirty-eight sales were held in the spring, two in the summer and the remainder in the fall months. Gross income for the 1970 sales amounted to $5,592,160, which was an increase in excess of one million dollars over 1969. The number of calves marketed through the special sales was up over 5,400 head.

Price received by producers were up $1.47 per hundredweight over '69 and the highest overall average since the organization of the Kentucky Feeder Calf Association in 1955. The '70 sales average was $32.01 per hundredweight or $152.37 per head, for 476-pound average weight for all animals. Steer calves averaged $33.73 per hundredweight, or $167.24 per head for 496-pound average weight. Heifer calves averaged $29.12 per hundredweight, or $129.46 per head for a 445-pound average weight. The 18 sales grossed in excess of $150 per head, with a summer yearling sale averaging close to $200 per head. The market remained strong throughout the fall sales season even in view of the higher feeding costs projected for 1971 resulting from corn blight.

Health Hints

Athlete's Foot

Athlete's foot is just itching to get a hold on your toes. A fungus disease which thrives in warm weather, it is a lot easier to get than to get rid of. To prevent athlete's foot from getting a foothold, bathe your feet regularly, dry them well, dust powder between the toes, change your socks daily, and rotate your shoes.

Exercise

Modern technology has become so advanced that we Americans have become actively inactive. Automated living may be easy, but it also eases your muscles out of shape. So begin an organized and practical program of exercising today. You may select activities as vigorous as tennis, or as limited as routine calisthenics and gardening. No matter what your age, exercise will improve your health. Ask your physician's advice about the types and amount of exercise suited to your age, sex, and physical condition. Then get started today!

WALTON, KENTUCKY — THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1971

Volume 56 - Number 5

City Proposes The Annexation of Adjoining Property

The City Council of the City of Walton has proposed the annexation of property lying to the west and north of the existing city limits. Council members feel that with the anticipated growth and development of the city, this property should be annexed and become a part of the city. This property is ideally located for residential and/or industrial development. They (city council) have also stated that another objective is to provide construction of water and sewer lines. These facilities are not permitted outside the corporate limits of the city.

One of the largest parcels of land, 165 acres, is located on the northwest city line of Walton and is bordered on the west by I-75 and on the east by U. S. Highway 25. This farm is owned by Miss Mary West.

Another farm containing 97 acres is on the north side of the West property and also lies along U. S. 25. Only a small section of this land owned by Mrs. Savella Parker runs back to the I-75 right-of-way.

The property on both sides of the highway along U. S. 25 from the Parker farm to the south side of Chambers road has also been proposed for annexation. There are several different parcels of developed residential dwellings included in this group which fronts on Chambers road and on the Dixie highway.

The city also wishes to extend its territorial limits to the north along I-75 to the I-71 right-of-way and along I-71 westwardly almost to Beaver road, thence on a broken diagonal line back to the present city limits. Several dwellings and a business are involved in this parcel of land.

Still another parcel of land adjoins I-75 and Beaver and is included in the annexation plans.

Last week in Boone Circuit Court, Mrs. Parker and Miss West filed for legal action to prohibit the annexation of their farms. A council member stated that Mrs. Parker had previously asked for consideration of a city water line to her property for a proposed subdivision.

If the city of Walton does expand in the future to meet the challenge of population growth in southern Boone County, a move to the north and west seems most logical. On the east and southeast the city is contained by the Kenton County line.

The woman lecturer was going strong. "For centuries women have been mistreated and mistreated," she yelled. "They have suffered in a thousand ways. Is there any way that women have not suffered?" "Yes, there's one way," a masculine voice retorted from the audience. "They have never suffered in silence!"

Most men believe that a woman's place is in the home. They expect to find her there immediately after she gets off work.

Get 71 License Tags Now

Gov. Louie B. Nunn has urged Kentucky motorists not to delay obtaining 1971 auto license tags, now on sale in offices of the County Court Clerk throughout the state.

"I am advised by representatives of the Kentucky County Court Clerks' Association that extra staff personnel already are on duty to help motorists avoid the inconvenience of long lines and unnecessary delays traditional to the last-minute rush before the March 1 deadline for purchases of the new license plates," Gov. Nunn said.

Things are becoming so tense nowadays it's difficult to find anyone a sleep in church.

Remedial Reading Supervisor Speaks

Mrs. Pearl Bullock, Remedial Reading Supervisor, was guest-speaker at the January meeting of the Kenton Elementary PTA. She discussed the causes of reading problems such as poor vision or hearing, brain damage, little or no exposure to books at home, etc. Poor reading can rob a child of his confidence and he is likely to seek attention in other ways, often becoming a discipline problem.

She stressed the need for individual help for such children and told of a program of volunteer mothers who give one morning each week to work individually with slow readers. Mrs. Bullock has been a teacher in this area for many years and is employed in her present capacity by the Federal Government under Title I which provides Federal funds for special projects in local school districts.

During the business meeting, it was noted by the president, Mrs. Ray Baldwin, that the membership this year is the largest in Kenton Elementary's history, with 630 members.

The classes of Mrs. Bailey, Miss Brown, Mrs. Popp, Mrs. Baird and Mrs. Holbrook were given $10.00 each for having 100 percent membership.

The Wind Chill Index

How much effect does the Northern breezes have in determining our weather conditions?

According to a wind chill table, it is colder when the wind blows. At 25 degrees, a 5 mph wind reduces the temperature to 21 degrees; a 10 mph breeze drops it to nine.

When the thermometer registers 10 degrees, a 10 mph wind reduced the reading (wind chill factor) to -9. One encouraging thought is that wind speeds greater than 40 mph have little additional chilling effect. Br-r-r-r.

W-V Bearcats Take Crusaders, 55 to 50

Walton-Verona High School continued its drive to replace St. Henry as champion of the Northern Kentucky Independent Athletic Conference by upsetting the Crusaders, 55-50, last Friday night on the local floor.

The loss was the first in nine league games for St. Henry and moved the second-place Bearcats closer with a 5-1 league record. On the season play, the Crusaders dropped to 15-5, while Walton-Verona won its 14th game in 22 starts.

Walton trailed for the first half as St. Henry held an advantage in each of the first two periods. The Bearcats pulled to a one-point deficit in the third period and scored 23 points in the final period for the victory.

Ron Huffman with 20 and Mike Ferguson with 12 led W-V, while Bob Riesenbeck had 22 for St. Henry. Irwin added 11 and Seiler 10.

The preliminary game was also won by Walton-Verona.

Simon Kenton 103, Ludlow 98

Simon Kenton's Pioneers went over the century mark in defeating the Ludlow Panthers, 103-98, last Friday at Independence in the NKAC. It was the fifth conference win for the Pioneers, who grabbed a 14-point first half lead and then held off the late rush of the Panthers. Ludlow was losing for the sixth time in 10 NKAC contests.

Steve Leistner led the winners with 31 points, and Tom Due added 19. Martin 19, Davis and Halderman 15 each. Mike Caple led Ludlow with 35 and Jon Alig added 24.

Belleuve 80—Walton-Verona 68

Belleuve's Tigers halted a four-game winning streak of Walton-Verona by defeating the Bearcats, 80-68, last Tuesday at Belleuve. The Tigers virtually settled the issue in the opening period by limiting the visitors to only one field goal, that by Bob Messmer, and four free throws by his teammates. The Bearcats were able to hold their own for the remainder of the game but the damage had been done.

Church West led the Tigers in the scoring column with 22 points; Terry Ahrens added 19. Ron Huffman led Walton-Verona with 23 and Gary Ingram had 18. Rick Goldsberry 13.

CovCath 95—Simon Kenton 59

Covington Catholic fought Northern Kentucky opposition a little easier than that of Louisville and ran over the Simon Kenton Pioneers, 95-59, last Tuesday at Covington. The Colonels placed 10 players in the scoring column and were never in trouble. Coach Mote Hills took out his regulars with 4:17 left in the third period and turned the game over to the reserve five, who continued to outscore the visitors. Richard Derkson led the winners with 15 points; Tom Miller, Rippe, and Wilcox each had 13 points. Steve Leistner and Randy Davis each had 19 points for the Pioneers.

"Have I told you about my grandchildren?" "No, and I appreciate it."

Home Agent's Parly Line

By Nancy Norman

For women, boots are the important fashion accessory this season. And for children, boots beat rain, snow, slush, and cold weather. By choosing carefully, you can have smart looks and easy care in today's leg-accented scene. Certainly, it's never been more important to keep boots looking store-fresh. And the easiest avenue to soft sheen is suds-cleanable boots.

Echoing the fashion theme, in shoes, boots are more elegant, leg-loving, and sleek; designed in styles for rough-and-tumble, casual, and for dressy wear. The most popular seem to be knee-high which can be worn with any skirt length and with pants. But the newest look is the lower midi boot. There are front and side laces, zippers and expandable gores, stretch leather-looks and shiny crushed patents. Tour a shoe store or department to see the many styles and colors for down-to-dark activities.

Fashion boots are made most often of leather or vinyl. Winter boots are pile or foam lined for warmth. For fall and springs, boots are lined with nylon tricot or light-weight cotton or nylon fleece. There are also rubber or molded vinyl over-the-shoe boots—always waterproof for wet weather wear.

To avoid possible disappointment, know the difference between waterproof and water repellent and ask questions before buying. Many of the handsome, high-style boots will resist splashes or damp pavement but cannot be expected to keep feet dry in puddles or snow. The secret is in construction. Boots that are cut and sewn, whether leather or vinyl, are not waterproof unless seams have been sealed. In addition, leather itself must be treated to gain water repellency or waterproof properties. Leather boots are cut and sewn, a method which allows greater detailing. Leather also has built-in breathability for comfort, a rich texture and beautiful grain.

Boots of vinyl may be molded from a single piece which automatically makes them waterproof. Vinyls simulate leather grains and textures from smooth to crushed to reptile. When boots are made from sheet vinyl instead of the molding process, they are constructed like leather boots, have greater detailing, but require special tape for waterproofing.

Boots can enhance or ruin general appearance. Good looks depend on establishing a regular routine—after wear a little care—especially in wet or snowy weather. Vinyl boots and those of other man-made materials should be wiped clean with a sudsy sponge and dried with a cloth. Today's leather boots have special finishes to keep them soft and flexible. These, too, may be cleaned with a sudsy sponge. Then rinse with a clean, damp cloth and wipe dry. Scuffs may be minimized with shoe polish or application of paste wax. It is especially important to clean boots after walking through rock-salt used on icy pavements. Unless taken care of promptly, rock-salt will discolor boots.

Over-the-foot boots for children are becoming more and more popular for winter warmth. Usually made of the molded vinyl in pull-on or zipper styles, winter ones are pile-lined. Decorative-pile cuffs or knitted leg-hug ging tops provide extra warmth and discourage snow slipping over the top. Ample gussets behind zipper and the other closures are added protection from cold and wetness.

Over-the-shoe boots of rubber or molded vinyl, close with a zipper, a strap-plus-gusset, or have an extra wide top with loop and button or adjustable strap. Getting boots on and closed can be a source of great frustration for nursery and kindergarten age children. Rubbing a bar of soap up and down inside the back helps shoes slide in. If the child can manage it, a plastic bag put over the shoe first provides better sliding power than rubber heels.

Children's boots respond quickly to suds care and should be given frequent attention since children tend to be tough on footwear. Boots should be cleaned inside from time to time and crevice tool of a vacuum cleaner is ideal for this. In spite of precautions, snow-time fun usually means snow inside the boots. If boots are really soaked, blot up moisture with paper towels or clean cloths. Then insert the hose of a hair dryer into the top and blow the pile dry. This will make the boots ready for wear in a short time and prevents odor build-up from long periods of wetness.

Burley tobacco is greatly influenced by fertilization practices. Both yield and quality may be improved by using adequate amounts of the proper nutrients. Soils differ in their productive capacity and in their fertility level. Consequently attention should be given to the physical and chemical characteristics of the soil in deciding upon the amount of fertilizer to use. Soil tests and previous cropping history are helpful guides in estimating fertilizer and lime needs for specific fields.

Control of soil acidity is very important in building and maintaining productive soil. Soil acidity affects the availability to plants of nearly all nutrient elements in the soil. As soils become more acid, certain elements, such as aluminum and manganese become more available and may be toxic to plants, while phosphorus and molybdenum become less available.

The MYF is having a bake sale on Saturday. The meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Don Keeney, who had chosen "Christmas In Nepal," an interesting topic about in interesting people. NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

Our January Bible Study of the three Epistles of John was the beginning of a new spirit in New Banklick Baptist Church. Under the able teaching of Dr. George Jones, the executive secretary and treasurer of our association, many things were observed that had been over-looked before. We graciously recommend this man of God to teach the Bible in any church. Those who attended the three sessions were Bob and Mae Matteoli, Bill Bates, John Patrick, Harris Carpenter, Albert and Mary Martin, Peggy Johnson, Marie Schadler, Gilberta Kidwell, James and Mary Johnson, Raymond Lipscomb, Dewey and Shelly Switzer, Delbert Straub, Gene, Betty, Brian, Stanley, Ginger and Tammy Parker, Louise Mercer, Frances Beach, Anna Bell Stanci, George and Emma Schadler. The plans are to have Dr. Jones back to teach the Book of Ephesians in the very near future.

New additions to our church during the month of January has been uplifting in our spirits. For baptism: Shelly Switzer. By letter: Mrs. Georgina Best, Temple Baptist Church, Toronto, Canada; Mrs. Nannie Dillion, Ludlow, Ky; Bert and Lois Reinhart, Morning View, Ky; and Mrs. Ray Elam, Corbin, Ky; and Diana Carpenter (by baptism). "And the Lord added to the church daily, those that should be saved."

Strange things are happening at New Banklick Baptist Church! That's right, girls! On Saturday night (January 23) there was a ping-pong tournament for the youth. The girls who attended went wild! Can you guess why? It seems by the grape-vine that there were only two girls present but ... there were fifteen boys. WOW!

We know two girls who really had a ball. Just think about it girls, Two girls among fifteen handsome boys. Double wow. Another Saturday night is now being set, so this time girls, you had better be on the alert and don't let these same two girls hog all those handsome boys.

Our RA boys keep moving right along with their basketball playing. They have lost only three games this season. They won their last game over Ludlow, 42 to 12. Congratulations, fellows, God speed to you fine boys. Mr. Ray Mercer sponsors and works with these fine young men of our church. He certainly needs some help. And we encourage the men of our church to take a greater interest in these leaders of the future. Your efforts will be greatly rewarded.

The Sunday School Department, starting the first Sunday in February, has begun a contest among departments. A beautiful "attendance" banner is the honored trophy. It will be awarded each quarter in 1971 to the department having the highest percentage in attendance. The department that receives the trophy banner the most often during 1971 will get to keep it permanently. The goal for our Sunday School has been set at 200. We believe it can be reached in the first month with the Spirit of Christ in our people. Our Sunday School Director, Mr. Harold Callen, extends a hearty invitation to anyone who does not attend Sunday School. The riches of God's blessings will be yours.

The hours of our church services are: Sunday School, 9:50 a. m.; the Morning Worship, 11:00 a. m.; Evening Worship, 7:00 p. m.; Wednesday night services, 7:30. The pastor, James D. Johnson, and all the members extend to those without a church home a hearty—WELCOME!

"HURRYING THE CHICKEN"

Lesson for February 7, 1971

Background Scriptures: Luke 11:9-13; 18:1-8.

The late Emmett Fox used to tell a story about a city boy who was spending his summer on the farm. His hosts had a fine time showing him around the farm, pointing out the sights he had never seen in the city where he lived.

Rev. Althouse was delighted with this prospect and every morning he would race to the chicken coop to see whether the great miracle had yet occurred.

No signs of change

Days went by and the little boy became disappointed as nothing happened in the chicken coop. The eggs looked exactly as they had when he had first seen them. They bore no signs of change whatsoever. So his faith in the expected miracle began to wane. Finally, after many fruitless days of watching, he gave up altogether, deciding that he had been deceived.

The next day, by sheer habit and no longer in anticipation, he went to the coop and was amazed to find that the miracle had taken place: the nest was alive with little chicks. How amazing it seemed that all this had taken place overnight. Yesterday the eggs had looked the same as always, but today the eggs were replaced by fully-developed baby chicks!

Appearances, of course, had been deceiving to the boy. The eggs appeared to be the same every day, yet all the while wonderful changes were taking place inside them. The miracle was growing right before his eyes, but he couldn't see it.

Is God punctual?

In "My Fair Lady" Professor Higgins sings, "Why Can't A Woman Be Like A Man?" There's a sense in which our prayers must often sound as if we're saying, "Why can't God be like a man?" Why can't he do things our way? Why can't he pace himself according to our schedule? Why isn't he more punctual?

This may sound presumptuous, yet isn't this what many of us feel deep down? "God, I asked you to help me last week, and I still am in the same situation." "Lord, I've been asking for three years for you to change my husband, and he's still the same."

The two parables in Luke 11 and 18 are not meant to compare God to an indifferent neighbor or reluctant judge. Rather, with these two stories, Jesus is saying that if these two all-too-human men will respond to a man's patient persistence, how much more are we assured of the eventual response of a loving God!

How long? How long?

Many of us are like the unhappy army draftee who was being drilled under a hot, scorching sun on a sultry day. The rookie and his comrades were neither enthusiastic or adept at what they were doing. A passing officer was startled to see the rookie drop his rifle. "How long have you been in the army?" he demanded of the rookie. The man looked wearily at the officer and replied, "All day, sir."

We all know of times when "all day" seems to be an eternity, but we must remember that it is not. Let us not "hurry the chicken," but patiently and persistently await the answer which God will give in his own good time.

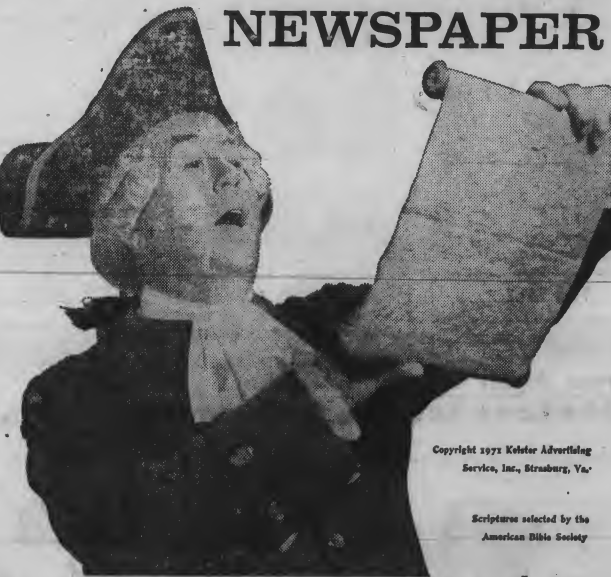

If ever a man's job became obsolete, it was this fellow's. And what a job it was. He learned everything first, then imparted the news to others. If he had a good memory, he was usually the best informed man in town. Who else read every release and then shouted it all over town? He also was the principal advertising medium for the tradespeople and shopkeepers. He announced their products, services and special sales.

And in most communities the town crier reminded men of the approach of the Sabbath, urging them to be present for worship at the appointed hour in the churches of the community.

The newspaper made the town crier a has-been. It has taken over all his functions and performed them more efficiently. That includes reminding men of the day of worship, and, through advertisements such as this, urging us to worship.

You see one thing hasn't changed. Man's need for God!

M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman

On Thursday, January 21, at 12:00 noon, members of the new 92nd Congress were assembled for the call of the roll of States and swearing in ceremonies. I began my fourth term or seventh year in Congress.

The chief presiding officer of the House of Representatives was Representative Carl Albert of Oklahoma. Albert, who was nominated by the Democrats, won over Rep. Jerry Ford, who was nominated by the Republicans. The party with the most members, of course, is in effect naming the Speaker.

Each party reported its selection of their leadership. Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, will be the Majority Leader for the Democrats, and Rep. Ford will be the Minority Leader for the Republicans again.

Officers of the House of Representatives were announced by resolutions. These are the positions of Clerk of the House, Sergeant at Arms, Doorkeeper, Postmaster, and Chaplain. H. H. "Hap" Morris from Kentucky continues as our Postmaster.

We then proceeded with the routine business required to establish the new Congress. This included an attempted change of House rules by the SECTION 4. All ordinances, resolutions, or parts thereof, in conflict herewith, are to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

SECTION 5. If any section, paragraph or clause of this ordinance be held by a proper court to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining sections, paragraphs, or clauses, it being hereby expressly declared that the remainder of said ordinance would have been passed despite such invalidity.

Nitrogen is a very important element in the development of yield and quality in burley tobacco. Lack of nitrogen reduces the field and lowers the quality; however, an oversupply of nitrogen delays maturity and may also lower quality. For silt loam or clay loam soils where a good grass sod or small grain cover crop is plowed under, 200 to 250 pounds of nitrogen per acre generally is sufficient. When the sod plowed under is rated poor, or on sandy soils, 250-300 pounds of nitrogen per acre should be provided. When the tobacco is grown two or more years in the same field, increase the nitrogen fertilization by 50 pounds per acre.

A deficiency of phosphorus in the soil results in poor quality tobacco. Phosphorus deficiency in the tobacco plants is characterized by slow growth, spotted, narrow leaves, and delayed maturity. Because soils differ greatly in levels of available phosphorus, the amount needed from fertilizer will vary considerably. Seventy-five to 200 pounds of P205 per acre will be sufficient for tobacco grown on soil testing medium or low in phosphorus.

High levels of potassium in burley tobacco leaf are usually associated with desirable quality, and may contribute to disease resistance of plants in the field. Soils that test medium or low in available potassium should have applications of 200-400 pounds of K2O per acre. On soils high in available potassium 200 pounds of K2O per acre should be applied to maintain the potassium level. Potassium fertilizers used for burley tobacco should always be low in chlorine.

Manure contains about 4 pounds of chlorine per ton. Excessive chlorine in tobacco causes soggy and poor quality in the cured leaf. For this reason, do not use more than 10-12 tons of manure per acre in fertilizing burley tobacco.

Stop by or call the Extension Office for "Fertilizing Burley Tobacco." Have your soil tested!

The merchant sent his bill to a slow-paying customer with the notation, "This bill is one year old." By return mail he got a greeting card saying, "Happy Birthday, Bill."

Christian Church Honors Retiring Pastor and Wife

Members and friends of the Walton Christian Church honored their minister and his wife with a family dinner in Fellowship Hall following the morning worship service on Sunday, February 7th. Rev. and Mrs. Arthur J. Russell will retire from the active ministry the first of June.

From a humble beginning at Victory Christian Church, in Lexington, Ky., where he preached his first sermon, have come 40 full years of service to Christ. He returned to this church the third Sunday in January and delivered the same sermon that he first used. The years of pastoral care have been shared in mission work through the General, Kentucky, South Carolina, and National offices which involved traveling through most of the United States and some in Canada. In this work, Rev. Russell was responsible for promoting leadership development. He says that this wide scope of involvement has made his life richer as he has experienced so many of the challenges and joys of the people he worked with.

Following the meal, enjoyed by nearly 100 persons, there was a period of fellowship and songs, presided over by the board chairman, Paul Simpson. Mrs. Russell related some of the events of their most active life. They were presented with a beautiful antique brass bucket filled with lovely flowers—a memento from the congregation in appreciation of their loyal services here since December, 1967.

The Russells are the proud parents of three daughters and a son. Mrs. Max Ficus, her husband and three children were present for the Sunday program. The other daughters and families are: Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Ganin, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. James Dugley, Kerville, Texas; and the youngest, a son, Michael, a student at Texas Christian University in Ft. Worth. There are 11 grandchildren.

Recalling some of the highlights of a long and fruitful ministry, Rev. Russell reflected upon how so many people helped him get enrolled in Transylvania College, Lexington, in 1929. Times were tough on a young preacher in school who had an early morning paper route for financial support. Miss Eudora Groves soon gave a helping hand for the 4:00 a. m. route, and has been a faithful wife and helpmate since their marriage January 1, 1932.

"In the mid-1940's I had the opportunity to counsel with 15 young people who were going into full time Christian service. It has been a real blessing to work with these youngsters and see them mature and advance in fulfilling their calling as ministers, missionaries, etc. While we were in South Carolina, we had the pleasure of assisting six young students find a way through seminary work. There are so many times each day that we have a chance to talk to someone and share the good news with them . . . it is hard to say what has been our greatest moment," Mr. Russell said.

Since moving to the pastorate here, Rev. Russell has served as president of the Walton Ministerial Ass'n.

The fact that his active ministry is coming to a close does not mean that they plan to sit and twiddle their thumbs and wait for old age. He plans to pursue his hobbies of rock collecting, furniture restoration, and add to his collection of unique clocks. "I feel that hobbies are an important part of our lives. They sometimes teach us more in a failure than we would learn in a success of our chosen vocation," Rev. Russell concluded.

They will move to 629 Headley Avenue, Lexington, and live in the same apartment that they lived in when they were newlyweds attending college.—Jim Lawrence

Boone DAR Selects Four Good Citizens

Boone County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has announced the names of the 1971 Good Citizens, who are graduating seniors selected from four local high schools.

They are: Patricia Robertson, Lloyd High School, Erlanger; Laura Rogers, Conner High School, Hebron; Diana Sue Johns, Boone County High School, Florence; and Darlene Berkemeier, Walton-Verona High School, Walton.

The contest is open only to girls and the recommended method of selection is to have the senior class choose three girls, and from the three the faculty selects one, who becomes the school's Good Citizen. The following qualities are used for selection:

Dependability, which includes loyalty, truthfulness and punctuality; service, which is cooperation, courtesy, and consideration of others; leadership, which is personality, self-control, and ability to assume responsibility; patriotism, which is unselfish interest in family, school, community, and nation.

On April 3, the four girls will be taken on an extended tour to Frankfort, where they will be guests at a tea given by Mrs. Wendell Ford, wife of Lt. Gov. Ford, in the Old Governor's Mansion.

A meeting of the Boone County Fair Board was held January 26, in Burlington.

The following officers were elected: John Walton, President; Franklin Brown, Vice President; Beckham Shields, Vice President; Jack Armstrong, Secretary-Treasurer, and Mrs. R. V. Lents, Assistant Treasurer.

Many new and exciting plans are being formulated to make the 1971 fair (August 2-7) one of the best in history. It is said that the Boone County Fair is one of the top 15 in the state.

In the financial report, it showed total assets at $40,412.88; total liabilities at $35,553.70, with a balance as of January 1, of $4,859.18.

New Topic—The Weather

The past several days we have seen all kinds of weather—warm, zero, rain, snow, and freezing rain. It is said, "If you don't like Kentucky weather, just stick around and it will soon change."

The only good part about the snow, it gives the children an opportunity to use the new sled they received for Christmas, and a chance to get the old one out again.

Don't forget to feed the birds during bad weather—they depend on us in cold weather.

Simon Kenton FHA Alumnae Meeting

The Simon Kenton Future Homemakers of America Alumnae met on January 21 with ten members present. Judy Courtney Schadler presided.

The programs and activities were presented and approved with minor corrections and additions. The programs for each month, sound interesting and the activities guarantee lots of fun.

The by-laws were presented by Rita Trapp Potts and approved with necessary corrections. With our club now being three years old, we now have some organization as to the officers' duties, our dues, etc.

We then enjoyed delicious homemade cakes and cookies brought by the hostesses for the evening, Carol Galey Kitts and Peggy Bailey Wartman.

We would like to invite any former Simon Kenton FHA member to visit our meetings, held the third Thursday of each month, and join in our programs and activities, which include a knitting demonstration, creative ideas, first aid and safety, white elephant sales, bake sales, banquet, skating and bowling parties, etc. Of course it is all worth it in September when we have our "Night Out," and go to Cincinnati for dinner and a movie that is paid for by the club. This is our reward for participating in our various money-making projects.

If the above information interests you and you would enjoy seeing some of the FHA girls you graduated with, come to our next meeting on Thursday, February 18, at 7:30 p. m., at the RECCO Building, Independence. Our program titled, "A House of Ideas," being slides and a speaker from the telephone company is sure to be interesting and informative.

We will answer roll call with an "Idea For Easy Cleaning."

Verna Elliott Wagner and Rita Trapp Potts will be hostesses for the evening.

Members present at the January meeting were: Judy Schadler, Rita Potts, Sandy Richardson, Judy New, Ginger Bailey, Carol Kitts, Peggy Wartman, Arlene Porter, Verna Wagner and Pam Barnes.—Pam Barnes

National Vocational Education Week

This week is being nationally recognized as Vocational Education Week.

In Kentucky, the observance is particularly important to promote vocational education and increase the public's awareness of this growing phase of education.

Through vocational education, a large majority of youths and adults not only gain access to good jobs, but also are able to advance to higher-paying jobs.

Now is the time for each parent and youth to think of the benefits of vocational education which can be reaped throughout an individual's life, especially in this age of science and technology.

During the 1970-71 school year, there were approximately 128,000 Kentuckians served in vocational education programs in secondary, post secondary, adult, disadvantaged and handicapped areas. Presently, 2,800 vocational education instructors are involved in the state's v-o-d program. This would be a good time to start recruiting for next year.

WHITE'S TOWER PTA

The regular monthly meeting of the White's Tower Elementary School PTA was held Thursday, January 21 at 7:30 p. m., in the school cafeteria.

It being Father's Night, the entire business portion of the meeting was conducted by the fathers.

Following the business session was a display of gym equipment. Ivan Cooper, Physical Education Instructor, explained the use and the results of each piece of equipment, which was then demonstrated by board members, teachers, and the school principal, Charles Miller.

It was felt the program was well received and those participating surely had a ball putting it together.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Big Bone Lick Park to Get Land

The State Parks Department has disclosed it is seeking to expand the present Big Bone Lick Park area by approximately 230 acres embracing 17 tracts of land adjacent to the park, near Highway 338, and within a mile of the boat dock near the park.

According to reports, the land is now being surveyed, and some of the property is being appraised. Some of the property owners have been sent land contracts or options to sell their land.

Ken Hart, assistant to Commissioner of Parks S. W. Palmer-Ball, said it is proposed, once the surveying and land-acquisition program is further along, to make application to the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation for funds to help finance the undertaking.

Purpose of the proposed acquisition is to obtain more recreational facilities, picnic and supervised play areas for the community. It is part of the natural program for expansion of the Big Bone Lick Park area.

STATE OF THE UNION

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

President Nixon presented his State of the Union message to a joint meeting of Congress at 9:00 p. m., Friday, January 22.

Administration goals set for the new Congress by the President, as simply as I can state them, are:

Welfare Reform — A guaranteed minimum income for every American family with children. There is a planned curb on payments to those who are able to work but refuse to do so.

Peacetime Prosperity — A Federal budget that will stimulate the economy, an expanding money supply, and pressure on both labor and management to check the wage-price spiral.

Health Care — A set of proposals for improving health care and making it available to more people. The specific goals are for basic medical care for every needy family; expand the supply of doctors, nurses and other health workers; encourage wider use of preventive medicine; make more care available in areas short of doctors, hospitals, and other medical services, and find a cure for cancer.

Revenue Sharing — A plan to share federal revenues, with no strings attached, with states and cities for the purpose of improving education, transportation, law enforcement, urban and rural development, and so forth.

Reorganization of Departments — A plan to combine seven existing domestic Departments plus related independent agencies into four new agencies. This would consolidate existing programs into four distinct categories, for human needs, community development, physical environment, and economic development.

The message was almost overwhelmingly broad and optimistic. The objectives are all laudable but they can be better discussed when the President's actual plans and proposals are known. After I have given them a long, hard look I will be writing about each goal at a later date.

Meanwhile, the President has won assurance of prompt Congressional hearings on reorganization of the government's sweeping bureaucracy which we have watched grow by leaps and bounds through the years without perceivable plan or conscious policy.

Home Agent's Party Line

By Nancy Norman

One out of every 4 garments worn by women and children in this country is made at home. The number of home sewers is approaching the fifty million mark. All of this adds up to the fact that the home sewing industry is one of the ten fastest growing businesses in the country.

Why the sudden upsurge in home sewing? The reason that is given most frequently is that it has been elevated from a economy-based chore to a pleasure-based hobby with a strong emphasis on fashion.

Prior to the Civil War, all women had to sew. Then the emergence of ready-to-wear reduced the number of home sewers and the task took on the stigma of poverty. Today's seamstress can select patterns from the latest array of styles and hundreds of fashion fabrics. In fact, patterns-line-for-line designer garments and fabrics that would tempt the Seventh Avenue Couture are available for the home sewer.

The type of person that sews has changed, too. Most home sewers are young—in the 18 to 30 bracket. In fact, teenagers list sewing as their number one hobby.

Women's Wear Daily describes the "typical" woman who sews as a young mother with young children. She is above average in intelligence and most have had either college or business training. The median level of income is $9,500 and 85 percent own their own homes. She has a strong interest in fashion and the related topics such as makeup and accessories. Sewing is used as a creative outlet.

Today's home sewer is interested in the "look" and will pay more per yard for the fabric and a greater price for the pattern. Stores are discovering that some of their most expensive fabrics sell very quickly if they have the fashion appeal that women want.

With all of this excitement in the home sewing market, we in the Extension Service are constantly working with the home sewers to help them stay abreast of current trends. The extent of our services can be summarized as follows:

1—Individual questions and problems discussed by phoning or visiting our office. Quite often University of Kentucky or commercial publications will be given to you to give more depth to the topic.

2—A monthly newsletter that goes to home sewers who request their name be added to the mailing list. New products and techniques are featured in this publication.

3—Workshops at graded levels of clothing construction are offered periodically. Enrollment for these is usually quite high and must be limited due to resources.

4—Special programs taught by the agent or a commercial representative on certain topics. An example would be a meeting, "Sewing On Polyesters" to be held May 12 at 10 a. m.

Driving's lot like baseball—it's the number of times you get home safely that counts.

To mend a pot cover that has lost its knob, push a stainless steel screw up from the bottom, attach a cork on top, and you have a Mediterranean pot cover!

For best value in detergents, choose one with a high phosphate content; no substitute is as good as phosphate for gently cleaning out the dirt. A good brand name is your best assurance of a high phosphate content.

An Appreciation Of Our Heritage

Perhaps, one of the things we should appreciate most today is our priceless heritage.

What we consider every day, the good things in life that we enjoy, are ours because someone else paid a price for them.

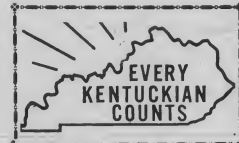

Our forefathers who brought this nation into existence, did so—not for their own profit and pleasure—but for the good of God and man.

We are Americans. We say we are for America. Because of this position, we should be proud to live under a flag which stands for those ideals we value so highly and are willing to fight for to preserve.

Today, too many danger signals are flying—many well informed patriotic citizens feel that too little appreciation for our heritage is being transmitted in the school room. They say it is educationally unsound to fail to teach this basic American concept:

respect for law and order and the rights of others, for these ideals are fundamental ingredients of a free society.

Teachers in the classroom should make a special effort to see that a greater appreciation for our heritage is transmitted to the students. This instruction in the classroom should include therefore, the teaching of proper respect for the flag—Wendell Butler, Supt. of Public Instruction, Ky.

Two Indians watched the white men building a lighthouse. One night after it was completed, the Indians took up their accustomed stations as a thick fog started to roll in. "Ugh, said one Indian to the other, "light shine, bell ring, horn blow, but fog come in just the same."

A woman motorist, after a traffic violation, was halted by a traffic officer who ordered her: "Pull over." The judge fined her $25. She was anxious to keep her husband from learning of the incident. Since he regularly examined her checkbook, she marked the stub, "One pullover, $25."

Although summer usually is nice, winter is something else again. If you're up North, anyway.

Winter in the "snow belt" means cold, windy, snowy weather—and icy roads. And it means one of the best friends we have around, Salt.

Highway rock salt, to keep pavements bare and safe. Before automobiles were improved, salt on streets was looked upon as a necessary evil. But now that we no longer blame it for causing our cars to rust, salt is being recognized as the lifesaver it has been all along.

The National Safety Council says that the only safe pavement is a bare pavement. Rock salt has a unique combination of valuable characteristics. Chemical efficiency. Economy. And speed of application.

Did you know that at 25°F. salt will melt about 15 times its weight in ice? And, at 30°, 45 times? Highway officials now try to put salt down before the snow and ice arrive, which makes plowing more effective, too.

All but two or three of the snow belt states have mileage death rates below the national average. Hard to believe, but true. And the national rate has declined in each of the past four years.

If you would like to know more about this cold weather friend, just clip this article and the name of your newspaper and send them to me marked "Story of Highway Salt." I will send you an illustrated 20-page booklet about the value of highway salt.

Ah, said the customs officer, finding a bottle of whiskey, I thought you said there were only old clothes in this trunk? Aye, that's my night cap.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

THE RECREATION COMMITTEE of New Banklick Baptist Church has some wonderful plans for our youth during the spring and summer of 1971. One thing of greatest interest is the attempt to have a Junior and Intermediate softball team. Ray Mercer, our recreation director, has not yet revealed his plans in toto, but we are sure they will be tops. Ray has done a wonderful job with our boys' basketball teams. We also are indebted to Frank and Gilberta Kidwell for working on this committee to supervise both our boys and girls in our church located activities, such as the ping-pong tournament held recently at our church. There has been skating and other activity during the winter months. We are looking forward to greater things during the spring and summer of 1971.

THE MISSION COMMITTEE, under the able direction of Albert Martin has been taking care of our jail services in Covington. Those participating in this effort in the past are: Albert Martin, John Patrick, Elza Dean, Harris Carpenter, James Newby, Robert Matteoli and Virgil Hensley. We encourage others to give of their time and talents for this mission endeavor.

THE MISSION COMMITTEE AND THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT co-sponsor mission work at the Kyles Lane TB Sanatorium each Sunday. We most certainly do appreciate the number who are so faithful to attend so regularly in these efforts for Christ.

Brother Gene Parker is the music director, and the pianists are Mrs. Katherine Hopperton, Margaret Kanatzar and Barbara Johnson. Those who give their time for these mission efforts are: Ray and Louise Mercer, Roy and Frances Beach, Anna Sorrell, Peggy Johnson, John Patrick, James Kanatzar, Willie Kidwell, John and Helen Goff, Robert Matteoli, and Pastor Johnson. Those who give of their time for mission efforts are rewarded in many blessings by making others happy in the Lord.

A YOUTH CHOIR is in the making at New Banklick Baptist Church. Yes, because of the demand by our teen-agers for a variety of musical interests, a YOUTH CHOIR is being started by Ray Mercer, recreation director.

WHAT IS HUMILITY?

Lesson for February 14, 1971

Background Scriptures: Luke 14:7-11

Jesus's parable about the places of honor at a banquet remind me of an experience I had a number of years ago. We were living in the suburbs of New York City at the time. A seminary classmate and his wife came to visit us and had but one request: they wanted to be in the audience for one of Jack Paar's Tonight shows.

In order to get there early enough to get good seats, I proposed taking a "short-cut" into the city to beat the traffic. Like so many best-laid plans of mice and men, this one went astray and we got to the studio just as the doors were closing. When we got inside it was obvious that there were no more seats available except for a front row reserved for V.I.P.'s.

The last were first.

My heart sank, but just then, the usher beckoned to us, leading us down to the front row of seats. I couldn't believe it: these were the best possible seats, just a few yards away from the performers. As we sat down, the crowd, knowing as we did that these seats are reserved for dignitaries, began to buzz excitedly with "I wonder who they are?"

Apparently the performers were just as confused for they too smiled and nodded at us. Mr. Hugh Downs came by our seats and chatted with us for a few minutes. Mr. Paar's guests on the show would from time to time direct their attention to us as if we were the sole audience and later, when Elsa Maxwell brought some food on stage, she brought some over to us, setting the studio audience to buzzing once again.

Often I have wondered why that usher did what he did with us that night. Perhaps he was one of God's angels sent to demonstrate anew that God often makes "the last" to be "first." My own best efforts to be "first" had ended in near disaster and it was only an act of grace that literally propelled us forward.

Humility and truth

From time to time we must be thus humbled before we learn to be truly humble. We must learn that we cannot make it through life on our own wit and righteousness. In fact, in addition to the fact that we cannot achieve moral perfection, God does not require it of us as a prerequisite to answering our prayers. CREATIVE PRAYER. The only demand God does make of us is humility, not perfection.

Often, then, the channel of grace is closed to us, not because we are sinners, but because we are not humble and, worst of all, we may not even know that we are not humble.

Inverted pride

So what is humility? St. Vincent de Paul says, "The reason why God is so great a lover of humility, is because he is the great Lover of Truth." St. Theresa puts it even more simply: "... it has always seemed to me that humility is simply truth." What God wants of us, then, is not modest lies or self-nutrition, but the truth. He wants us to be honest about ourselves. E. Herman says: "At least one-half of what we call humility, especially the habit of self-accusation and self-abasement which passes for a deep sense of sin, is the fruit of self-obsession."

Self-abasement may often be no more than an inverted pride. What God wants of us is simply the truth. It is both bad enough and good enough without distortion.

partment director. Any teen-ager between the ages of 13 and 20 years of age are eligible to enroll. This group will in no wise interfere with the present Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Frances Beach, Mrs. Jackie Grayson and Mrs. Katherine Hopperton. There are future plans to send this Youth Choir on tour this summer, if full cooperation of the youth and parents are given. There is also rumors about the possibility of organizing several Folk-Musicals using the Youth Choir members. If you are interested, why not see Ray Mercer and get your name in the pot now.

THE YOUNG MARRIED PEOPLE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS TEACHER, HERMAN SPADA, and wife, Wanda, have a new baby girl at their house. She is Jodi Sue, born on Tuesday, January 19, 1971, at St. Elizabeth Hospital, weighing in at six pounds, 13 ounces. Mother and babe doing well. Let us take this opportunity to encourage any of our young married people, up to ages 35, to visit this wonderful class if you do not have a church to attend. Brother Herman is an excellent Bible teacher and loved by everyone. We know if you come to visit, you'll want to stay. If you want to study the BIBLE then this is the class to join.

The motto of New Banklick Baptist Church is: "Enter to Worship—Depart to Serve." You are only a visitor once because you will want to come back for more of good Gospel preaching and singing. The pastor, James D. Johnson, extends a cordial welcome to anyone who does not have a regular church home.

Friend: So you and your son are carrying on the business together . . . Owner: Not exactly—I run the business and my son does the carrying on.

A TIME FOR LEARNING

These are the wonderful years, when there is so much to learn — and hours enough in which to learn it.

Youth has an unquenchable thirst for knowledge; also the desire, the capacity and the energy to absorb — if given even a little encouragement. But today, perhaps more than ever before in history, youth does need guidance.

Be sure the young people in your life have the opportunity to examine the whole picture. But in their search for the stars, don't let them forget the miracle of this planet upon which they live and its Creator.

Let them know their church.

A few farmers in 1970 produced corn with no-tillage in Boone County. Their reports in the main are very favorable. This practice of growing corn may be productive in the future.

As the demand increases for higher levels of crop production, conservation of soil and water resources becomes more important. The modern farmer must continually seek cultural practices which increase profits and at the same time conserve natural resources.

For these reasons, a relatively new production management system called "no-tillage" has been adopted by many corn producers and is receiving widespread attention from agricultural scientists.

No-tillage offers a decrease in labor costs and at the same time uses the soil and water resources more efficiently.

When one is trying to intensify crop production, a very important factor is more efficient use of water. No-tillage production is a positive step toward increasing water use efficiency and protecting the crop against short-term droughts. No-tillage increases the infiltration capacity of soils, hence, decreasing the amount of surface runoff and serving as a very effective erosion control measure.

The killed soil cover under no-tillage contains a dead air space that serves as an insulator. This surface mulch prevents some of the sunshine from reaching the soil and produces lower day soil temperatures under no-tillage than under bare conventional plots. This insulating effect also produces a slightly higher night time soil temperature. After the corn seedlings reach sufficient height to shade the ground the difference in soil temperature between no-tillage and conventional diminishes.

NEW DIMENSIONS IN BEAUTY by Alice Koscot

DEAR ALICE: I've been told to use a moisturizer, but I have oily skin. Do I need it?

A.J.: DEAR A.J.: Yes. Oily skins may also be thirsty for moisture. A coat of moisture lotion under make-up, and moisture cream at night. I like milk oil moisturizer; it pampers. Isn't great!

DEAR ALICE: My skin is not a pretty color. Make-up?

HELP! DEAR HELP: Try a base close to your skin color, sparingly. Overlay with a tone you like. Top with translucent powder.

DEAR ALICE: What hair-do please for small head, features? TINA.

DEAR TINA: Small hair-do with big impact. Sleek, close to head. Try a short, side-parted wig, synthetic, for variety and fun.

DEAR ALICE: I have a short neck. What necklines for me? B.N.

DEAR B.N.: Show more skin, via V-necks. Strive for vertical lines. Small, up-turned hair.

DEAR ALICE: What is best, loose or pressed face powders? S.N.

DEAR S.N.: Loose translucent powder to set make-up; pressed powder compact for touch-ups.

Bearcats Win and The Pioneers Lose

Basketball games were cancelled on Tuesday of last week, due to the snow. However, action was resumed last Friday night.

The Walton-Verona Bearcats entertained St. Thomas, and the 'Cats clung to their NKIAC lead, which they share with St. Henry, by defeating the visitors 89-60. The Bearcats are now 7-0 at home. They have five more conference games to play, four at home.

W.V. led throughout the contest, being in front 21-10 at the first period, 43-22 at the half, and 64-40 at the end of the third period.

For St. Thomas, Ryan had 11 points and Hafele added 10. The Bearcats put five men in double figures. Messmer led with 17 points, Goldsberry added 15, Sargent 14, and Ferguson and Ingram had 10 each.

The Pioneers didn't fare so well Friday. Campbell County, who had won five games in a row before last Tuesday night's loss at Highlands, got back on the positive side of things with an 86-72 victory at the Simon Kenton gym.

The winners led throughout, being in front 18-15 at the first quarter, 38-34 at halftime, and 61-48 at the third period.

Craig was the big gun for Campbell County, scoring 31 points. Morris added 16, Ballinger 15, and Anderson 13. Davis was tops for Simon Kenton with 31 big points, and Leistner added 16.

Body Management In At Beechgrove

Kenton County's Beechgrove Elementary School is the focal point of a new experiment in a program designed to discover physical deficiencies in a student.

Robert Taylor, Beechgrove principal, outlined the project called "body management."

In it a student is put through a series of simple exercises each morning to discover a lack of co-ordination, if any. Such defects are then compared with the child's academic achievements.

In tests thus far, teachers have discovered eye and ear problems which, in some cases, may be corrected with simple exercises. In other cases, more serious treatment may be required.

Failure to correct the deficiencies, Beechgrove teachers lag even though the student has high capabilities.

In recent weeks, members of the staff have observed similar classes in schools in Dayton, Ohio, where the program has been underway for several years with good results.

Staffordsburg Homemakers

The Homemakers Club of Staffordsburg met at the church February 2nd with Mrs. M. M. Mann as hostess.

When Mrs. L. J. Rapp went early to turn up the thermostat, she found the basement door blown open and the water pipes frozen. This was a bad situation, since the Oak Island Club were to be guests. However, most of the members were present.

The business meeting was field with Mrs. Rich asking for the devotion to be given by Mrs. Don Riddle, and based on the 23rd Psalm.

Mrs. F. Keeney reviewed the book, "TR" which is the life of Theodore Roosevelt.

Among the visitors were: Miss Elma Taylor, Mesdames Kathryn Gutteridge, Leontine Stephens, Elizabeth Barberick, Mary Jackson, R. R. Rector, Dorothy Ballinger, M. Noll, Dixie Dressman and children, F. Jackson, Alline Riddell and W. Huffaker.

Members were: Mesdames M. Mann, G. Rapp, E. Ware, F. Elam, V. Lynch, K. Wharton, B. Hill, D. Nitschke, P. Pepon and son, O. Shaw, M. Rich, S. Damico, F. Keeney, and a prospective new member, Mrs. R. Pitzer, and two children.

The lesson on annual flowers for the U. S. was given by Mrs. Paul Pepon, who showed some beautiful slides, loaned by U. K.

Social At Independence

The Altar Society of St. Cecilia Church, Independence, will sponsor a social on Wednesday, February 24, at 1:30 p. m., in the school hall.

Southern States Meeting Is Held In Louisville, Ky.

Southern States Cooperative's dollar volume, exclusive of grain marketing, for the first six months of the 197-71 fiscal year showed a 12 percent increase over the same period last year.

This information was contained in a report presented by John Henderson of Lexington, a regional manager of the cooperative, to members at a regional board meeting held in Louisville, February 10.

O. H. Campbell, Henderson, Ky., a director, presided at the session.

Attending the meeting from this area were Chris Combs, manager of Boone County Farm Supply, Walton, local Southern States retail outlet, and board members Denny Jones and Kline Menefee.

Volume for the organization, not including grain marketing, stood at $63,200,000 for the first half of the fiscal year, as compared to $56,300,000 a year ago.

HEART SUNDAY IS COMING UP

Volunteers are still needed for the Heart Sunday canvass which is to be conducted in Walton and Boone County as the high point of the 1971 Heart Fund Campaign here, it was announced by Marvin Kendall, Walton area chairman, and William Leicht, rural area chairman.

"So that everyone in the community will have a chance to give, we hope to enlist the services of men and women who can find time to call on a few neighbors to advance the most vital health crusade of our time," said Dr. Ferd Metzger, Florence, co-chairman of the 1971 Boone County Heart Fund campaign.

Boone County has a goal of $5,000 as its contribution to the fight against diseases of the heart and blood vessels said Mrs. C. E. Whalen, Florence, co-chairman. She emphasized that although the heart and blood vessels are now responsible for about 53 percent of all deaths in the nation, dramatic progress has been achieved since the onset of massive research programs begun in 1950, a year after the first heart fund campaign.

The Heart Fund campaign has been conducted throughout February, and reaches its climax with a residential visitation next Sunday—Heart Sunday!

Seven Safeguards Of Cancer Cited

Cancer killed nearly 330,000 Americans last year, and an even greater number will die of this disease in '71. Researchers seek clues to cancer's cause, physicians help cancer patients with increasingly effective treatment techniques. But still the figures rise. What else can be done to halt them?

"Every adult in Northern Kentucky can help," said Larry Newman, area director for the Northern Kentucky Unit of the American Cancer Society. Each of us has within himself the power to help cut down the number of cancer deaths in this area.

If cancer is detected and treated early enough, it is one of the most curable of diseases. There are seven safety measures and everyone can take advantage of them.

Newman detailed the seven safeguards: All adults can help guard against lung cancer by not smoking cigarettes; from skin cancer by avoiding over-exposure to the sun; from colon-rectum cancer by having a proct to every year, especially from the age of 40; from cancer of the mouth by having dental examinations regularly.

A woman can take two additional steps: To help protect herself from breast cancer, she should practice a breast self-examination each month, and for uterine cancer, she should have a Pap test each year. Finally, everyone should have an annual health checkup.

Church League Basketball Results

In the first game Saturday, the Methodists made the division closer by defeating the Christians, 81-69. G. J. Poore led the Methodists with 34 points, and Royce chipped in with 25. The Christians were led by Rick Stephens with 18. Holder, Noe and Mullins added 15 each.

The second game was won by the local Baptists, 2-0, over St. Patrick—the result of a forfeit.

The third encounter saw All Saints defeat the Church of Christ, 86-70. Bill Wethington led the winners with 31 points. Mike Rust and Mike Wethington added 13 each. Marcum was tops for the losers with 27, and Humphries added 20.

In the last game, Piner defeated Richmond, 77-66. Mattioli led the winners with 22 and Cook added 21. Jerry Feagan and Jim Houston led the losers with 17 and 15, respectively.

This week at 5:30, St. Cecilia plays the Church of Christ; at 6:45, Hickory Grove tangles with All Saints; at 8:00, St. Patrick plays Richmond, and at 9:15, New Bethel tangles with the Methodists.

The league is having a slight shortage of funds, and it would be appreciated if more people would come out and support their church team. Thank you!

NFO's Hog-Lift Is In High Gear

The NFO's commodity "lift" operations were overwhelmingly launched by delegates attending the recent National Convention of the National Farmers Organization in Louisville.

A statement from the organization's home office at Corning, Iowa, reports a flurry of preparations. According to the report, "The hog cattle and grain 'lift' structure was hammered out at a 3-day national board meeting and those plans were carried back home to the district level by directors. The 'lift' operation was then fine-tuned by a session of administrative leaders representing all 50 of NFO's marketing areas across the U. S. and scores of veteran action men that will make up the 'hog lift' staff personnel were briefed and assigned areas of responsibility."

Gene Potter, director of NFO's meat department, said, "We are now well into 'operation hog-lift' which is proving to be one of the most effective tools ever used by farmers to improve their general price levels."

"Operation hog-lift" is designed to disrupt normal market and supply patterns, which forces buyers to be more aggressive in an attempt to maintain their supply, thus increasing the general price level. It is expected that buyers will try to buy off NFO members for a few cents per hundredweight in an attempt to break up the volume moving through the collective bargaining structure.

The NFO policy has already caused considerable strengthening in the hog market.

What are the best annual flower varieties for Kentucky conditions. The answer is not as simple as some gardeners might think, says Dr. Darrell Apps of the University of Kentucky, where he is an Extension Specialist in Horticulture.

Dr. Apps presented a lesson on growing annual flowers to Boone County Homemakers Lesson Leaders recently. Annual flowers will be the topic studied by the club during the month of February.

Dr. Apps adds, "Our methods for growing flowers at the University often differ from those used by homeowners. We grow all our annuals in beds covered with black plastic for moisture retention and weed control. Usually, we think of this method as a cultural asset, but the plastic is just too hot for some plants. An example is the sweet alyssum varieties, which do very poorly in our garden. Home gardeners on the other hand, usually have much better luck with this plant.

Another danger in making recommendations is the fact that data from our Lexington location is not always applicable to all other areas of the state. We have many geographical areas in Kentucky with different soil types and weather conditions. Naturally, we expect different variety responses in different locations.

Keeping in mind these facts, we are nonetheless presenting to you some recommendations to help you select annuals based on trials in our Landscape Garden Center. Since the All America varieties are most advertised, we've objectively mentioned the selections and they merited for the last two years. Of the All America for 1970 and 1971, we're most impressed with Snapdragon "Little Darling." Frankly, the Peter Pan Zinnias have just not performed at Lexington; however, you should still try them. In fact, we'd be interested in hearing your results.

All America Selections for 1971 are as follows: Hibiscus "Southern Belle"; Hollyhock "Silver Puffs"; Snapdragon "Little Darling"; Zinnia "Peter Pan Pink" and "Peter Pan Plum."

For a list of other Meritorious varieties of annual flowers, please write or call the Extension Office, 586-6101 (Extensions 17 and 18), or Box 218, Burlington, Ky. 41005.

MANEUVERING IN WASHINGTON

M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman

Following immediately upon his State of the Union message, the President has begun an intensive campaign to persuade members of Congress to support his programs, or goals, during the next 2-year session. These meetings are for both Representatives and Senators, Republicans and Democrats.

The meetings, usually held at the breakfast hour, are led off by the President. During this period the President and three or four of his advisors sell—hard—the major points of the program. The length of time does not allow questions. These initial briefings are to be followed by further two-way exchanges.

The President appears to be intently determined that:

1—The Federal government must be transformed if national problems are to be solved.

2—Major changes must be made in the distribution, and utilization of Federal funds.

3—People must participate more widely and effectively in the resolution of national problems.

The President has taken a bold initiative in trying to guide his proposals through the Congress, but it is already obvious that partisan maneuvering has developed.

And, understandably, members of Congress are skeptical. We need to explore every possible weakness in the new proposals before endorsing them as individuals, committees, or political parties. However, I do believe that each of the proposals deserves a fair hearing—and that the pros and cons should be brought out loud and clear.

Congress must be convinced of the wisdom of a new approach to the present relationship between the Federal government and the states and localities. People generally realize that changes are needed to return constitutionally assured power to the states and localities. But the Federal government has a direct responsibility in many areas—such as the environment, crime, social security, highways and the like—which require a government-local partnership.

First and foremost, though, the taxpayer needs to be assured that whoever uses his money, uses it efficiently and—wisely.

COUNTY AGENT'S 1/2 ACRE

—by—
JOE CLAXON

Due to the uncertain future of the 1971 corn crop, brought on by the Southern Corn Leaf Blight situation, farmers are asking many questions on which we have no data to answer. This being the case, about the best we can do is offer some thoughts and suggestions concerning some cultural and fertility practices which may be helpful to corn producers about the 1971 corn crop. These are presented as guidelines and are not recommendations. What each farmer ultimately does will largely be dependent on how much risk he is willing to take on the 1971 crop, so these suggestions should be considered in terms of each farmer's individual program.

We don't think farmers should increase their plant populations for 1971 above that used in 1970. Final plant stands of around 16,000 to 18,000 plants per acre might be considered only if hybrid 100 percent N-cytoplasm seed is available. Keep in mind that a decrease in plant population will not result in straight line decrease in yield.

Indications are that the corn leaf blight fungus will overwinter in Kentucky and be present for the 1971 crop. For this reason, it will be very important to get a vigorous plant stand as early as possible. Early plantings have been shown to have a higher yield potential and if infection by the blight is slow or delayed, earlier plantings would have an advantage. Also, an earlier planting will give the grower a little more flexibility in deciding what to do if blight does become a problem by early summer.

On the whole, we don't think that fertilizer rates should be altered for 1971. This would especially be true with N-cytoplasm corn and blend corn with a high percent of N-cytoplasm (70 percent or above). Both types of corn have high yield potentials and should be fertilized accordingly. If a grower fertilized heavily with P-K last year and didn't harvest much corn due to blight and wonders if P-K should be applied this year, he should immediately pull a soil sample to determine the P-K levels in the soil. This will provide the best basis for deciding whether or not to fertilize with P-K for the 1971 crop.

The I In You

Time was when any young girl with beauty designs on herself was advised to emulate the models from the pages of the glossy magazines. As a result, there was an abundance of straight-haired, wide-eyed cardboard-stiff ingenue types running around. Words like "neat" and "keen" issued forth from their mouths in balloons.

Today (thank heavens . . . sigh), it's fashionable to be individual. If you have dark hair and an olive complexion, you don't have to spend your days wishing you were fair haired and rasy-cheeked. What the new individuality means is that not only can you be yourself (whoever that is), you can also be fifty other different people.

If you feel like playing Greta Garbo—in your own particular way—don a maxi trench coat, a knitted cloche or tailored poplin hat, let your hair hang down and slightly curved and accent your eyes with smoky Gray Reagirl eyeshadow. Want to try on a French impressionist image? Sweep your hair up in the washwoman style, slather on some Plum Tussy Eyeshadow, and don a softly clinging crepe dress. As you can see, cosmetics and fashion are all for you—whatever image you choose.

Is this type of image picking different from the old copycat emulation? You bet it is! Because you never lose sight of the real you—

PROFESSION AND PRACTICE
Lesson for February 21, 1971

Background Scripture: Matthew 7:21-29;
21:23-32

The famous British strongman,
Mr. Sandow of London, was once interviewed in his palatial gymnasium. He told a reporter: "People come to me with a blank check in their hands and say, 'I will pay you any fee you like, if you will produce for me a strong, healthy, young body,' and I say
'Excuse me!'—but then it turns out that I am to go into the gymnasium and swing dumbbells and do exercises on the Rev. Althouse floor, while they go away and eat and drink and smoke too much and keep late hours. Regrettably I tell them, 'It can't be done.'"

Knowing and doing

Isn't this what many physicians discover? People will come to them, willing to pay any amount of money to be rid of this or that ailment. Yet, when the doctor prescribes a special diet or a list of things they must avoid, they pay their money and go away doing as they please. Some even come back later and demand to know why they are not getting any better!

People often came to Jesus seeking his advice and help, yet, some of them, upon receiving what they asked for, decided they really didn't want it anyway.
That's the way it was with the rich young man whose "possessions were great." He wanted to know what to do, but when he knew, he did not do it.

This is often true of people in their relationship with God. We come to him with our problems and he tells us what to do, but, when we find out the truth, we decide we really don't want to do it. We may pray every day asking him to change our lives and then get up from our knees and go about the day's work resisting all opportunities to change. Then, when nothing happens, we may be incredulous "What! You mean after all this praying and going to church, you're not going to do what I ask?"

The real "believers"

There is a tremendous gap between profession and practice. It is so much easier to profess our "beliefs" for it seldom costs us much to say words, to make the right gestures. Most of us suffer nothing by professing the Christian faith. In fact, there are many communities where not being a church member is a distinct disadvantage.

Practicing Christianity, on the other hand, is a different matter.
Contrary to professing Christian beliefs, practicing them may cost us something. (In fact, one of my maxims is that if my practice of Christianity is costing me nothing or little, there must be something wrong with my Christianity!) This is why the Apostle James challenges us to be, not just "hearers of the word," but "doers."

Which of the two?

Jesus's words in Matthew 21:28-32 must have angered many of his listeners for he is suggesting that they are not "real believers."
They are like the son who says
"yes" to his father but doesn't do what he is supposed to do.
They profess their obedience, but do not practice it. They know the truth, but they do not do it.

On the other hand, he is saying, the tax collectors, prostitutes, and other disreputable people who are responding to him are like the son who says "no," but then does what he is asked to do.
Though they do not seem to be religious, they are the ones who really please God.

Who are the professing sons today? And who are the sons who really practice what God asks of them?

THE YOUTH are our main emphasis in the coming year. We find that very little is being offered to our young people today on their level.
Too much is in the offering that was fine a decade ago, but people have changed, and this change must be met to hold the attention of this Rocket Age set of youngsters today.
Programs must be planned around those things that interest them the most, but on a Christian basis. We of the New Banklick Baptist Church have found that our young people are being bypassed because we adults do no consider them ready for responsibility; however, the leaders and pastor of this church have observed that if you give your young people some responsible task to do, they will carry it through, even with greater fervor than we adults. May we give you an example:

THE RECREATION COMMIT-TEE recently added to their committee Mike Schader, one of our fine teen-agers of our church, who has just as much authority in the planning of youth activities as the adults. Brother Ray Mercer, Director of Recreation, reports that Mike is doing an excellent job. Recently the youth had a sledding party at the Frank Kidwells on Maher Road. There were over 52 persons of all ages to turn out to enjoy the fun and fellowship. There was a wonderful time of fun and snacking at the Frank Kidwells later. Everyone enjoyed a great time of fun.

THE RECREATION COMMIT-TEE is always open for suggestions for good Christian types of activities for the youth of our church and, with hopes for the many of our community who do not have a church home to attend.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT is having a special music program with the Junior Choir. Due to inclement weather the program had to be cancelled on Sunday night, February 7; however, if all goes well, it will be held on Sunday morning, Feb. 14.

These Junior members have worked long and hard to be able to sing for their parents and friends, and desire a nice hand of assurance and support.

THE INCLEMENT WEATHER has had a very broad effect on our overall church attendance. This was seen on Sundays, January 31 and February 7, due to the heavy snowfall.
The real bad snow storm that we had on February 8 put the brakes on many of the planned church activities for that week. But this should make us all appreciate more the beautiful sunshine which usually follows these winter storms. But when it is at all possible, and our roads are open, let us put all our energy to come to God's House on Sunday and worship Him in Spirit and in Truth. God will bless us, every one.

Putting Things In Order

In this age of medicare, social security and homes for the aged, sometimes people forget an important part of growing old—tranquility!

Yes, tranquility and peace are just as important in growing old gracefully as is sufficient insurance or all the other means with which we show our concern for the elderly.

Have you ever noticed that old people have a knack of putting things in order? In fact, they need everything tidy, neat and sure. Certainly their greatest need is for peace and security—but this can come only when they are at peace with God!

If we want to reap the harvest of friendship with God in our old age, then we must cultivate our relation with Him—when we are young and able.
Regular church attendance and worship is your assurance of peace and tranquility during your own gentle lengthening years. It will be a heaven-sent reward and one which you cannot, will not, want to miss.

The Eat-In Kitchen

The eat-in kitchen has a split personality: For people who are coping with small apartments the kitchen corner often provides the only eating place; yet for people living in houses, the eat-in kitchens are supplementary to formal dining areas.

Whether the eat-in kitchen is a separate corner table, a bar-like counter, or an island in the center of the room, it's the perfect place for feeding the young fry, or entertaining drop-in neighbors, or filling up the forever-snacking teenagers. While the general illumination for the room is usually perfectly adequate for seeing to dine by, it's much more pleasant to have separate lights just for the kitchen eating place. If the area is a separate table or nook, a generously scaled hanging fixture sets the table apart from the purely functional areas of the room. Such fixtures should provide upward light on the ceiling as well as downward light and whether chain-hung or equipped with a pull-down device it should be about 30 to 36 inches above the dining table.

Remedial Reading Class at Twenhofel

The Twenhofel Junior High PTA mothers have volunteered as aides for a newly formed remedial reading class, under the supervision of Mrs. Leonard Bullock, Kenton County Reading Supervisor. This class was organized to help students who have reading disabilities or reading problems.

Mrs. Bullock shares her time with seven different schools during the week. So far, Twenhofel has 10 mothers and 25 pupils. Individual help is given to each pupil. Its non-graded approach permits each child to work on his own reading level and to succeed according to his ability. The material must be written for his age level and should be a subject area in which the student has a real interest to create a desire to read.

There is a wide variety of materials used to achieve reading goals. Some are individualized reading books, GRA reading laboratories, flash cards, new phonics skill texts, visual aids, films, library books, etc.

The following are helpers at Twenhofel: Mrs. J. W. Harrell, Mrs. Bob Simpson, Mrs. William Campbell, Mrs. Ernest Prince, Mrs. Hubert Brewer, Mrs. Virgil Rust, Mrs. Herbert Works, Mrs. P. T. Gray, Mrs. Wayne Riley and Mrs. Curtis Noem.

Anyone wishing to help in this class work may contact Mrs. Bullock at 384-3683, or Mrs. Noem at 356-2630.

There will be carry-outs, but you must come and get them. There are also tickets on sale now.

Everyone is invited, so bring the whole family and invite a friend or a neighbor or a lot of friends and neighbors, and have a Sunday feast!

The Wool Support Prices Announced

The incentive price for shorn wool has been set at 72 cents a pound for the 1971 marketing year, according to J. Lassing Huey, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee in Boone.

Mr. Huey said the Agricultural Act of 1970 extended authority for the wool support program through Dec. 31, 1973. The new legislation amends the National Wool Act by requiring that support prices shall be at the announced levels for each of the three marketing years through the end of 1973.

The chairman reminded producers that shorn wool payments will be based on each producer's returns from sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers from shorn wool up to the announced incentive price of 72 cents a pound.

Mr. Huey said payments to producers on 1971 calendar year marketings will be made beginning in April of 1972.

FOUNDERS DAY AT TAYLOR MILL PTA

The February meeting of the Taylor Mill PTA convened Monday evening, February 15, at 7:30 p. m., with Mrs. Richard Howard presiding.

Mrs. Bill Batson, Founders Day Chairman, presented the program, with Lois Riley, Rick Howard, Sheila Ruff and Tony Wilson presenting a delightful and informative sketch about the history of the PTA.

Mrs. Batson introduced the past presidents who were present: Mrs. Malcolm Fletcher, Mrs. David Waring, Mrs. Clifford Williams, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. James Feagins, and Mrs. Arthur Bingham.

Mrs. Stephen Massey, a first grade teacher, was presented a Life Membership.

The following members attended the Sixth District PTA Mid-Winter Conference: Mrs. Richard Howard, Mrs. Elmer Lea and Mrs. Donald Wilson.

Following the meeting a Silver Tea was held in the cafeteria with the past presidents serving.

INTEREST RATE DROP FELT BY SCHOOL SYSTEM

The interest rate drop on short-term government securities has been felt by the Kenton County school system.

Board members were informed by Supt. R. C. Hinsdale and Asst. Supt. Donald Davis that anticipated return on funds invested prior to their use to pay bills is now $59,000, a decline of approximately $4,000.

They pointed out that government securities were purchased in January, 1970, at a return of 7.7 percent. Last month similar securities were paying 4.2 percent.

It has been the policy of the board to invest money as it is received, thus getting the taxpayer an added return on his money.

BASKETBALL TOURNEY AIDS MANY SPORTS

The state high school basketball tournament is the source of funds to stage a variety of athletic events in the minor sports across Kentucky.

Such was the report given by Donald Davis, assistant superintendent of the Kenton County school system, to the Covington Optimist Club. Mr. Davis is president of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

Last year, the Kenton County educator said, the tournament realized $238,000. After tournament costs were paid, the money went for operating expenses and the support of state-wide competition in tennis, golf, swimming, cross country, wrestling, and other sports.

Mr. Davis also said that the KHSAA is constructing a new building on the University of Kentucky campus to replace the present office which has been purchased by the University. Its cost, he added, also will be paid out of tournament receipts.

PTA Membership Drive Is A Success at Piner

This year, the Piner PTA gave $5 to each teacher that was 100 percent, and for 50 extra members they could receive $3.00 more. The money was to be used for whatever the teachers and students thought their room needed most.

Teachers and students really took an interest and the Piner PTA is happy to report that all 14 rooms were 100 percent, with six rooms having 100 percent plus 50 or more extras.

Mrs. Lockard, Miss Roberts, Miss Huffman, Mrs. Stephenson, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Combs, Miss Morris, and Mr. Bradbury received checks for $5.00 each. Mrs. Steinhauer, Mrs. Stahl, Mrs. Cummins, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Bridges, and Miss Ackman received checks for $8.00 each.

The Piner PTA has a total of 561 members. The PTA wishes to thank everyone who joined and made this record possible.

Twenty-eight students have been named to the dean's list for the 1970 fall term at the University of Kentucky College of Nursing.

Basketball Nearing The End of The Line

To Crown King and Queen

Friday evening, February 28 will be the last home basketball game of the season for the Walton-Verona Bearcats. The locals will play Covington Latin. This is also the night for the crowning of the Basketball King and Queen. Following the game, there will be a dance sponsored by the W/V Student Council. Music will be provided by the Minny Borogoves. Admission is $1.00. The dance will be from 9:30 until 12:00.

Simon Kenton 48, St. Henry 46

Defense was the name of the game as Simon Kenton of the NKAC defeated St. Henry, 48-46, last Tuesday at Independence.

After St. Henry grabbed a 5-point first period lead, Simon Kenton gained a 7-point advantage in the second period to offset the Crusader lead, and this proved to be the difference.

Greg Halderman of the winners led the scorers with 18 points. Bob Risenbeck had 16 for St. Henry, which is tied for first place in the NKAC. For the losers, Ives added 12 points, and Robinson 12.

In the reserve game, St. Henry was the winner, 34-32.

Walton-Verona 91, Bishop Brossart 52

Walton-Verona limited Bishop Brossart to a pair of field goals in the opening period and went on to a convincing 91-52 victory over Brossart, last Friday night at Alexandria, in the NKAC. The victory was the 9th in ten league games and the 19th of the season for the Bearcats.

The winners placed 12 players in the scoring column with Gary Ingram leading the way with 18 markers. Ferguson and Huffman added 13 each and Ramsey 10. Roger Bruener led the losers with 15, and Wolfzorn was good for 11.

The Walton-Verona reserves won their game by a 48-27 score.

Simon Kenton 87, Bellevue 83

Bellevue's Tigers continued to lose the close ones by dropping an 87-83 decision to Simon Kenton, last Friday, in the NKAC, at Bellevue.

A 26-point third period provided the Pioneers with the victory after Bellevue had come out of the first half with a seven-point lead.

Top scorers for the winners were Davis with 21, Leistner 20, Halderman 17, and Rust 16. Utz poured in 35 points for the losers, and Gregory added 15.

The Bellevue reserves won the opening contest, 71-53.

Walton-Verona To Increase Its Distributive Education

The Walton-Verona Board of Education has voted to increase the high school distributive education program.

Mrs. Jackie Wallace, of Dry Ridge, has been employed as speech therapist one day each week for the remainder of this term in connection with the program.

Mrs. Lois Jean Barker, of Verona, was employed as teacher aide for distributive education.

Supt. Earl C. Roberts said the school's distributive education program is now eligible for federal aid.

Church League Basketball Results

In the first game Saturday night, the Church of Christ defeated St. Cecilia, 66-60. Lockard and Butler led the winners with 17 points each. Heuser and Powers were high for the losers with 15 each.

In the second game Hickory Grove came from behind to defeat All Saints, 76-69. Mastin had 28 points for the winners, while Janeway chipped in with 21. Bill and Mike Wethington led the losers with 19 and 15 points, respectively.

In the last game the Methodists defeated New Bethel, 86-73. G. J. Poore led the winners with 37 points, and Lloyd Poore added 20. Chipman led New Bethel with 25 and Littrell added 19.

This week at 5:30, St. Cecilia plays the Methodists; at 6:45, the Church of Christ meets St. Patrick; at 8:00, Walton Baptist goes against Walton Christian, and in the finale, at 9:15, Piner plays All Saints.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP GIVEN MRS. WHITE

A Life Membership pin was presented to Mrs. Wanda Jo White at the February meeting of the Kenton Elementary PTA. This is the highest honor a unit can bestow and the money from it goes into a scholarship fund which is available to all teachers and future teachers. Mrs. White was chosen for this honor because of her willingness to serve the PTA and the school in any capacity. She is a sixth grade teacher and has held several offices and chairmanships in years past.

Founders Day was also observed with four of the past presidents in attendance: Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Willard Slade, Mrs. Johnny Armstrong and Mrs. James Whitaker. They were each given a gift by Mrs. Eugene Zornes, who conducted the program. Following the meeting, a Silver Tea was held in the school cafeteria.

The Simon Kenton FHA Holds Scholarship Week

February 8-12 was Scholarship Week for the Simon Kenton Chapter FHA. Monday was to begin "Prince and Princess;" Tuesday was to be "Bushels of Money"—but we did not get to continue with these because we were not in school due to weather. Wednesday we had a bake sale, which turned out very well; Thursday we had a contest for the boy with the biggest mouth, and Friday was a contest for the girl with the biggest mouth. Monday through Friday of the week was the contest for Prince and Princess.

We would like to thank all of the teachers and students for helping to make the week a success.—Vickie Vastine, Reporter

Plan Aid to Combat Food Deficiencies

The Boone County Extension Service is joining other counties in Kentucky and across the Nation in an effort to combat nutritional deficiencies of low income people. Extension assistants who are para-professionals hired to work directly with families, will attack the problems of poor nutrition and other related problems.

The Foods and Nutrition program, sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has proven itself highly successful in the two years that it has been in effect. Several of the surrounding counties have participated in the program and have had outstanding results.

The Extension assistants are being hired at the present time. If you are a woman who would be truly interested in working with disadvantaged families, please contact Mrs. Nancy Norman, County Extension Agent for Home Economics, at 586-6101. There are no educational requirements, just the dedication to the purposes of the job. The Extension Service will give the assistants the training required for the job. In keeping with the theme of helping people help themselves, St. Elizabeth Hospital has opened a first aid station in Covington's Model City neighborhood.

Purpose of the station, according to Sister Dolores Marie Wuecker, RN, co-ordinator, is as much to assist in health instruction as to render first aid treatment.

Youth Involved In America's Future

Not all of America's youth are trying to tear down the country just to get back at the people who have authority!

There are 450,000 young men that are trying to build a better America by getting involved and trying to change this country by use of the present laws and understanding.

These young men belong to the National Organization of Future Farmers of America or better known as the FFA.

These young men believe that America can and will hold true to the best traditions of our national life.

Every year there are over 11,000 FFA members from all 50 states and Puerto Rico going to Kansas City, Mo. Prominent leaders in business, industry, government and foreign countries are also present to pay tribute to "The Boys In The Blue Jackets."

I hope the people in America will join the Future Farmers of America in observing National FFA Week on February 20-27.—Ed Cummins

The past presidents were honored with each one present receiving a carnation from a beautiful bouquet.

Mrs. Roberta Steinhauer was also honored by being presented a life membership in the Kentucky Congress of PTA. She has been a very faithful and dedicated teacher for many years.

A film, "What the PTA Is All About," was shown. This was very informative.

Brother Cressy dismissed the meeting with a word of prayer.

Refreshments were served and all had an enjoyable evening.—Pub. Chr.

Home Agent's Party Line

By Nancy Norman

Rising prices concern everyone, and the food budget is often examined for possible savings. Shrewd shopping if combined with a sense of value can lead to savings, but what you do with the food you purchase is also important. Here you'll find tips for saving both ways.

While keeping a sharp eye on the budget, it's essential to serve tasty, nutritious and attractive meals. Always shop with nutrition in mind—try to get as much nutrition as possible for the money you spend.

Here are some hints for smart shopping:

*Advance planning can mean the difference between high cost and economical meals. Plan menus for a week at a time, and shop for staples no more than once a week. Frequent trips to the grocery store lead to impulse buying—and higher food bills.

*Newspaper food ads give information on sales that can mean savings and ideas for menus (thrifty meals need not be dull). If the store is conveniently located and you have storage space for sale items, you can save money. But don't buy anything just because it's on sale. If your family won't eat it, it isn't a bargain!

*Make out a complete shopping list, but be flexible. If you find a better buy at the store, substitute. Add items to the list as you use them through the week, saving cost (in terms of impulse buying) "emergency trips" to the market.

*Arrange your shopping list according to the layout of your store, saving time and steps. Get to know your store and its contents. Find out which days offer the best selections of meats and fresh produce.

*Become familiar with brand names so you can recognize price changes. A price increase in one brand may indicate that you should compare brands and perhaps switch to a lower-priced brand. A price decrease may suggest a quantity purchase if you have sufficient storage space and can use the item.

*Read labels to learn quality, size and weight. You needn't buy fancy grades of canned fruits and vegetables, especially for combinations such as stews, casseroles, fruit pies or cobblers. Lower grades are equally nutritious, and the flavor may be just as good as in higher grades.

*Buy by weight rather than by volume, package size or number for better value comparison. For example, buy bread and fresh produce by the pound.

*Compare costs of different forms of foods (fresh, canned, frozen, dried, etc.). To determine the best buy, divide the price by the number of servings. The lower price per serving is the thriftiest choice.

*When buying meats, cost per serving, not cost per pound, is the best measure of value. For example, a boneless roast yields more servings per pound than a bone-in roast, and the cost per serving may be less, even though the cost per pound is higher.

*You can cut food costs in other ways. Improper storage and discarded leftovers are a prime cause of waste, thus of higher food costs. To avoid unnecessary spoilage and waste, store food promptly and properly when you return from shopping.

Managers, Coaches Needed

The Walton-Verona area needs managers and coaches for the Knothole baseball teams. There are more boys wanting to play every year, with only four or five men willing to manage.

The "A" league, "D" major and minor need managers, and the minor has enough boys for possibly three teams.

If you are interested, contact Lloyd Poore, 485-7196, or George Anderson, 485-7361, for more information.

AND THEN?

Lesson for February 25, 1971

Background Scriptures: Matthew 6:19-34; Luke 12:13-21.

In the motion picture, The Fortune Cookie, there's a scene in which Jack Lemmon's screen brother-in-law wants to buy a new car with the anticipated proceeds of an accident insurance policy on Mr. Lemmon. But Lemmon asks whether they shouldn't wait until the insurance money starts to come in.

Rev. Althouse lions of dollars of space hardware off the pad, do you think they pay cash? Everything's done on a Diner's Club card!"

The credit-card society

The claim is not too far-fetched. I recently made a trip and discovered in arriving at the air terminal that I had forgotten my money, my traveler's checks, and my ticket. If I were to go back home for these items, I would miss my flight. So I took a chance and with one credit card traveled about 1,500 miles, stayed overnight in a motel, provided all my meals, and purchased some merchandise — all without any cash or checks! We are becoming a credit-card society.

We are also increasingly a materialistic society. A man in a restaurant called the attention of a friend to a heavy-set man who was writing down his order from a menu. "Look," he said, "that man is writing his autobiography from a menu." That may seem unfair judgement, but it is certainly an accurate appraisal of some of us today: the god we worship is the Appetite, the alter of the Open-Mouth, the idol of the Well-Stuffed Man.

As Paul put it, the real enemies of God have their minds set "on earthly things." We are an avaricious society that is gulping down material goods at a rate which they cannot be digested.

Perishable wealth

Jesus frequently warned men about materialism. It was one of his most frequent subjects. Be careful of the kinds of treasure you attempt to pile-up for your selves. They won't last. Why? Because material wealth is perishable.

Jesus singles out three different kinds of material wealth. First, there is the kind that, like expensive clothing, will wear-out or is in danger of being eaten by moths. This kind of treasure, regardless of how beautiful it may appear when it is new, will not last forever. (Have you ever seen in a museum a once-beautiful piece of clothing that is one or more centuries old?)

There is a second category of material wealth. These are the goods that erode or rust in time. Bright and shiny when they are new, they do not remain bright and shiny. Years go by and we wonder what ever attracted us to them in the first place. They do not stay valuable.

A third type of material good is the kind that like money may be stolen. Material wealth is particularly vulnerable to theft. Recent newspapers have described the frustration of a number of wealthy actresses who have been robbed of their jewelry. The effect of these crimes is to discourage them from either owning or wearing them.

Beyond our wealth

William Barclay reports a conversation between a young man and an older man. "I will learn my trade," says the young man. The older man replies, "And then?" "I will set up in business." "And then?" asks the older man. "I will make my fortune." "And then?" "I suppose that I shall grow old and retire and live on my money." "And then?" "Well, I suppose that some day I will die." "Once more: 'And then?'"

We must remember that there is always a "And then?"

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL AWARD FOR ATTENDANCE has thus far been tied by the Youth Department and the Pre-School and Children's Departments, with an average of 34 percent attendance. (The weather has been a deterring factor in these grades.) We would enjoy seeing an increase in our Adult Department, especially in our Young Married Class. We believe that if we put more action to our prayers (James 2: 14-20; 4:1-3) we will enjoy our Christian Walk (Eph. 5) and will find ourselves doing more for Him who died for us that we might live and have everlasting life (John 3:16).

THE JUNIOR CHOIR had their fellowship supper on Wednesday evening, February 10. The sponsors were Mrs. Jackie Grayson, Mrs. Francis Beach and Mrs. Katherine Hoppert. A wonderful time was had by all who did come.

A SPECIAL VISITATION PROGRAM HAS BEEN STARTED BY THE CHURCH, and is called the "Bus Visitation Program." It's main emphasis is on getting people to attend our church who live on our two bus routes. Over ten people have covenant with the Lord to become active in this ministry. We believe that it is just a matter of time before New Banklick Baptist Church will not be able to hold those who attend our Sunday School and Worship hours. We are certainly putting a lot of prayer time in this new visitation program that has been undertaken by this special concerned group of Christians. To God goes the glory.

THE NEW YOUTH CHOIR OF TEEN-AGERS recently organized is still looking (at the time this article was written) for a dedicated music leader who have the talent to organize and lead this fine group of boys and girls in this Christian emphasis. We just know that any such dedicated effort will be greatly rewarded in the future with great new leadership in our Church (Churches).

WE ANNOUNCE OUR HOME-COMING IN ADVANCE for your convenience that you might put the date and other data on your calendar of activities. The date is Sunday, September 26, 1971. Our preacher for the day will be former pastor, Rev. Don Davidson. The music will be supplied by the Southern-Aires Quartet, and the New Banklick Baptist Choirs (all age groups). There will be a dinner on the grounds served around one o'clock. Just bring a dish of your favorite food and come and enjoy the day with us. Brother Davidson will be preaching at the eleven o'clock hour. More about the Homecoming from time to time will be presented in the Walton Advertiser and Western Recorder.

OUR ASSOCIATIONAL LEADERSHIP READINESS CLINICS will be held on March 1-2, 7:00-9:30 p.m., Erlanger Baptist Church, 116

Commonwealth Avenue, Erlanger, Ky. There will be areas where all members of the Church Council should profit: 1. PLANNING—To recognize the need for planning in time to get in action for the New Year, 1971-72. 2. RESOURCES—To become familiar with 1971-72 program and know what basic material will be needed. The age-division leadership should profit in these areas: 1. KNOW HOW—Each will be better prepared to serve after studying the book prepared for his age division. 2. COMMITMENT—To receive inspiration to be a better leader and to join with others to cause your church to strengthen its ministry. Those recommended to attend from our church are: The pastor, Herman Spada, Francis Beach, Harold Callen, Dewey Switzer, Mary Johnson, Gene Parker, Albert Martin, Ray Mercer, Diane Schader, Verna Brewster, and Louise Mercer.

After a man has been married five years, he celebrates his wooden anniversary; ten years his tin; 15 his crystal; 25 his silver; 50 years his golden; 75 years his diamond. In other words, he is rewarded according to the suffering he has endured.

THE SHINING GOAL

It's a long hike! Traveling to our goal can take a lifetime, but it's worth it. Every morning we start out on another stage of the journey, and it's up to us how much we accomplish before nightfall.

What is the goal? What is our highest peak of spiritual development? What are the rewards? All the things we long for — peace of mind . . . perfect freedom . . . contentment . . . happiness.

Many are still struggling through the forests of unbelief and despair. Some are lost and confused in the mists of doubt. Others are already climbing the foothills of hope. Many of us will reach the summit if we pray constantly for help and strength.

The Christian scriptures are your infallible guidebook, and the Christian Church offers you a place of spiritual refreshment along life's road. Attend church this Sunday, and continue your journey with a lighter burden . . . and a lighter heart.

INDOCHINA

by

M. GENE SNYDER

U. S. Congressman

4th District, Kentucky

To date there has been very little reaction in Washington to the military operation undertaken by the South Vietnamese in Laos. Except for the antics of a few hardcore "student" demonstrators and the inevitable hand-wringing, in polite circles, about widening the war in Indochina, there has been no outburst such as the ones we saw following the Cambodian raid last May—yet. Even the President's most vocal critics in the Senate have been untypically quiet.

This reserve about attacking the President's powers as Commander-in-Chief seems to stem from the measurable results of the Cambodian operation. It was successful in cutting Hanoi's seaborne supply line and produced a subsequent reduction of North Vietnamese military pressure against our troops in the lower two-thirds of South Vietnam. It left the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos as the only supply route and privileged sanctuary for the men and material headed south to the communist forces fighting in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

Now the obvious intent is to cut this remaining supply line, and if possible, keep it cut. The reason for the attention to this remote area is that it is a unique and irreplaceable lifeline for Hanoi's insidious ambitions in Indochina. Cut this lifeline, even temporarily, and Hanoi must take the hardest kind of look at their warring potential and future prospects. What their response to the threat will be is uncertain.

There is always an inherent risk in such a bold operation as our allies have undertaken but even a partial success can only result in insuring the speeding up of our troop withdrawal schedule.

It promises even more than that. If the South Vietnamese are able to cut and hold the trail, or to fight and defeat a numerically superior force, or even if the enemy refuses to fight under the circumstances, the success of our Vietnamization program is assured by the marking of the most dramatic decline of the North Vietnamese fighting power and an equivalent improvement in the military potential of the South Vietnamese army.

This is an operation that should have taken place long ago. It could be responsible for not only our successful troop withdrawal but could bring an effective end to the war in most of Indochina.

COUNTY AGENT'S 1/2 ACRE

—by—

JOE CLAXON

The shift from an agricultural to an urban way of life has brought us incomparable material prosperity. But progress exacts its price—for many people the world of field and forest is nearly a closed book.

Nature belongs in our lives, not as an occasional luxury, but as part of our inherent biological need. Over the centuries, for example, poets and mystics have drawn countless metaphors from nature to explain the workings of the human mind and soul. Wise men of many cultures and religions have periodically retreated to the "wilderness" to regain their intellectual and spiritual strength. More recently, biological and social scientists have stressed the importance of direct contact with nature for psychic health.

Despite this vital need, many citizens of city and town dwell in concrete and asphalt canyons, their lives not nourished by a blade of grass, much less a monarch tree. And with each passing year, expanding megalopolis claims ever more open space for homes, factories, airports and roads.

We should plant all available space: in street triangles, in backyards, on window sills, on roof tops, along the highways. The more grass, flowers, vegetables, shrubs and trees we plant, the more we do to arrest the pollution of air, water and earth.

Perhaps most important of all, we should involve children and thereby sow some seeds for healthier and more humane surroundings tomorrow. Working with children, parents and teachers can instill compassion and concern for growing things. Many children who help tend a garden perceive the unity of life, thus fostering an ecological conscience—a vital trait when their generation assumes its civic role.

Today there is much clamor about repairing the damages wrought against our natural heritage. Too often, however, sincere concern stops at protest or mere rhetoric; people fail to realize that this immense task calls for personal responsibility. Every citizen, whether townsman or countryman, must care and be involved. Let's start in our own backyards.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

Quite a different climate from last time I wrote the news. We can't expect it to last but it is so pleasant to get out of doors without being muffled to ones ears.

Several of the women of the Homemakers Club met at Mrs. Marie Rich's on Thursday afternoon to work on a civic project.

We were very glad to welcome Mr. Carsee Brinkley home from the hospital where he had been for a couple of weeks.

The last word we had from Randall Wagner was that the treatments are quite hard on him. We hope and pray that they may prove effective.

We were pleased to have a talk on Friday evening with W. L. Stephens, who is visiting his mother for a few hours on the weekend.

I am enjoying a few days visiting with my daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Klette.

William Gadker, who came to the funeral of his sister, visited awhile with his old neighbor, Mrs. Caroline Armstrong before returning to his home in Hollywood, Fla.

(Delayed from Last Week)

We regretted to learn of the death of Clifford Lipscomb, who had been born and reared in this community. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Helen West and Mrs. Mahc Wehrmuth.

We were glad to have visiting in the neighborhood last week, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Green and children, now of New Lenox, Ill. They visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Keeney, Miss Helen Richardson.

We heard of an accident which caused Mrs. Cliff Coleman to have a broken arm.

George Fennell, Jr., his brother, Ralph, and son, Glenn, attended a machinery show in Louisville, recently.

Mrs. C. S. Rapp and daughter, Mrs. Duff, were shopping in Covington, one day recently.

Carsee Brinkley is feeling better.

Doctor to portly patient: Follow this diet, and in a couple of months I want to see three-fourths of you back here for a checkup.

Frontier Worlds A "Dead Duck"

First, we heard it on a TV newscast last Saturday evening, and then read the article in the Sunday Enquirer that Fess Parker had abandoned the Frontier Worlds project near Walton, at the junction of I-75 and I-71.

Many local people have been skeptical from the start, and the rest were just hopeful that this would come to pass.

This turn of events is typical for the Walton area. For 50 years we have heard of this or that that was coming to the area, and to date, none ever developed.

C. B. Deters, Northern Kentucky realtor, was quoted by the newspaper as saying that other interests now hold the 800 acres, the identity of whom he was not at liberty to disclose. It seems they are considering developing an industrial park on the site. Deters also said he understood there was also some effort on the part of Kentucky to develop the area as a state park.

Parker, it is said, blamed the development of the Taft Broadcasting King's Island amusement park near Kings Mills, Wyren County, Ohio, for the cancellation. However, we believe that scarce money and high interest rates had more to do with it. Because, if we remember correctly, the Ohio venture was under way when Fesspar started to buy ground for the proposed local park.

Property owners in the area did benefit by selling their farms at a high price, and this is good. But on the other hand, it caused prices generally to go up and we suspect that several land owners will have to do a heap of farming to get their money back on recent purchases.

Well, so much for Frontier Worlds—it did sound good!

Emberton Speaks At Lincoln Dinner

Tom Emberton of Edmonton, Ky., contender for the governorship of Kentucky on the GOP ticket, was the guest speaker at the Boone County Republican Club Lincoln Day Dinner, Tuesday, February 23, at the Hungry Jack Smorgasbord, Florence. In attendance with him were his wife, Julia, and Secretary of State Kenneth Harper of Lakeside Park.

In honoring the nation's Civil War President, Emberton pointed out that Lincoln faced many difficult problems as we are facing today. "But a gain it's going to take a reeducation of our people to overcome them."

A larger than capacity dinner crowd swelled the dining room for the occasion, one of the best-attended in Boone County GOP history. The dinner was planned and arranged by Mrs. Harry Daugherty, Mrs. John Schram and Mrs. R. C. Brakfield.

The master of ceremonies for the affair was Don Brown, Florence, current president of the Republican Club.

The Pioneers trailed for the first half but moved to the front in the third period and clinched the game with a 22-point final period.

Mike Perry starred for Owen County with 30 points, and Steve Miller added 15. Rust added 16 for Simon Kenton, Haynes 13, and Halderman 12.

Telephone Usage Increases In 1970

The average Cincinnati Bell customer placed more local calls and talked longer in 1970 than ever before, President W. J. Whittaker revealed in the phone company's annual report to share owners.

These changes in calling habits resulted in an increase in our investment in facilities and switching equipment just to provide for the increased usage of the telephone, Mr. Whittaker said.

Demands for telephone service, the report stated, were affected by the softness of the national economy. During the year Cincinnati Bell added 26,291 telephones, compared with 38,298 additional phones for the preceding year. Telephones in service at the end of 1970 totaled 872,019.

Construction expenditures during the past year amounted to $45.7 million. This brought the total investment for plant at the end of the year to $369,821,000.

Operating revenues reached $113,880,000, up $12.5 million, while operating expenses climbed nearly $9 million to $73,666,000. Earnings per share amounted to $3.80, up 36 cents per share from 1969.

Brown Is Candidate For Representative

Donald L. Brown, 1 Yealey Drive, Florence, a long-time figure in Northern Kentucky politics, has announced his intention to run for the Kentucky State Legislature on the Republican ticket in this county. He noted that for the first time in history Boone County is virtually assured of having its own legislator.

His family is steeped in Boone County tradition. His great-grandparents, the Houstons, the Stephensons and the Rogers, were all early settlers in the county, and his other great-grandparents, the Browns, moved here from Owen County.

Upon returning home from World War II, he took up farming near Burlington, and married the former Frances Ruth Walton, Florence, in 1947. They have three children: Gregg, 20; Kathy, 16, and Todd, 9.

For the last 11 years he has been employed by Budig Trucking Co. He is now also associated as a real estate salesman with Brophy Real Estate and Insurance. He is a member of Local 100, International Teamsters Union, and a member of Greenville Baptist Church, Florence.

He is presently a member of the Boone County GOP Executive Committee and President of the Boone County Republican Club, one of the founders of this organization.

There will be door prizes, a bake sale, home made candy, snacks and soft drinks. A program to be enjoyed by parents and students. Tickets will be available at the door.

On UC's Dean's List

Paul E. Dieterlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Dieterlen, Route 5, Covington, was named to the dean's list in his first quarter as a University of Cincinnati College of Engineering student with an average of 4.0.

He was graduated from Simon Kenton High School in 1970.

"I see by the paper," said a matron having her third cup of coffee, "where a woman sued a doctor for operating on her husband. 'That's ridiculous,' said her girl friend 'What was the charge?' 'Opening her male.'"

Studying Northern Kentucky Ski Slope

It is entirely possible Kentucky's snow skiers will not need to drive several hours to their favorite slope next year for the privilege of enjoying the alpine sport.

According to Parks Commissioner S. W. Palmer-Ball, a major ski slope, the state's first, may be in operation next season in Northern Kentucky.

Preliminary analysis completed by Sno-Engineering, Inc., of Franconia, New Hampshire, report two parks, Big Bone Lick State Park in Boone County and General Butler State Park in Carroll County, have sites suited for intermediate slopes of moderate difficulty.

Big Bone has greater crowd potential because of its proximity to the markets of Covington, Newport, and Cincinnati, but General Butler has slightly longer and steeper slopes, the report said.

Next step toward reality in establishing a winter playground in Northern Kentucky is a climatological report to be furnished by Joel Meyers, a specialist in area weather surveys, by March 31.

Although snow machines would be necessary to operate slopes at either proposed location, the engineering firm advised Parks officials both real snow, and moderately cold temperatures would be required in addition to the artificial surface.

The Pap Test

The Pap test is a quick, simple, painless test for uterine cancer. The American Cancer Society says this early detection technique could help save your life.

RESOLUTIONS BACK BURLEY POUNDAGE

Kentucky's General Assembly has gone on record as supporting burley allotments on a poundage, rather than acreage, basis.

Resolutions of approval were steered through the Senate and House last week by Senator Tom Harris and State Representative W. J. Louden, Carroll County Democrats.

The resolutions were designed to be used this week at a congressional hearing in Washington. Copies were sent to the congressional committee on agriculture and the Kentucky congressional delegation.

The Legislature's resolutions were identical, and pointed out the annual cash income from burley at $300 million to 20,000 Kentucky families annually.

WHITE'S TOWER PTA

The White's Tower Elementary School PTA held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, February 18, at 7:30 p. m., in the school cafeteria, with Mrs. Joseph Cadd presiding.

Donald Johnson of the John Shillito Company, showed a film on shoplifting, "The Silent Crime," which was followed by a question and answer session.

The newly purchased silver tea service was used to serve the Silver Tea as part of the Founders Day observance. Past presidents were honored and presented a gift from the school PTA.

Mrs. Virginia Noem was presented a lifetime membership.

ULH&P GAS REFUNDS

The Union Light, Heat and Power Company is refunding $55,192 to its 55,900 gas customers in Northern Ky.

The amount of refund will be deducted from each customer's bill, and will be based on the amount of gas each customer uses. For example, a residential customer who uses gas for home heating will receive about four cents per month. The refunding will be in effect until all of the $55,192 is returned.

More than $53,000 of the amount is a refund ULH&P has received from a major gas supplier and is passing along to customers. The remainder is the result of a rate reduction made effective by the Kentucky Public Service Commission for 3 1/2 months of last year.

Kenton County Booklet

The advantages of living and working in Northern Kentucky is included in a booklet being distributed to 1000 prospective teachers by the Kenton County Board of Education.

The folder, "You'll Like Living at the Top of Kentucky," is being used by Supt. R. C. Hinsdale and Asst. Supt. Donald Davis in making their rounds of colleges and universities interviewing seniors.

The booklet outlines the housing available, the utilities, the academic opportunities nearby and the cultural institutions.

While similar selling pieces have been published by other school districts, mostly out of state, the Kenton County booklet is the first one for the local system.

COUNTY AGENT'S

—by—

JOE CLAXON

The U. S. crop that uses more farm acreage than any other is neither wheat, corn nor soybeans—it's hay.

In terms of farm value, hay also ranks high on the list—about $3 billion worth in 1969 and second only to corn.

Harvested area in 1969 came to about 62 million acres. Corn, with next largest area, had 55 million acres. Total hay production, 127 million tons, was mainly dried alfalfa, clover, timothy, or mixtures of same. This also included 8 million tons of wild hay, including prairie, marsh and salt grasses.

Around a fifth of the annual hay crop is sold. The balance is fed to livestock on the producing farm.

Nearly all the hay is dried and baled in the field—over 90 percent—according to a recent study on hay harvesting practices. Thirty years ago, only 15 percent of the crop was baled in the field where grown.

The greater multi-purpose having equipment has resulted in substantial labor savings to hay producers in all parts of the country. Still, there are wide variations between states in man-hours spent in harvesting the yearly hay crop.

Have soil tested for increased production. Bring your soil samples to the Extension Office in Burlington.

Willing Workers Meet

The regular meeting of the Willing Workers Class of the Walton Christian Church met February 28 in Fellowship Hall.

After a delightful pot-luck supper, the regular business meeting was held, conducted by Mrs. Walter Whitson.

Rev. Arthur Russell led an interesting devotional. He began by asking the meaning of the expression, "What's the Good Word?" Several expressed an opinion, but it was agreed by all that it depended upon what the situation was. He then quoted from Proverbs 12:25 "Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it glad." "Since most of what we hear today is bad," he said, "it's good to hear the opposite." He quoted from John 16: 33, in which peace in the world and heart of man is stressed.

Those present were: Mrs. Lillian Acree, Miss Rachel Acree, Mrs. Nell Campbell, Mrs. John Gault, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rouse, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Russell, Miss Mary West, Mrs. Walter Whitson, and a guest, Mrs. Nancy Lawson.

Boone 4-H Club Equestrians Meet

The Boone County 4-H Equestrians held their February 10th meeting at the residence of Curt England of Florence. There were 22 members, 2 leaders and a guest present. The club is happy to have four new members who joined just recently. They are Randy, Karen and Kim Loudon and Charlene Hempling.

The main business of the meeting was preparing for the style show and horse clinic planned for March 14 at the Burlington School at 1:00 p. m. English, Walking Horse, Western, Hunt, and Roadster clothing will be modeled. Demonstrations and talks will also be given on these five divisions on the correct equipment for these type horses. Used riding clothes and equipment will also be sold at this time. Any 4-H members are welcome to bring these articles to be sold. There will also be prizes. An exciting program has been planned, and the public is urged to attend.

A skating party is planned for Mar. 23, in conjunction with two other 4-H horse clubs. The Equestrians also plan to visit a Quarter Horse farm some time this spring, although no definite plans have been set.

The next meeting of the Boone County Equestrians will be held March 10, at the home of Jo Ann Goebel, Tanner's Lane, Florence.

"They say," said the man to his wife, "that in time married couples grow to look alike, but I haven't seen much improvement in you yet."

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

The WSCS met at the church on Wednesday evening with Mrs. Ronald Losey and Mrs. Taylor as hostesses. Mrs. J. Shaw called the meeting to order. The program was on United Nations. Mrs. Shaw gave a talk from the program book, assisted by Miss Helen Richardson. We adjourned to the dining room where plans had been made to honor two of the members, Mrs. Charles Fennell and Mrs. Don Keeney. Among those present were: Mrs. Lyda Rees, Mrs. D. Ballinger, Mrs. C. Losey, Mrs. J. Shaw and Carol, Rev. and Mrs. Pepon, Lola and Seth, Mrs. D. Parsons, Mrs. C. Ramsburg, Mrs. A. Taylor, Mrs. F. Keeney, Mrs. G. Fennell, Jr., Mrs. C. Fennell, Mrs. D. Keeney, who received nice gifts, and the hostess. The next meeting will be at the church with Mrs. D. Parsons in charge.

We congratulate Miss Debora De-Groot in achieving the Dean's List at Northern Kentucky College.

Mrs. Maud Arends is again visiting Carsee Brinkley. We hope she will like us enough to stay for quite a while.

Rev. Pepon has planned a guest speaker for the Sunday evening service each Sunday during Lent. For March 7 it will be Rev. Jasper Han-non. We hope good numbers find it possible to be present.

The MYF had an interesting program on the 21st at the evening hour.

The Kenton County Garden Club met Thursday evening, Feb. 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gouge, Walnut Dr., Independence.

Miss Taylor opened the meeting by reading two poem prayers. Mrs. Keeney read the minutes, and Mrs. Hall gave the treasurer's report. Some cards were sold.

The meeting of the Garden Club of Kentucky at the Phoenix Hotel, Lex-

Triangle at Nicholson is again desecrated by the ULH&P, who placed a pole in the area.

Mrs. Leontine Stephens, program director, had arranged for Edwin Damon to show slides taken on several trips to the West, which was most interesting.

Mrs. Gouge served delicious refreshments to Mr. and Mrs. C. Ballinger, Mrs. Wm. Guttridge, Mrs. W. Hall, Miss Margaret Stephens, Mrs. Leontine Stephens, Miss Elma Taylor, Mrs. J. Herron, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Damon, Mr. Gouge, and Mrs. Keeney.

The March meeting will be held with Miss Elsie Hiteman, March 26.

An elderly man complained that he couldn't hear his telephone ring, and a louder bell was installed for a week-end trial. "Can you hear the phone ring now?" the man was asked at the end of the week. "No, I can't," he said. "But don't take it out. Every time the phone rings the dog howls and I can hear him."

Mrs. Lucille Hall gave the spiritual guidance, reading from the Gospel of John and some appropriate poems. We were grieved to hear how the

Mr. Merchant:

Here are TEN Solid Facts You Should Consider In Planning Your Advertising:

- 1—This newspaper is an advertising medium that is WANTED—it is sought after and paid for, and the advertising in it is not an intruder in the home.
- 2—Nearly all of this newspaper's circulation is CONCENTRATED in this trading area.
- 3—The newspaper provides PENETRATION in the primary market by reaching virtually every family or customer in that market.
- 4—People read newspaper ads when they are ready to make a decision and to act—WHEN THEY'RE READY TO BUY.
- 5—The newspaper is convenient; it may be consulted at a time most CONVENIENT to every member of the family.
- 6—People LIKE TO READ NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS—surveys show that 85 percent of the people want their newspaper to contain advertising.
- 7—Every issue of every newspaper contains INFORMATION AND PICTURES of interest to every member of the family.
- 8—Newspaper reading is a habit and a part of people's routine.
- 9—The printed word is MORE RELIABLE THAN the spoken word and it cannot be refuted because it is easily available for re-checking. More accurate information is obtained by reading than by listening.
- 10—The newspaper is ideal for comparison—items in a new newspaper may be easily compared with items in other newspaper ads.

THE MOST EFFECTIVE and MOST ECONOMICAL WAY TO PROMOTE BUSINESS IS THROUGH NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING!

A Texan visited Niagara Falls with a friend from New York. "I'll bet you don't have anything like this in Texas," said the New Yorker. "Nope," said the Texan, "but we have plumbers who could fix it."

"I heard you slap your boy friend when he brought you home last night. What happened?" the mother asked. "I was just checking to see if he was dead."

Most northerners defend their climate by saying that they like the change of seasons—and at this time of the year, the sooner it changes, the better they are going to like it.

In my time, a man was judged by now many membership cards for speakeasy night clubs he carried. Today's cool cat is known by the number of credit cards he has in his wallet.

Guest speaker on Sunday during the morning worship service was Kenneth Thomas of Florence, representing Gideon's International. He related some of the work carried on by the organization in the 86 countries, stating that the Bible was being distributed in 33 languages to schools, hospitals and penal institutions.

Several members of the church have attended district workshops recently relative to their council work. They were Rev. Robert Yates, James Lawrence, Mrs. Charles Ammer, Mrs.

Albert Norris, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett.

The WSCS will host the World Day of Prayer program, Friday evening at the church.

The chairman of education has set a meeting for 7:00 p. m., Friday, to meet with Sunday School leaders to discuss present and future needs. A goal of 200 has been set for Easter Sunday.

The great sin of pornography is its disregard for the dignity and unique worth of each person.

A man's life is 20 years of having his mother ask him where he is going, 40 years of having his wife ask the same question and, at the end, having the mourners wondering too.

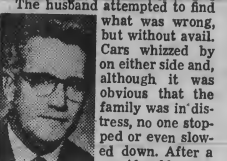

TO BE A NEIGHBOR

Lesson for March 7, 1971

Background Scriptures: Mark 12:28-34; Luke 10:23-37; Devotional Readings: 1 John 4:11-21

A family in our church was on their way by automobile to Florida. On a major highway in North Carolina their car broke down, stranding them "in the middle of nowhere."

The husband attempted to find what was wrong, but without avail. Cars whizzed by on either side and, although it was obvious that the family was in distress, no one stopped or even slowed down. After a considerable period of time had elapsed, a car slowed down and then stopped. Inside were two youths, long-haired and bearded! Could they be of help, they wanted to know?

Although this had hardly been the source of help the family had expected (and although they may have been just a bit apprehensive at the "hippie" appearance of these two young men), they explained their plight and accepted the youths' offer to tow them to the nearest town and repair garage.

Who is my neighbor?

This family was deeply impressed by this incident because they received help in a time of need from two persons whom ordinarily they would not have thought of as the "neighborly type." This is the same factor which we find in Jesus' parable of "the Good Samaritan." What made that story so remarkable to his listeners is that "good" and "Samaritan" were two words no Jew would have thought of putting together. As you are probably aware, there was a deep, long-standing animosity between the Jews and the Samaritans and the latter were regarded almost as "untouchables." Jesus could not have picked a more despised person to serve as his illustration of the true neighbor.

The story comes into being because a lawyer (actually a scribe or specialist in the religious law; a theologian) asked a philosophical question: "And who is my neighbor?" What are the limits of this love I am supposed to bestow upon others? The Pharisees, it is said, believed that the obligation of loving one's neighbor went no further than one's fellow Pharisees. Others believed that neighborliness was intended only for fellow Jews.

It appears that the man wanted to engage Jesus in a theological debate. Jesus, however, makes it clear that he too is concerned about theory and not enough about deeds. The Jews assumed that their teachings were theologically or doctrinally correct. The Samaritans, by comparison, were people who the Jews held to be theologically incorrect. Yet Jesus shows in his story that what is really important is not a man's religious theories or doctrines, but his actions.

"Good Guys" and "Bad Guys"

Compare the three people in the story. Two of these are religious professionals, the ones who would be expected to do the "right" thing. The other, a Samaritan, not only was not a professional but, as a Samaritan, a "wrong" believer. Yet, he did the loving thing, while the other two refused to get involved. The moral is clear: the loving heretic is more pleasing to God than the unloving person who is doctrinally or theologically sound. It is what we do, not what we say we believe that is of greatest importance.

Secondly, Jesus is saying that any man, whether he be sinner or Samaritan, who needs our help is our neighbor. In other words, there are no limits to this love that God calls from us, there is, no one to be excluded, no matter how unworthy they may seem. Jesus finishes this story with a twist. He indicates that the real question is not "Who is my neighbor?" but "... To whom am I called to be a neighbor?"

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

We want to express our thanks for all of you who have mailed or brought in the General Mills coupons for a kidney machine for little Tommy Davis of San Jose, California. If they keep coming in at the rate they have since the article appeared in the Walton Advertiser last week, it wouldn't take long to reach the goal of 550,000 coupons. If you have not yet sent in yours, but are deciding on which, silverware or a kidney machine, just remember your child might be next. Send or bring any General Mills coupons to the New Banklick Baptist Church, 225 Banklick Road, Walton, Kentucky 41094.

The Youth Choir of our church has changed practice night to Tuesday, 7:30:8:30 p. m. If you are between the ages of 13 and 20 and desire to sing with youth your own age, why not come out and join the group this next Tuesday night. Mrs. Lois Reinhart is in charge of this group with the able assistance of Diane Schadler and Ron Wells. Many plans are under way for some travel spots this summer. This will be leading up to a nice trip as far South as Florida; and who knows where else in the near future if all plans materialize. To make them work will depend upon the full cooperation of our teenagers who are willing to sing for the Lord.

The Sunday School Attendance Contest is well underway with the first month almost completed. Here is the way the contest looks at the moment:

Week	Adult	Youth	Child.
1st	29.0%	34%	34%
2nd	37.5%	52%	54%
3rd	62.1%	70%	80%

It is very important to keep in mind that the size of the department is not the important issue but the highest percentage of attendance of the department. Thus as we can readily see the Children's department leads by two weeks already and growing stronger each week. So, who will receive the beautiful attendance banner for the first quarter of 1971? The race is young but like the Tortoise and the Hare the race is not over until someone reaches the finish line. Let us start moving out adult department and not go to sleep like the Hare.

Mr. Ray Mercer of the Youth department announces an inner-department contest between his class groups of Juniors, Intermediates and Young People classes; which includes a special award for the boys and girls. He has two banners which will go to one of the boys' classes and one of the girls' classes having the best attendance record during the quarter, starting on April 4th.

We do want to recognize the Primary I Class of Mrs. Gilberta Kidwell who has held an overall grade during the month of February of 80%. This is an excellent grade due to the bad weather we had during those Sundays. Congratulations Primary I Class, and to your teacher, Mrs. Kidwell.

The pastor of New Banklick Baptist Church invites anyone who is looking for a church home to attend our Sunday School and preaching services and give us a try. We do not claim to be the perfect church; but we do try to serve the Perfect Saviour! See you in Church School?

Two of a women's neighbors were discussing the home permanent she'd rather ineptly given herself. "What do you think of it?" asked one. "It looks," replied the other, "like her parole came through just as the switch was pulled."

WOULD A FENCE HELP?

If we could build a fence around the world, would we respect our limitations and live happily with one another? Would we stop wars? Probably not!

You can fence in physical objects but not the minds and hearts of mankind.

Nor can we be forced to live in peace. Peace comes through practicing love, faith and tolerance—an understanding of God and His Church. Then, remember World Day of Prayer. Determine not to build a fence around yourself, or around anyone else. Instead, enlarge your horizons through the common voice of prayer.

What better place to start than in the Church?

BEHIND THE SCENES

Banking
In January, 1962, the first bank chartered by Congress opened for business in Philadelphia. It's total capital was $400,000 and more than half of this amount was subscribed by the government.

Today, Americans make 90% of all payments by check and the volume is steadily increasing by about 10% a year. Next year, it's estimated that 18 billion checks will be written with a face value of about 6 trillion dollars.

Modern banks are called upon to handle huge transactions and large amounts of paper work. To ease their load, many are using such aids as IBM's error-free Magnetic Tape "Selectric" Type-writer to automatically produce credit letters, trust agreements and internal procedure manuals.

STALKING DEER

THE RELATIVELY CLEAN FLOORS OF THE DENSE FORESTS FOUND BY THE PLUNGING PROVIDED LIMITED FOOD FOR DEER. SUBSEQUENT CLEARING OR PARTIAL CUTTING OF THE FORESTS ACTUALLY INCREASED DEER POPULATIONS.

TODAY'S LARGER NUMBERS OF DEER ARE MATCHED BY MORE DEER HUNTERS, BUT THE WARY BUCK IS STILL AN ELUSIVE CREATURE, AND ONLY THE SEASONED HUNTER, WITH THE RIGHT EQUIPMENT, HAS A FAIR CHANCE OF BRINGING HOME VENISON.

SINCE MOST HUNTING OCCURS WITHIN A MILE OR SO OF THE ROADWAYS, DEER MOVE DEEPER INTO THE WOODS. THE WISE HUNTER, THEN, EQUIPPED WITH REMINGTON MODEL 700 RIFLE, AND WILLING TO PROBE FARTHER FROM THE ROADS, IS MORE LIKELY TO BE SUCCESSFUL.

What They Wore... by PHYLLIS JOYCE

THE RAINCOAT
TODAY RAINCOATS ARE FASHION COATS IN THEIR OWN RIGHT. BUT IN EARLIER TIMES FASHION WAS OFTEN SACRIFICED FOR FUNCTION.

IN 1870 HEAVY WOOLLEN GARMENTS KEPT OUT THE RAIN BUT WORE OUT THE WEARER WHO HAD TO DRAG THEM AROUND.

FIVE YEARS LATER A DEVELOPMENT FAR AHEAD OF ITS TIME OCCURRED—WATERPROOF CAPES THAT LOOKED LIKE SILK COULD BE ROLLED AND CARRIED IN A COAT POCKET.

TODAY...WHEN BUYING WOMEN'S OR CHILDREN'S APPAREL LOOK FOR THIS LABEL: THE SYMBOL OF DECENCY, FAIR LABOR STANDARDS AND THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

IN 1947 THE TRENCHCOAT, ADAPTED FROM THE MILITARY, WAS THE FASHIONABLE WAY TO WARD OFF THE RAIN.

Pedestrian Safety

With back-to-school days here again, remind children of these simple pedestrian rules: always stand on the curb while waiting to cross, walk only with the signal light or at the direction of a police officer or school crossing guard, look both ways and watch for turning cars, walk fast but don't run, do not loiter in the middle of the street, and where there is no sidewalk—walk on the left side facing oncoming traffic.

Managers, Coaches Needed

The Walton-Verona area needs managers and coaches for the Knothole baseball teams. There are more boys wanting to play every year, with only four or five men willing to manage.

The "A" league, "D" major and minor need managers, and the minor has enough boys for possibly three teams.

Lung Cancer

The lung cancer death rate among men increased 15-fold in 35 years and the rate is going up among women. Lung cancer is largely preventable, says the American Cancer Society—just stop smoking.

"To what do you owe your extraordinary success?" the company's top house-to-house salesman was asked. "To the first five words I utter when a woman opens the door," he replied. "Miss, is your mother in?"

R. Wagner Not So Well

We were informed this week in a note from Mrs. Randall Wagner that Randall had not been feeling well. It seems he is suffering from reactions and side effects of the chemo-therapy and has also had an infection. However, the third round of treatments is expected to begin soon, and improvement in his condition has been noted.

Randall has nearly reached the 500 mark in cards and letters since going to Houston, and this is greatly appreciated by both he and his wife.

Don't forget the address: Randall Wagner, M. A. Anderson Hospital, Houston, Texas 77025.

CARD OF THANKS—

We want to thank all our friends for the beautiful flowers, cards and gifts that have been sent to us while we have been in the hospital. A special thanks to our minister, Paul Ransford, and members of Brucewood for the special prayer services, and to all the other ministers of churches in Northern Kentucky that have offered prayer in our behalf. It is wonderful to have friends and we have felt your prayers and concerns. An extra special thanks to Mother and Jim for looking after our boys, and to Steve, Gary and Tim for their help also. God bless all of you.

Conner Wins District Basketball Crown

Conner High School of Hebron, turned in its third straight upset last Saturday night to win the 33rd District Basketball Tournament at Boone County High, Florence, by defeating Dixie Heights, 87-86.

Earlier, Conner downed Simon Kenton, 79-76, and St. Henry, 51-50.

Conner 79, Simon Kenton 76

A lot of "firsts" were recorded on Monday night of last week when Conner High ousted Simon Kenton in the opening round of the 33rd District Tournament at Boone County High, Florence.

The Cougars pulled off the first upset of district tournament play in the state by tipping over the Pioneers, who had been picked by more than a handful to win the district meet.

Second, Conner, which won just five of 21 regular season games, won a district tourney game in its very first try.

And third, freshman Ricky Hicks came through with a performance he will probably remember when he is a senior. Hicks, who wasn't even a starter in the opening part of the season, scored 22 points in the game, including several key baskets in the final period when Simon Kenton made a desperate try to pull the game out of the fire, but to no avail.

Aside from Hicks, Mavity scored 20 points for the winners, while Hemphill and Buckler had 12 each. For the losing Pioneers, Leister had 18 points, Halderman 16, Davis 12, Rust 11, and Haines 10.

Walton-Verona 55, Lloyd 52

Walton-Verona eliminated Erlanger Lloyd, 55-52, in the 33rd District Tourney, Tuesday night of last week, on the Boone County floor.

Walton, after trailing at the end of the first half, moved ahead to stay in the third period with 18 points, and then held off the Jugernauts in a defensive fourth period.

The winners played three players in double figures as Ron Huffman led the way with 18 points. Mike Ferguson added 11 and Gary Ingram 10. Larry Kalker and Steve Iker were the big guns for Lloyd with 15 points each.

Dixie Heights 60, Walton-Verona 59
A field goal by Ken Taglauger with nine seconds left to play enabled Dixie Heights to defeat Walton-Verona, 60-59, last Friday night in District tourney play at Boone County.

It marked the second straight night that the winner was decided in the final seconds of play. Thursday, Greg Jubit hit a fielder with four seconds left to give Conner High a victory over St. Henry.

In a game that saw the score tied twice and the lead changing hands six times in the first period, Walton-Verona held a 17-15 edge. Most of the second period was a repetition of the first with the score being tied at three intervals. Walton held its biggest lead of the game, 30-24, with two minutes left in the half, but Dixie rallied to cut the lead to 36-35 at the intermission.

In the third period, the Colonels moved out in front, 48-46. However, Goldsberry accounted for seven points for W-V in the final period to give them a 59-58 edge and set the stage for Taglauger's game-winning shot.

Rick Fischer led Dixie with 24 big points, while Bob Messmer had 13 and Gary Ingram 12 for the losers. Mike Ferguson also added 10 to the Bearcat cause, while Frye had 11 for the Colonels.

Sign-Up Dates For 1971 Feed Grain

Farmers who choose to participate in the 1971 farm programs will have an acreage set aside in each program they sign up for—20 percent of their feed grain base and 75 percent of their wheat allotment. The sign-up period is from March 1 through April 9, according to J. Lassing Huey, ASC Committee Chairman, Boone County.

These set aside percentages have been established by the USDA. Under the new farm programs, participants will make their set-asides, maintain their farms' conserving base and be free to use the rest of their cropland as they choose, except for crops under marketing quota or other controls.

The ASC Chairman pointed out that for the first time, allotments and bases for a farm do not dictate to a farmer the number of acres he is allowed to plant to a specific crop. Allotment and bases are used to figure the set-aside acreage and price-support payments, not to limit production of any one crop.

The 20 percent set-aside requirement for feed grain established a preliminary payment of 32 cents per bushel for corn times the yield established for the farm times one-half the corn base.

Payments to participating feed grain producers will begin as soon as possible after July 1. For further information, call 586-6175.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

Primary Vote On New Boone Jail

Boone Countians will vote in the May primary on a bond issue for the construction of a new county office building to house a jail and police headquarters.

Boone Fiscal Court agreed last week to place the issue on the ballot after receiving an estimate of $555,000 to build the three-story building from Covington architect Carl Bankemper.

Voters will be asked to approve a tax increase not to exceed two cents per $100. It will take 25 years to retire the bond issue.

Bankemper submitted plans for the three floors and basement of the structure. The first floor would house the Police Department, including offices, a crime lab, juvenile office, lobby, records room and radio room. The county police are now housed in a frame building in Burlington.

No definite plans were made for the second floor. The area to be left open for future needs.

The jail would occupy the entire third floor, which would include a kitchen and separate cells for men, women and juveniles. Two jail breaks at the present structure in Burlington, caused officials to agree a new jail was needed.

4-H Style Show And Horse Clinic

The Boone County 4-H Equestrians are to hold a style show and horse clinic at 1:00 p. m., Sunday, March 14, at the Burlington School.

The style show will feature Walking Horse, Western, Hunt, English and Roadster riding apparel. Used riding clothes and equipment will also be sold by the 4-H members.

Demonstrations and talks are on the agenda in reference to the five divisions listed above.

Numerous prizes will be given, and the participants need not be present to win.

The public is welcome, as an interesting program has been planned which will appeal to all horse lovers.

It Is Grass Fire Time Says Chief

Walton Fire Chief, "Chick" Worthington states that we are now in that "dangerous" time for grass fires. There are some people who find it necessary to burn with an open flame, especially farmers in preparation of tobacco beds. However, there are some simple rules to follow which helps to prevent the spread of grass fires:

- 1—Never leave a fire unattended. Stay with it until every spark is out;
- 2—Keep the fire on tobacco beds to a minimum. Don't burn too large an area at one time;
- 3—Keep some equipment on-hand to prevent a rapid spread of a blaze if it should get out of bounds;
- 4—When burning trash in an outside container, use a screen cover to prevent sparks from blowing out;
- 5—Use the ashtray of your auto or truck to discard matches and cigarettes—don't throw them out of the window.

"Take a few simple precautions and prevent out-of-hand fires. Help save property and lives. An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure," Worthington concluded.

Police Attend Driver Clinic For Pointers

Ever heard of the pregnant pause? Probably, there's no better way of describing the reaction of some 55 motorists who, while attending one of the state's remedial clinics for problem drivers in Frankfort recently, learned that seven of their classmates were policemen, and an eighth was a policeman's secretary. All of which led one startled driver to query, "How about that?"

But, explained Roger L. Wilhoite, director of the Public Safety Department's Driver Licensing Division, the officers weren't really there because of any personal driving difficulties, they were there to get a first-hand look at the state's driver improvement clinic program.

Fayette County Police Chief Wm. G. Sellers told the class that Kentucky's Driver Improvement Clinics were among the finest programs in the country.

SEATBELTS ARE PEOPLE STOPPERS

When an auto stops suddenly in a collision, or emergency, the people inside keep going with tremendous force. What stops them? The windshield, steering wheel, dash, all too often with tragic results.

But seatbelts stop people, too—safely. With your seatbelt fastened you stay put when your car stops suddenly.

Seatbelts are the best people stoppers!

JOE CLAXON

Crabgrass is a perpetual problem in a home lawn. Can it be controlled? The answer is, yes! Good lawn management practices, combining cultural and chemical methods, will control crabgrass in your yard.

When desirable turf grasses begin to thin, crabgrass frequently gets established in the open, lighted areas. Once started, it continues to spread by creeping stems, and eventually, it will crowd out the desirable turf grass. Crabgrass seed must have light to germinate; therefore, mowing turf grasses at 2-inch heights will help to shade crabgrass and prevent it from sprouting.

To control crabgrass with herbicides, apply the chemical before crabgrass seeds germinate. Make applications before April 15 for Northern Kentucky. These dates vary from year to year, depending on moisture, temperature, and other environmental conditions. Some scientists believe crabgrass seeds germinate only after the soil temperature is 60 degrees F for a continuous period of 6 to 7 days.

Siduron (Tupersan) is the only recommended herbicide that controls crabgrass on newly-seeded lawn. It kills the crabgrass seeds without injuring the young bluegrass and fescue seedlings.

To control crabgrass in established bluegrass and fescue lawns, use benefin, bensulfide (Betsan or Prefar), DCPA (Dathal), andisuduron (Tupersan). These are the active ingredients in commercial products sold under various trade names as "weed" or "crabgrass killers." When using these herbicides, follow the directions and precautions on the label closely.

Homeowners frequently ask, "Are combinations of pesticides-fertilizers the best way to care for home lawns?" I usually answer that attacking each problem separately is generally more desirable, using the correct material at the proper time. If weeds are the problem, insecticides are not necessary; conversely, if insects are present herbicides are not needed. Another problem with formulated combinations is that they may not contain the correct analysis or quantity of fertilizer for a given lawn.

Although combinations do not always give the most desirable results, they will control crabgrass and will reduce the total time and effort spent on lawn care.

Tax payer today. Tax burden tomorrow?

The U.S. rail system, crippled by obsolete, unfair laws, may have to go on relief. ASTRO shows a better way.

It could happen here: nationalization has been seriously proposed as a solution to America's rail crisis.

Crisis it is. One big railroad has fallen into bankruptcy; others may follow. Of the nation's 70 large railroads, 21 lost money in 1969. Return on investment for Southern was 5.4%, but the average was 2.4%—compared to 11% recently urged by a CAB examiner as a minimum for airlines. Consequently, many railroads lack money for essential repairs and new equipment.

How did things get so bad? Railroads have been over-regulated. They can't freely lower rates where possible, or raise rates where necessary. In aiding transportation, the Government has favored other modes. Meanwhile, railroads are called on to do more—even as their capacity to do it diminishes. What's the answer?

Government Take-over?

Nationalization may look tempting—until you consider the costs: an estimated $60 billion just to acquire properties. And look at the record. Under government control during World War I, the U.S. railroads cost taxpayers

$2 million a day, and plant and quality of service deteriorated badly. Experience in Europe and Japan is no more reassuring. Railroads there are tax burdens.

The ASTRO Answer

We think a better alternative is the plan offered by ASTRO (America's Sound Transportation Review Organization), a railroad-sponsored group. In essence, this plan calls for equal treatment of all forms of transportation. And it would encourage investment in rail equipment sorely needed to catch up with today's needs and be ready for tomorrow's.

Find out more about ASTRO from this booklet, which outlines the plan in easy-to-read questions and answers. Write: ASTRO Booklet, Southern Railway System, P.O. Box 1808, Washington, D.C. 20013.

We want to stay a tax payer. We welcome a tax burden.

Mrs. Jimmie Anderson of Klein Road, fell recently and was found by her daughter, Josephine, who lives near. As we understand, no bones were broken but soreness from bruises.

I enjoyed visiting with Miss Lena Mills in Independence, recently.

Mrs. Pepon had a good day for her lesson in candy making with Mrs. J. Elam on Wednesday.

The Homemakers met at the church March 2 with Mrs. Harold Nitschke as hostess. Mrs. Rich read an article, "Be Glad You Are Alive," and Mrs. Vanlandingham read a "Recipe for Life." Mrs. Hill told of two trips on which she had secured information for the summer. We also chose from a list the subjects most interesting for lessons for the year. Lunch was sent to Mrs. Stein, a member, who is a shut-in. The lesson was presented by Mrs. V. Dennis and Mrs. M. Whar-

HAVE YOU 'HAD IT'?

Lesson for March 14, 1971

Background Scripture: Matthew 6:9-15; 18:21-35. Devotional Reading: Matthew 6:5-13.

"Karl," said his mother softly, "Alec is downstairs—he wants to see you."

In the same low voice Karl replied: "Just tell him I don't want to see him, Mother."

"Oh, Karl, you can't send him away like that."

His mother's voice was both sympathetic and persuasive. "I know he made you angry—and I can understand how you felt: it was a careless thing to do—but he's here to

Rev. Althouse apologize; he wants to tell you he's sorry."

"Sorry!" Karl exploded. "he's always sorry afterwards. He was sorry after he lost my homework paper before Christmas and I got an 'F' on that project. He was sorry last week after he passed me a note in history class and I got detention. But today he borrows my transistor radio and leaves it on the bus and now he's sorry again." Karl's voice now was loud but he didn't care: "I'm sorry, Mother, but I've 'had it' with his being sorry!"

How many times? There was silence for a few moments until his mother said evenly: "Karl, how many times have you said 'I'm sorry' to your father or to me? How many times have you asked us to accept your apologies? What did you say on Saturday night when you got home an hour late for supper? And what words did you use two weeks ago when you put that long scratch in the fender? Are we supposed to count your apologies and call a halt when we reach a certain number?"

He stared at her and she stared back. There was no need for him to make the obvious answer. Nodding his head slightly, Karl got up and started downstairs.

How many times are we supposed to forgive someone? Once again, Jesus was being questioned about the limits of love. How far are we asked to go? The rabbis seemed agreed that three times was enough to meet God's requirement. Turning back to Amos, they had noted that the prophet seemed to use a certain recurrent formula:

Thus says the Lord: "For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment; . . ." (Amos 1:3, 6, 9, 11.)

The rabbis thus reasoned that this meant "God would forgive three transgressions, but not four. Thus they devised their rule: A man shall be forgiven three times. So when Peter offered to forgive his brother seven times (better than twice what the rabbis required), he evidently thought he was making a most generous offer.

Seventy times seven . . . and beyond!

How surprised he must have been then when Jesus answered, "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven" (Matt. 18:22). Even if Peter was not able to quickly multiply these two numbers in his head, he realized the magnitude of the answer.

Earlier in Matthew Jesus had said: "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy" (5:7). In the giving of the Lord's Prayer he had said: "Forgive us our debts as we also have forgiven our debtors" (6:14). In the parable he is saying the same thing: God will forgive our sins, but his forgiveness is dependent upon our own willingness to forgive the relatively smaller transgressions against us by others. A Christian ought never to have "had it" when it comes to forgiveness!

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

THE RECREATION COMMITTEE was the recipients of a trophy for the Pioneer basketball team who attained second place in the recent R. A. basketball tournament. Ray Mercer received the trophy for his team. This group of five young men only lost two games during the entire season. We are looking for better things in 1971-1972 season. The Pioneer team was made up of Allen Grayson, Billy Hensley, Johnny Lawson, Mike, Don and Kenny Mercer, Larry Powell, Nelson Schadler, Jimmy Sharon and Gregg Wagner. Congratulations fellows!

MUSIC has always been one of our great joys in this world culture, and believe it or not, if you will take just a little time and effort you can really get a message out of the music of today's young generation. But the greatest thrill that I receive is discovering new church groups who had dedicated their talents for our Lord. Recently I was playing some of my favorite albums and had the joy of listening to a very wonderful group of young ladies from the Latonia Christian Church who call themselves The Teen Tones.

It has been our joy to have had this fine group of ladies in our church last summer during one of our Hymn Festivals. I most assuredly do recommend them for your listening pleasure. They have just recently completed their first album which they call "Love and Peace from the Teen Tones." The girls are from our local area and are: Marilyn Brashear, Luann Fisher, Becky Hill, Sheila Myers, Diana Oliver, Joanna Pegbles and Bonnie Best, Pianist. We do highly recommend this fine group of Christian young ladies for any church program. We proudly recognize them in this weekly column.

SUNDAY morning, February 14, our church was over-joyed to have the pleasure of listening to the presentation by our Junior Choir. This is the first of the new choir groups to be organized in our church in several years. Their selections were of various types which included several of the Negro Spirituals. The Junior Choir is under the able direction of Mrs. Francis Beach, Jackie Grayson, and Katherine Hopperton. The amazing thing about this choir is the fact that they have memorized almost every number they sing and do not use any books at all. They are to be congratulated in every respect.

THE MEMBERS and pastor of New Banklick Baptist Church are in much prayer for a relief from this inclement weather of the past month. We are thankful that our Lord has been good to us in that we have had a fair attendance and an opportunity to have some joyful singing experiences on Sunday nights. We are really proud of our choir members, for they continue to be the faithful ones who make it on Sunday night regardless of the inclement weather. They are somewhat like the faithful mail carriers who deliver in "rain or snow or sleet or hail," always faithful to the end.

NEXT WEEK in the column we are going to present an article that we wrote for THE LODESTAR, a newspaper in Waco, Texas. The article is called, "The Christian's Duty to the State," and is based on Romans 13:1-7.

WHY NOT make it to the church of your choice this week, and hear what the Messenger of God has just for YOU!

THE HOPELESS FOUR

They were the best act at the annual amateur night of the Church Youth Group. The audience loved them—not only their parents and their friends' parents, but all the other folks, too.

More important is what it did for the boys themselves. Learning to work together, enjoying every minute of rehearsal, perfecting talents they hardly knew they had . . . and doing it all as part of the youth program of their church.

But don't miss the "dig" they gave the rest of us when they named their group. Too many youngsters today have the impression that we consider theirs a hopeless generation.

The truth of the matter is that most of American youth belongs to the finest generation our country has yet raised. While you and I are reading and hearing about the "wild" minority, our churches are working quietly and effectively to mold the faith and character of tomorrow's citizens.

An Ordinance of the City Council of the City of Walton, Kentucky, providing for the issuance of $735,000 of School Building Revenue Bonds dated April 1, 1971, in accordance with Sections 162.120 through 162.290 and Sections 58.010 through 58.120 of Kentucky Revised Statutes, to provide funds for school building purposes, providing and determining the duty of the City in connection with the operation of the school property and the creation of funds sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as and when they mature and the creation of an adequate maintenance and insurance fund, and authorizing the execution of a contract, lease and option with the Board of Education of the Walton-Verona Independent School District.

WHEREAS, the boundaries of the City of Walton (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "City") are embraced by the boundaries of the Walton-Verona Independence School District, and the City desires to cooperate with the Board of Education of the Walton-Verona Independence School District (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "Board") in financing certain school improvements in said District, consisting of a new elementary school to be located in Verona, and

WHEREAS, the Board has agreed to use and occupy the school improvements to be constructed from the proceeds of the sale of $735,000 of City of Walton (Kentucky) School Building Revenue Bonds, dated April 1, 1971, all pursuant to and as permitted by Sections 162.120 through 162.290 and Sections 58.010 through 58.120 of Kentucky Revised Statutes, and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WALTON, KENTUCKY, AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the Mayor and City Clerk are hereby authorized to execute a Contract, Lease and Option, in substantially the same form as that presented to and considered at the meeting of the City Council at which this Ordinance was adopted, whereby said Board agrees to use and occupy the school property upon which the school improvements are to be constructed from the proceeds of the bonds herein authorized.

2. That the selection of Betz, Carey & Wright as architects for such project is hereby authorized, ratified and approved.

3. That for the purpose recited in the preamble hereto, there shall be and there are hereby authorized and ordered to be issued and sold the negotiable School Building Revenue Bonds of the City in the aggregate principal amount of $735,000. Such bonds shall be in the denomination of $5,000, bear interest from April 1, 1971, payable October 1, 1971, and semi-annually thereafter, mature on October 1 in each of the years: $15,000 in 1972-76; $20,000 in 1977-80; $25,000 in 1981-83; $30,000 in 1984-85; $35,000 in 1986-88; $40,000 in 1989-90; $45,000 in 1991; $50,000 in 1992-93; $55,000 in 1994; $60,000 in 1995, being subject to an increase in interest rate in whole or in part, at the City's option, on any interest due date falling on or after October 1, 1981, upon 30 days published notice and upon any interest payment date thereafter upon terms of par plus accrued interest, plus additional interest equal to 3% of the face value if on or before April 1, 1986, 2% if on or before April 1, 1991, and 1% if thereafter and prior to maturity; and shall be payable both principal and interest at Dixie State Bank, Walton, Kentucky.

4. That such bonds shall be executed by the Mayor and the City Clerk, and the interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be executed with the facsimile signatures of said Mayor and City Clerk, and said bonds, together with the interest thereon, shall be payable only out of the "City of Walton School Building Revenue Bond and Interest Redemption Fund of 1971" and shall be a valid claim of the holders thereof against said fund and the income and revenues of the school property financed from the proceeds of said bonds all in accordance with the Constitution and statutes of Kentucky, including Sections 162.120 through 162.290 and 58.010 through 58.120 of Kentucky Revised Statutes and shall not constitute an indebtedness of the City of Walton within the meaning of any constitutional provision or limitation.

5. That there is hereby created an account to be known as the "City of Walton School Building Revenue Bond and Interest Redemption Fund of 1971" to be deposited with the payee bank of said bonds, into which shall be set aside from the first gross income and revenues of the school property leased by the Board such amounts as are necessary to pay the interest on and principal of said bonds as they become due, and which amounts are hereby exclusively pledged to that purpose. In addition, an amount equal to twelve months' interest on said bonds from their date shall be deposited in said fund from the proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds.

6. That the school property upon which said improvements are to be constructed shall be leased to the Board in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Contract, Lease and Option dated as of April 1, 1971, hereinbefore authorized to be executed. The income and revenues derived by the City from the rental payments made by the Board shall be applied to the payment of the principal and interest requirements on said bonds, as well as providing for adequate maintenance, insurance and depreciation in regard to said property. The statutory mortgage lien upon and the pledge of revenues derived from said property shall be respected in their application to the school building and appurtenances financed by the bonds herein authorized, and such easements and rights of way for ingress and egress, the right being expressly reserved to erect or construct upon the sites specifically described in the resolution authorizing such bonds hereinafter referred to other independently financed school building projects free and clear of said revenue pledge.

7. That the City hereby covenants and agrees with the holders of the bonds herein authorized that it will faithfully and punctually perform all duties with reference to the school property which are required by the Constitution and laws of Kentucky, including the making and collection of reasonable and sufficient rentals and will segregate the revenues of said property and make application thereof to the required funds established in connection with said bonds. The statutory mortgage lien and first pledge of revenues derived from said school property created by KRS 162.290 hereby recognized and declared to be valid and binding upon the City and shall take effect immediately, subject to the right of said Board to obtain a release from said statutory mortgage lien and pledge as hereinbefore set forth. The City reserves the right to issue additional bonds for the purpose of completing the school building in accordance with the completed plans now on file with the City Clerk, to the extent funds are not available from other sources.

8. That the bonds herein authorized shall be sold at public sale after advertising according to law, and the Mayor and City Clerk are authorized to make such advertising. That bidders shall be required to bid at least 98% of par and accrued interest and must name an interest rate or rates in multiples of 1/10 or 1/8 of 1%, not to exceed the legal maximum. That the City Council shall, in resolution accepting the successful bid, determine the exact rate or rates of interest which said bonds shall bear in accordance with State Board of Education Regulation, SBE 21.010. Upon the delivery of said bonds there shall be first paid all expenses incident to the authorization, sale and delivery; next, twelve months' capitalized interest shall be deposited in the "City of Walton School Building Revenue Bond and Interest Redemption Fund of 1971"; and thereafter the remaining proceeds shall be devoted to the payment of the costs of the construction of the school building and appurtenances according to the plans and specifications which have been approved by the City Council and filed as provided by KRS 162.160.

9. That the adoption of the Resolution presented to and adopted by the City Council at the meeting at which this Ordinance was adopted is hereby authorized, ratified and approved. Said Resolution has been spread upon the records of the City and constitutes a contract between the City, the Board and the holders of the bonds herein authorized.

10. If any section, paragraph, or clause of this Ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of such section, paragraph or clause shall not affect any of the remaining provisions.

All ordinances, resolutions and parts thereof in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force at once.

Passed and adopted on March 4, 1971.

SOCIAL SECURITY

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

I am hopeful that an increase in Social Security benefits, retroactive to January 1, 1971, will be passed early in this first session of the new 92nd Congress. I expect that the amount which a retired person may earn without the penalty of reducing their benefits will be increased from the present $1,680 to at least $2,000.

Early in the last Congress, the House of Representatives passed a 5 percent increase tied to automatic increases related to future rises in the cost of living. Then, very late in the session, the Senate passed their own version of Social Security legislation. The Senate bill came to the House too late to work out the difference and enact a law before the 91st Congress ended. Consequently, we had to start over in this Congress.

Early action on this matter is not without complications, however. The Social Security measures are combined with welfare reform. The Chairman of the House Committee which oversees the bill, appropriately numbered H. R. 1, promised quick action. But on February 10 he stalled the committee's progress by requesting the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare rework provisions of the Administration's proposals covering welfare reform.

H. R. 1 does not include the automatic cost-of-living provision that was in last year's bill, however, it does call for a 10 percent increase in benefits.

There will, of course, again be differences in the House and Senate versions which will have to be compromised before any bill can be sent to the President. This makes it extremely difficult at this time to say exactly what will be in the new law.

A National Decline

Deaths from cancer of the uterus have declined about 50 percent in a generation. This is due in large part to early detection by the Pap test and prompt treatment, says the American Cancer Society.

Educators complain that people spend more money on liquor than on education. That is quite true. Still, educators should understand that one can certainly learn a great deal at a cocktail party.

Sewage Problems Discussed by Councilman Guy Carlisle at Meeting of Businessmen

A meeting of the Greater Walton Businessmen's Association was held on Wednesday evening, March 10, at the First Federal Building, Walton.

Guy Carlisle represented the Walton City Council and gave statistics on the proposed sewer system and of the traffic survey.

Mr. Carlisle told it "as it is" concerning the sewer project. As of 10 years ago the survey was $500,000; one year ago it was $977,000, and today the estimated cost is $1,977,000.

The Council is working closely with HUD and the Kentucky Water Pollution Commission, hoping to come up with a larger grant. Several of the smaller cities are getting sewers and we wonder how they are doing it. But the problem in Boone County is that we do not have low employment and are considered a "wealthy" county, so therefore, can not get the dollar grant as some of the counties down in Kentucky.

Some of the extra costs are: (a) Changing the treatment plant from the East side of Old Stephenson Mill Road to the West side of I-75, which has to be made to care for future growth of Walton; (b) Three pumping stations were set up in the survey, but now it appears that six will be needed; (c) Increase in cost of labor—Nixon had lowered the wage scale but Kentucky will not lower wages accordingly; (d) Letters are being sent to HUD and the Water Pollution Commission which is hoped will bring some new channels; and (e) Final plans will be a visit to Washington to knock on doors—a member of Council and a member of the Businessmen's Ass'n hope to make the trip.

When the above has been completed and compiled, the complete story will be given the citizens.

At present, approximately 80 percent of the citizens have paid the sewer fee. This money has been placed in a savings account. There are 500 customers.

Traffic Survey

Some time in the past a traffic survey was requested to try to change all the parking and traffic troubles. This survey was conducted by the Department of Highways. Since the survey one giant step has been taken by the businessmen in providing the city with a parking lot.

The recommendations were: Off-street parking; loading zones at three points which will be designated later by the Council; Church Street south will have 30-minute parking meters so people can make stops and find a place to park—there are still those who park all day on the street with several places they could park off the street; traffic and parking conditions are going to be enforced by the Council; several streets will have parking conditions enforced—the conditions have been set up for years but not enforced—High Street, parking on one side, Plum Street no parking on either side, Catalina Drive parking on one side, Depot Street no parking on either side.

Ambulance Service

Mr. Carlisle reported the Walton Volunteer Fire Department will be able to receive a Federal grant for ambulance service. The requirements are to have two trained in first aid to be on all runs. At present, several of the firemen are attending first aid classes at Booth Hospital. This is a project which our town should get behind 100 percent.

Each citizen should remember this is strictly volunteer and the boys do not get one penny salary. These men all have to hold positions besides many nights never getting any sleep—these are the men who protect us. Each citizen can donate in some way to help the boys.

A written survey was made by the businessmen to see if the organization should be continued. All reports were not in but were high to continue the meetings. An election will be held in April.

The April meeting will be on the 7th at First Federal, and all members are urged to be present.

Democrats Sponsor Voter Registration

Bill McBee, president of the Boone County Democratic Club, announced last week a voter registration contest, sponsored by the Democratic Club in this county.

A committee composed of Ab Ryan, Galen McGlasson, Dennis McEvoy, and Francis Dooley, came up with the idea to give each high school in the county an award for registering voters and the one school registering the most people a bonus. Sponsors for the contest were chosen at each of the schools: Boone County High (to be named later); Gonner High School; Carlton Anderson; Walton-Verona High School; Mrs. Daniel Hance. All voters registered by them will count in the contest, whether Democrat or Republican.

Boone County is in the lower bracket when it comes to voters registered percentage wise, compared to population. Everyone should take an interest, register and vote. This is a freedom in the county and so everyone should take advantage of it.

Jerry Rouse, County Clerk, has office hours in the Florence City Building for the purpose of registering voters each Tuesday evening from 7:00 until 8:00. Due to March 29th being the last day to register, he will be open that Monday night at Florence, from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m.

The county clerk's office will be open in the courthouse at Burlington; Saturday, March 27 from 9:00 a. m. until noon for voter registration.

The Democratic Club hopes this campaign to register voters will be a great success—so, register now!

BOMBING OF THE CAPITOL

by

M. GENE SNYDER

U. S. Congressman

Early Monday morning at 1:32 a. m. on March 1st, a bomb tore at the heart of the oldest part of our Nation's Capitol. There was concussive damage in a radius of 250 feet of the explosion. The bomb was placed on the first floor near the most vulnerable point of the old west wall in the Senate wing.

The damage was terrible. Rooms were wrecked, windows were blown out of their frames, doors were shattered, and concrete floors were crumbled. Damage to the bombed area has been estimated at more than $300,000. Miraculously, the historical losses such as statues and so forth were slight.

Until now, the Capitol was among the few federal buildings in Washington where guards were not required to stop visitors with packages. This is also true of the office buildings for Congressmen and Senators. Now, new temporary security regulations have been put into effect to safeguard and buildings and employees.

The bombing by some person, or persons, brings to this national shrine the tactics of terrorism followed by various groups around the country who think they can abandon logic and process of law to get their way. I personally feel this incident should be regarded as a warning of things to come rather than an isolated act of sabotage.

One of my Subcommittees of the House Committee on Public Works began hearings March 10 on security measures to be taken to protect life and property in government owned buildings throughout the United States, including the Capitol and White House. We will also consider legislation authorizing research and development in the field of electronic surveillance equipment.

Either through ignorance or a false sense of perspective, Congress has failed over the years to realize the extent of, and potential for massive civil disorder—if not terrorism—in America. I can only hope our investigation will wake this Congress up to the facts so dramatically illustrated to the Nation by the bombing of our Capitol.

Home Agent's Party Line

By Nancy Norman

Frost-free refrigerator-freezers are certainly work savers. However, homemakers do need to clean these appliances thoroughly a few times each year. It really is so easy since the messy ice process is no more.

For safety, first unplug the refrigerator and turn all controls to "off," especially the signal arm of an automatic icemaker. Take out all food and protect frozen items from thawing. Remove parts such as crispers, meat pans, shelves and light fixtures. The instruction booklet will explain how to do this.

At the sink, wash everything in warm, sudsy water. A gentle-action scouring pad may be used to clean stubborn food particles from racks. Be sure to remove and wash the water evaporating tray and air grill below the unit. With the crevice tool attachment, vacuum the condenser and other areas where dust may collect. Then wipe the entire inside of the refrigerator and freezer. Refit components and replace food, wiping all jars and containers with a sudsy sponge first. Plug in the appliance and turn controls on.

While the astronauts cope with outer space, many women must cope with inner space. And at times it seems an insoluble problem. Doing the laundry is easy, if you have space for the equipment. But many apartments and houses seem too compact to allow for a washer and dryer.

Maybe you can't install a laundry room, but some of the newer machines make it possible to add washday convenience to almost any abode. There are those appliances that are meant for stay-put installation, but others are roll-abouts. And they come in varying load capacities. So look for a spot, take measurements, check different manufacturers and then choose the equipment that fills the bill.

The bathroom may be an ideal location because that's where dirty clothing collects. A corner or linen closet might hold full-sized washer and dryer stacked one on top of the other. Installation is generally easy since plumbing fixtures are right there.

The kitchen is another natural—close to a water supply. If immediate well space isn't available, the installation of smaller-sized appliances could necessitate the removal of cabinets or rearrangement of other appliances. If the kitchen is big enough, side-by-side models can be used, with a top-ping, double as counter space.

Then there are the easy rolling washing machines that can be kept almost anywhere—a closet, storage unit, even another room. When needed, just wheel to the sink for hookup. There are also hide-away dryers that can be plugged into any outlet for drying-time duty. So take a look at the space age space-savers for your home.

Could Be A Signal

Persistent hoarseness or difficulty in swallowing could be a warning signal of cancer. See your physician, the American Cancer Society suggests.

The disgruntled young lady was complaining bitterly to her roommate about last night's date. "Not only did the rat lie to me about the size of his yacht," she said. "But he made me do all the rowing."

COUNTY AGENT'S 1/2 ACRE

—by—

JOE CLAXON

A good garden soil is capable of producing large yields of high-quality vegetables. It is 10 to 12 inches deep and can hold large amounts of water, but drains quickly after a rain. A good garden soil is easily prepared in a good seedbed and will remain in a crumbly condition throughout the growing season. It will warm up quickly in the spring but does not become excessively hot in summer. It is well supplied with plant food and has an abundance of organic matter.

Soil such as this is built or kept by plowing under manure or other organic materials, such as compost, rotted leaves, straw, or a good cover crop 6 to 8 inches high each year. A 2-inch covering of one of the materials mentioned above will supply enough humus. None of them will supply all the plant food needed. If manure is used, apply 12 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate per 1,000 square feet (or 2 1/2 pounds of fertilizer per 100 square feet) when other organic materials or cover crops are used.

You can improve your soil structure by adding organic materials. They increase the soil's water-holding capacity, but at the same time improve drainage. Don't destroy the benefits derived from the addition of organic matter by plowing or working in the soil when it is too wet. Protect the soil from erosion by planting cover crops or by plowing and leaving in the rough until it is to be prepared in the spring. Rains may wash away the most valuable portion of the soil during winter if left unprotected.

Plowing heavy clay soil in the late fall or early winter will improve soil structure by alternate freezing and thawing. It will also destroy many garden insects. Plow and leave in the rough until the garden is to be planted. This will assist in controlling the erosion.

Your Sanitarian Speaks On Rabies

By Randal E. Ritchie

Warm weather is coming soon and this means children playing outside. It also means people will be letting their dogs run free and there seems to be more and more stray dogs. Put the two together and we come up with more dog bites.

Parents please instruct your children not to pet strange dogs and to stay away from any strange animal and ask them please do not tease or mistreat any animal, because they will fight back by biting. Teach your children not to handle any dead animal they may find.

The main reason for this is not just to eliminate the pain of a dog bite or tetanus shot, but to eliminate the chances of your children getting rabies, or having to take the rabies shots. Just ask someone that has had these rabies shots and you will see what I mean.

Also, a word to the dog owners. If your dog runs loose you should be sure it is friendly and has had rabies vaccination. Your pet running loose stands a good chance of coming in contact with a rabid fox, skunk, etc.

I urge you to help me and your neighbor in controlling the dog bites each year. If, however, your dog does bite someone or you are bitten, please call your Health Department.

SPORTSHORTS

All the Cincinnati Reds players have signed for 1971 and everyone is looking forward to a good season.

A Case History That Ends Happily

Threatened with loss of family and job 15 years ago, Bob G. decided it was time to do something about his alcohol problem, so he joined Alcoholics Anonymous. He hasn't touched a drop of an alcoholic beverage since.

Mr. G., who spoke to the Simon Kenton Family Living classes on Friday, February 19, is just one of thousands who have been helped through AA. The organization, started in Akron, Ohio, helps alcoholics face up to the problem and through a type of group therapy tries to arrest their problems.

Mr. G. still considers himself an alcoholic, since alcoholism is a disease and can never be completely cured. However, through AA he has been able to live a productive and happy life that he almost drank away.

Larry Cain, a member of the fifth period Family Living class, secured Mr. G. and his efforts are appreciated by all.—Reporter

WALTON UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Jimmie Rose

The Walton United Methodist Church has scheduled a special series of evangelistic services for the week beginning Sunday, March 21, at 11:00 a. m., and continuing through the following Sunday—March 28.

Speaker for these services will be Rev. Jimmie Rose, of Wilmore, Ky., an approved evangelist of the United Methodist Church.

Phillip Brooks will be assisting in the song service with special music.

A warm-up service for the revival was held Sunday morning by four representatives of the Jimmie Rose evangelistic team. They told of their many happy experiences in serving their Lord. Speakers were Ed Herringtoft, John Cox, Orvil Birch, and Lee Tolson, all of the Epworth Methodist Church, Lexington.

Special groups will be recognized during each night of the revival next week. Sunday night has been designated as "Family Night"; Monday, members of the WSG will be recognized; Tuesday is "Administrative Board Night"; Sunday School night will be on Wednesday; the WSGS will be honored Thursday; Friday night is set aside for the youth—a great place to go with a date; visitors will be recognized in a special way Saturday evening.

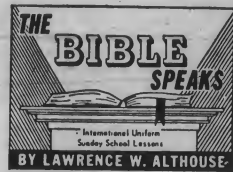

The 24-hour prayer vigil begins on Saturday morning at 7:00. Join in this special prayer time in your home or place of employment.

Invite your neighbors and friends to attend revival services with you next week.

Real evangelism is a chain reaction—the love of God leaps from one human heart to another, accompanied by deeds to match that love.

Lesson for March 21, 1971

Background Scripture: Matthew 25:1-13, Mark 13:28-37
Devotional Reading: Matthew 24:36-44

Most of the parables that Jesus told are teachings about the kingdom of God. Jesus used these stories to help his listeners understand what it was like. He did not describe it in generalities and abstract terms, but illustrated its nature through stories drawn from the lives of people.

Think of what he has said about the kingdom in these stories. In Matthew 13 there is a story about a man who sowed good seed in his field—on the day of judgment the wheat will be separated from the tares; only the righteous will enter the kingdom. In Matthew 18 he tells of a king who settle accounts with his servants—only those who forgive others will enter the kingdom. In Matthew 20 we find a householder who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard—the kingdom is entered by the grace of God, not the merit of men. In Matthew 22 we find a king who gave a marriage feast for his son and sent his servants to call those who were invited—the kingdom will be entered by those who willingly respond to the great invitation.

The price of unreadiness

This week we turn to another parable of the kingdom in which we find that the kingdom may be compared to: "... ten maidens who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom." What is Jesus saying here about the kingdom?

The local wedding customs of Palestine directed that the bridegroom should come to the house of his bride in the evening. The time of his coming is not set for a specific hour, but is left indefinite, thus leading to a humorous suspense to the story. The ten girls are close friends of the bride and it is their duty to wait with her at the bride's home. It was traditional for them to go out to greet and welcome the bridegroom and escort him in honor to the bride.

When the delayed bridegroom comes, five of the girls are out trying to buy some additional oil for their lamps which have gone out. We may wonder why the five wise bridesmaids did not share their oil reserves with the others. Is Jesus telling us not to share what we have? No, this is only a detail in the story and is not intended to be an example for the Christian.

The point of the parable, then, is that failure to be ready for the kingdom's opportunities will keep us from experiencing them. We have, therefore, added to our list of people who will be excluded from the kingdom. Already it includes: those who reject the invitation; those who are preoccupied with other matters; those who deny mercy to others—and now we add: those who do not prepare themselves for its coming.

Paved with "good intentions"

There was nothing evil about the five "foolish" girls. They did not reject the invitation. They were not too preoccupied to come. They were not hateful or proud or unforgiving. They were simply careless. How foolish to lose such an opportunity!

You may think that this is a comparatively harmless failing, yet we must remember that "the way to Hell is paved with good intentions." Very often the greatest judgment falls, not upon the evil (of whom little or nothing is expected), but upon the good (who should know better).

Is this not one of our great dangers today? Many of us do not reject the great invitation of Christ's kingdom, yet, having heard his call, we are nevertheless unready when the opportunity comes.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

"The Christian's Duty to the State"

By James D. Johnson
Romans 13:1-7

The basic problem today is the same that existed in Paul's day. The problem of the Christian's obligation to the State. This problem is made manifest because Christians are not receiving proper guidance from God's ministers of the Gospel.

We ministers today dwell on the Bible in general but never make any specific remarks on the Christian's duty to the state. Paul paved the way for us in these few verses of Romans 13:1-7. There are three major things Paul has to say about the Christian's obligation to the power of government.

First, he states that this is the power of God. Paul does not eliminate any man because he is a Christian. He must obey the laws of the land. Paul said, "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers..." The just and the unjust must obey these civil laws.

Paul glorifies the name of God in this respect. God has all power. The powers of civil law are ordained of God. The State is of God and has its origin from God. The rulers reign because God wills it. There must be no resistance to these powers. Resisting the law is wrong and would be taking action against God Himself. Punishment is forthcoming.

This also eliminates one from say, "my conscience tells me this law is not good, therefore I do not have to obey it." If the law is ordained thru power process it can be also eliminated only in the same manner. If we govern ourselves in disorderly fashion we could pick out the laws we do not like and disobey them. What a state of chaos this would bring upon our land. Israel tried it. God denounced Israel. Israel suffered.

Secondly, we need to observe at this point that those who have rule over us are ministers of God for our good (v. 4). As long as one obeys the laws they need not have fear. Paul wrote, "... do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same" (v. 3b).

Those who do evil need to be afraid for they will be punished with the power given to these ministers of God ordained for this purpose. (The word "ordain" as used here is misleading unless you study the word form. It does not mean the laying on of hands as with His clergyman but God has permitted them to have authority to keep the laws of the land). Therefore, we must be subject to these rulers of the promised wrath and of our conscience.

Thirdly, we must realize our obligation is to pay the cost of these ministers of God. We must not complain because we must pay them to rule over us. We must realize that they are God's elected ministers of the State to attend to God's civil business of his people; to receive our dues and tribute and custom from us; they are to be feared by all law breakers; and the are to receive honour. Everyone must pay taxes, Christian and non-Christian alike for their support.

We would, that in our closing statement, that all see that positively the state exists for the well being of the community; and, negatively the state exists just for a check against evil. To avoid God's wrath administered by the magistrates we must always follow God's guidance if we are to enjoy a rich and fruitful life on this earth.

When Tom retired, it seemed as if his dreams had come true. For years he and Grace had been planning. There would be that little pink house in Florida and time to do all the things they wanted. They could keep in touch with their friends back home, and there would be occasional visits back and forth.

What they hadn't realized was how much they would miss their church. It had been such a part of their life! Now it seemed that no other church could fill the gap. In fact, they didn't go to another church their first few weeks in Florida.

But finally one Sunday they went to the little church they had been passing each day on the way to the golf course. True, it wasn't like the church back home—outwardly. But, when you got down to essentials, it was the same.

If you have moved to another community, find a new church home. Regardless of its appearance, remember that it is God's House and in it you will be welcome.

$100,000 Damage To Warehouse

The freak wind storms which struck spottily throughout Northern Kentucky early Monday, March 15, slammed into the New Burley Tobacco Warehouse, U. S. 25, at Richmond, and did an estimated $100,000 damage.

"The back of the warehouse was blown off its foundation," H. I. Miranda, president of the house, said. "And about two-thirds of the roof was ripped off."

"In round figures, it looks like $100,000 damage just to the building. That does not include what was stored inside."

Miranda said Square D Co., Industrial Park, Florence, had leased the warehouse for storage.

John Coleman, general foreman at Square D, said there is no estimate of the damage to the electrical equipment.

Miranda said the wind damage produced two freak mishaps at the building. A heavy wood rafter was thrown up in the air and came down endways right through the roof, and an empty 10-foot long gas tank, out in front, was blown across the front of the building. A hose was screwed into the tank, and the wind apparently unscrewed the hose and blew it away.

The guest watched with amazement the small boy amuse himself by driving nails into the furniture. Recovering himself a bit, he said to his host, "Joe, isn't that an expensive pastime your son has? How can you afford it?" "Oh, it's not bad," answered the father. "We get the nails wholesale."

Local Teacher Is Honored by PTA

James S. Smith

The Walton-Verona PTA has honored one of its faithful and long-time members with a lifetime membership in the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"There are so many people in our community worthy of this honor, but we can give only one certificate," stated Mrs. Edward Lay, president.

Principal Billy Prewitt, a member of the selecting committee, read the citation, "This certifies that James S. Smith is a lifetime member of the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers. This membership is given in recognition of devoted and distinguished services to children and youth." It was signed by Mrs. George Spoonmore, Jr., State President.

The secret of the nominee was so well kept that no one made arrangements to see that Mr. Smith was present. He and Mrs. Smith have dedicated many years of their lives to teaching in the Walton-Verona school—hardly ever missing any activity—going beyond the classroom to give leadership to the youth in helping them develop into responsible citizens.

The Monday night program was given by the elementary band, directed by James Layne.

Mrs. Layne's fifth grade won the room count. Devotions were given by John Johnson.

SEATBELTS ARE PEOPLE STOPPERS

When an auto stops suddenly in a collision, or emergency, the people inside keep going with tremendous force. What stops them? The windshield, steering wheel, dash, all too often with tragic results.

But seatbelts stop people, too—safely. With your seatbelt fastened you stay put when your car stops suddenly.

Seatbelts are the best people stoppers!

Electric power does so many jobs so well. That's why most families add new appliances and equipment every year — and use more electricity as a result. Sometimes, a wiring system has so many chores to do that it gets overworked. And then, appliances and equipment may not work properly... lights may dim occasionally... TV pictures flicker.

Think about it. Was your home wired to provide as much power as you're using now? For safety's sake, let one of our experts give your wiring system a safety check-up. Call us or drop by.

Be certain your home has adequate electrical entrance equipment (fuse box) for your current use of electrical power. If lights dim or motors start slowly, you should have your system checked so you can make full use of rural electric power.

Your Sanitarian Speaks On Pollution

By Randal E. Ritchie

Please read this silently because we have heard so much talk about water and air pollution that now we have a problem of noise pollution.

We have had public hearing after public hearing on regulations and implementation of plans until our ears ache.

It would seem to me that it is time for action. We can not afford to sit and wait for someone else to act. I suggest each of you reading this, write your federal, state and local representative and demand that they act to see that the regulations we now have are enforced. Please no noisy demonstrations, this would just add to noise pollution. Take the time right now to write everyone that you believe can help in stopping water and air pollution. Pollution will not be stopped or controlled unless we all join together and do all that is necessary to stop pollution. You do your part, ask your neighbor to do the same and be sure you let every government agency, that should be involved in stopping pollution, know that you want them to stop the noise pollution and act in controlling air and water pollution.

The longer you wait the more it'll cost to clean up our air and water. We should all stop burning and start working for safe sewage systems in every heavily populated area.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

SPRING IS HERE! Yes, Spring is here, and with Spring comes not only the singing of the birds, the gathering of honey by the bees, the release from the pressure that all mothers have when their children will be able to play outside after the weeks of cold and snowy winter weather. Yes, all these things are part of the transition from Winter into Spring. But at New Banklick Baptist Church there is something else that is creating a great period of excitement in the air. It is time for our SPRING REVIVAL!

Yes, The Spring revival begins on Monday, April 12 and will go thru Sunday, April 18. We have been very fortunate to have come and preach to us Southern Baptist Evangelist Arzell Hyche. Evangelist Hyche is certainly no stranger to Kentucky, having held revivals in the most Southern parts of our State. He has held revivals in Alabama, Missouri, Michigan, Texas, Kentucky and in other States. He is very active in evangelistic work. We do encourage you to set your date for this event and we believe once you hear him you will come again and again.

We will have special singing each night. We have been very fortunate in having the Teen-Tones from the Latonia Christian Church to come sing to us on Saturday night, April 17. There will also be special music each night by the Adult, Youth and Junior Choirs of the New Banklick Baptist Church, as well as special groups being formed for this week of revival.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AT NEW BANKLICK has reached a new high. Yes, like the mountain climbers strive to reach the top of Mt. Everest, so has been the battle among the departments of our Sunday School. The reward to the victor will be a beautiful

Blue and Gold Attendance Banner. The facts are just about all in for the first quarter. Who will the victor be? One thing for certain is that the Adult Department was left holding the bag. The battle is the way it looks at the present with only two weeks to go for the announcement of the first winner:

February Weeks	Adults	Youth	Child.
1	29%	34%*	34%*
2	37.5%	52%	54%*
3	62.1%	70%	80%
4	58.9%	69%*	68%
March 1	44.3%	57.8%*	38%
2	59%	87.1%*	67.1%

*notes tied or in lead

THE YOUTH DEPARTMENT is in the lead by one at this writing. The Children's Department is still in the race. Watch this column in future issues for the winner.

We do want to recognize our PRIMARY I CLASS for having a perfect grade on Sunday, March 14th. The class members are Mrs. Gilberta Kidwell, teacher; Michelle Young, Sally Jo Washum, Doug Spada, and Diana Stansel. This fine class is to be congratulated for a job well done. Keep up the good work all you pupils! The pastor of New Banklick Baptist Church, James D. Johnson, wishes to express his many thanks to all of you who have been so wonderful in responding to the General Mills Coupons for little Tommy Davis. The victory is still not won. The need is still great. Won't YOU please help by sending your coupons to New Banklick Baptist Church, 225 Banklick Road, Walton, Ky. 41094. We sent several thousand in our first mailing. God is going to bless a lot of wonderful people who answered a plea for help.

If you are one without a church home and you enjoy good gospel singing and preaching, we invite you to visit our church. Be believe you will stay.

BLUE RIBBON 4-H CLUB

The March meeting of the Blue Ribbon 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs. West, and was brought to order by Vice President Patty Gash. Pledges and songs were led by Brenda Duncan and accompanied by Laura West on the organ.

New business: Rally Day training, March 30; skating party, April 6; Rally Day, April 17. Almost all the members plan to participate. Junior Achievement for all county and area record book winners is April 16, and they will tour the Kraft Food Plant in Owenton. Lisa and Laura West will attend. The cancer drive will be a project our club will help with.

We all signed a get-well card for President Brenda Gibson, who has been ill. Two members are leaving to join new Horse and Pony Club just starting. We will miss them, as their mother, a co-leader, is also leaving the club.

Lisa West presented the program, a talk on "Meal Planning," and Laura West gave a demonstration on "Clearing the Table."

The meeting adjourned and Wilda Stephens led decretion after refreshments were served.—Lisa West

The only person who listens to both sides of an argument is the woman in the apartment next door.

WHEN ACCOUNTS ARE SETTLED
Lesson for March 28, 1971

Background Scripture: Matthew 25:14-30.
Devotional Reading: Hebrews 3:1-4.

Henry had been an employee at the local store for ten years. Then, one day he died. "Are you going to hire someone to fill Henry's vacancy?" a customer asked. The proprietor paused, then said, "Henry was a nice fellow, but he didn't leave a vacancy."

This might be an apt description of many people we know. They are not greatly missed, not because they are troublesome personalities, but because they cause us to be a little better. Rev. Althouse cause they seldom do anything that is really worthwhile or notable. It is easy not to miss them because they rarely made much of an impression upon us.

The one-talent man

Some people might say in self-defense that they cannot help their insignificant existence. They feel that they were "behind the door when the talents were passed out," that in contrast to others they were greatly shortchanged by their Creator. You can't expect much of people who were given nothing, they protest.

This parable in Matthew 25 tells us, however, that the question is not, how much have we been given, but what do we do with that which we have? It is certainly true that we are not all equal when it comes to talents and potentialities. Some of us are very gifted, while others of us seem to have few and very small talents. So in the parable of the talents we find that one man is given five talents, another two, and a third, one. This is the way we find it in life. (In the New Testament "talent" is a measure of weight, so that a talent in the parable means so many pounds of gold, silver, or some other metal used as a medium of exchange.)

When the owner of the household returns, he does not judge the servants on the number of talents they present to him. He does not expect that all will return to him the same amount. What he does expect is that each one will have used what he was given to make some kind of profit. He expects to receive what he gave plus something more. From the one talent man, therefore, he expects, not ten talents as the first servant gave him, but at least one talent and something additional.

So it will be with the judgement of God that each of us face. We will be judged, not on the basis of what others have done with their God-given gifts, but what we have done with ours. God has given some endowment to each of us and he expects us to do something worthwhile or fruitful with what we have.

The wicked and slothful servant The owner's judgement on the one-talent servant seems harsh at first glance: "You wicked and slothful servant! ... So take the talent from him ..." (25:26, 28). Was not the man simply afraid? No, the implication here is that the servant tries to cover up his laziness by turning the blame on to the owner himself: "I knew you to be a hard man ..." Jesus implies that this is simply an excuse, a dodging of responsibility. In other words, he is saying, don't try that sniveling excuse when you face God's judgement; it won't stand up.

"For to every one who has will more be given," says Jesus, "... but from him who has not, even what he has will be taken away" (25:29). Once again, the judgement seems harsh, but if we use well the little we have, our good stewardship will bring us the responsibility for managing more. The reverse, of course, is also true.

Once again Jesus tells a parable to describe the kingdom of God: the coming of the kingdom will mean a settling of accounts with the Lord and there will be no place for excuses.

There are days when Jim feels "all geared up." Like many men today, he has the sense of being just a cog in a wheel—no real identity. This is wrong!

It takes a great many Jims, all kinds, to keep the wheels turning. But each is important, and each is an individual. God intended men to have not only a sense of identity, but a basic self-esteem.

Maybe you've been underestimating yourself! Maybe you've been feeling that you are just one of the crowd! If so, during this Lenten season you'd better take a new look at both the world and yourself.

For a new perspective, maybe you'd better start going to church.

This Is Welfare!

by

M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

The following story came to my attention in Washington recently. It comes from an exchange of letters which appeared in a Pennsylvania newspaper. I pass it on to you as one more example of the urgent need for realistic welfare reform.

The first letter was from an outraged taxpayer relating the cost of a full-time factory worker in Lancaster, Pa., with a wife and seven children who lived in public housing, drew food stamps, and a welfare check of more than $200 a month. The worker had purchased a new station wagon at a cost of approximately $5,000.

Two days later, in the same newspaper's "letters to the editor" column appeared a letter which said in effect, "I am the guy the taxpayer is talking about. Yes, I use those welfare checks to make the payments on my car, and I'll collect all the welfare money I can get because my earning capacity is below my living standards." He ended by telling the taxpayer to "take a walk."

Six days after the first letter to the editor an unpaid, volunteer member of the Lancaster County Board of Assistance, since 1963, resigned because he said the board was powerless to curtail welfare abuses.

This volunteer told of the case of another Lancaster full-time worker whose pay check was $480 a month. In addition, he received a veterans allowance of $195 and a welfare check for $280 for a total of $955 per month.

He also noted a person can move to Lancaster from anywhere else and on the day of arrival get an emergency assistance grant for two weeks—without an investigation or anything else.

You can see why there are a lot of taxpayers across the country who are completely frustrated to the point of rebellion against these and other rank abuses of the assorted welfare programs.

COUNTY AGENT'S 1/2 ACRE

Recent snows and rains have kept fields soft and damp, thus delaying the application of fertilizer for the coming growing season. This delay in fertilizing may force the state's farmers into a bind. If too many farmers postpone fertilizer deliveries until it is planting time, a critical supply problem could develop.

Transportation and storage facilities available to the fertilizer industry will not permit dealers to handle in a week or ten days the large volume of orders usually placed in a 30-40 day period.

If farmers continue to postpone ordering, some may find it necessary to delay planting or put crops in without adequate fertilization. In any case, both yield and net returns will be reduced.

The bind can be avoided if farmers will place orders and accept deliveries as far ahead of planting time as possible. If this doesn't happen, some farmers may not get the fertilizer when they want and need it. Have soil tested for greater crop yields and net returns. Bring soil samples to the Extension Office.

Each year, according to highway authorities, more than $50,000 has to be spent in the United States to keep trash off the shoulders of the primary highways which has been thrown there by litterbugs who continue to treat the countryside as a garbage dump. Also, each year, these same authorities say, hundreds of motorists are killed and thousands seriously injured in swerving their cars to avoid objects thrown on the highways. With this being so, a litterbug could also be a lifesaver.

The litter problem in America has reached the proportions of a national disgrace and is a direct result of the thoughtlessness of millions of individuals. It will be eliminated only when these careless habits are changed and when everyone becomes concerned enough to carry a litterbag in his car, and use it.

A litterbag is a simple and inexpensive device, but rightly and religiously used, it could have a profound effect upon the appearance of this nation.

The litterbag has a cosmetic effect by helping prevent blotches on the beautiful face of America.

Two secretaries were discussing their troubles. "All I asked him," said one, "was if he wanted the carbon copies double spaced too and he blew his top."

CARD OF THANKS—

Thanks to Supt. and Mrs. Earl Roberts, the Walton-Vernon school faculty, the office personnel and cafeteria workers, the PTA, Mrs. Thelma Smith, and third grade children for the beautiful floral offerings; also friends, relatives and neighbors for food, gifts, cards and letters; a special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glacken for taking care of our home. Your many expressions of kindness were gratefully appreciated.

6th District PTA Conference Held

Twenty-six district officers, as well as chairmen and delegates, represented 57 units and seven councils at the Spring Conference of the Sixth District of Kentucky Congress of PTA, held at the Erlanger Baptist Church on Thursday, March 25. The District now boasts a membership of 24,650 with the Clara Kees Membership Cavel award going to the Petersburg PTA for having 250 percent membership.

The District is donating $25.00 to the Kentucky Congress Scholarship Fund in memory of deceased past presidents of the district.

Mrs. George White, first vice president of the Ky. Congress, installed Mrs. William Lauterwasser, second vice president; Mrs. Ralph Pfalzgraf, recording secretary, and Mrs. Robert Cody, corresponding secretary—newly elected district officers.

A special welcome was extended to delegates from Deming PTA, newest county in the district, and to representatives from Conner High School, newest unit in the district.

Each of the council presidents and the district officers and chairmen gave their oral reports.

The "Play Ball for Headquarters" project received $368.50, according to Mrs. Cecil Turner.

Mrs. Charles Hicks, safety chairman, declared Campbell County High PTA as the winner of the district Safety Plaque, with ribbons going to the 9th District School and Cold Springs.

Mrs. Malcolm Fletcher, scholarship chairman, reported the presentation of $4,025 toward scholarships and teacher education throughout the district.

An entertaining musical program was presented by children of the Florence Elementary School, under the direction of Miss Doris Butler, music teacher.—Pub. Chm.

BAPTIST WOMEN MEET

The Baptist Women of Wilmington Baptist Church, Fiskburg, met in the home of Mrs. Bob Cooper, March 4, with 12 members and three visitors in attendance. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Lyle Spillman, president.

The devotional was in charge of Mrs. James Bailey, reading Col. 3:12-17, and leading in prayer. Minutes and treasurer's report were read and approved.

Roll call was held and each answered with the name of the book of the Bible they liked and why.

After the business session, the meeting was turned over to the leader, Mrs. B. N. Spegal. The lesson, "It's Up To You," a Jewish-Baptist Communications. Four members gave a skit which was very interesting.

All members had a part in the lesson, which was closed with prayer by Mrs. Marion Collins, Jr.

The group will have a pot-luck supper on Wednesday, April 7, at 6:00 p. m. at the church, followed by a study course taught by Bro. Creasy.

The awards are based on four areas, including high scholastic achievement, test scores, recommendations, and evidence of leadership.

Named from this area was Miss Hettie L. Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Taylor, Catalina Drive, Walton. Besides other achievements, Miss Taylor is a member of the Beta Club, the Student Council, and the FTA.

Pre-School Clinic At Walton-Verona

The Walton-Verona School will hold a pre-registration and clinic on Monday, April 5 from 9:30 to 11:00.

All parents must bring to the clinic a certificate from a duly licensed physician stating that the child has been immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis and smallpox. Also, the parent must bring the child's birth certificate. A birth certificate may be obtained by sending two dollars with hospital record to the "Office of Vital Statistics, 275, East Main Street, Frankfort, Ky. 40601."

Both the immunization record and the birth certificate must be presented before the child can be registered. All children who will be six years old on or by December 31, 1971 are requested to attend the clinic at the Walton school building.

This will also include those children who will attend the All-Saints School. The County Health Nurse, Dr. Cress, will be at the school to give vaccinations and check immunization sheets.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday night, April 29 at 8:00 p. m., in the firehouse.

'71 Tobacco Crop Is To Be Smaller

According to a release from Washington, tobacco growers will plant a 1971 crop six percent smaller than the 899,000 acres harvested last year. This was reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Growers of flue-cured tobacco, used in cigarettes, intend to set about eight percent fewer acres than last year.

With average yields, the department said, production could fall 15 percent below last year's 1.9 billion pounds.

Even with larger beginning stocks, next season's supply would total less than in 1970-71, it was said.

Average yields would result in a crop of about 1.7 billion pounds, one-tenth less than last year.

The smaller crop, plus an expected unchanged carryover would produce a supply three percent smaller than the 5.57 billion pounds for 1970-71.

The crop would be about five percent below estimated requirements for 1971-72 and the carryover therefore would be less.

W-V Band Now Wired For Sound

The Walton-Verona High School Band may have scored a first. Its members are now wired for sound.

Each band member carries a small transistor-type radio receiver with an ear plug. The system is used while marching.

James D. Layne, band director, has a two-way transceiver with which he can radio instructions to his band members.

The radio communication system was especially developed for bands by a firm called Band Director, Inc., of Louisville.

"They tell us we're the first band in the Greater Cincinnati area to have them," Layne said. "And one of perhaps a dozen bands in the U. S. to make use of this new system."

Mr. Layne said, "I expect that in the next year most of the bands in the area will have them."

The receiving units are slightly larger than a cigarette package. They utilize a citizen band frequency.

Layne said the 50 receivers and two transceivers were purchased for the band at a cost of approximately $900 by the Walton-Verona Band Boosters Club.

The Current Animal Problem In Boone

The Boone County SPCA will be picking up unlicensed dogs and other animals at least until April 6 when applicants for the job of dog warden will be interviewed by the Fiscal Court and a permanent dog warden chosen. Afterwards, the SPCA hopes to be working with the dog warden.

If, during this period, you miss your dog, please contact the SPCA at once (485-4629). Dogs must be held at least seven days, after which they are given out for adoption or disposed of humanely. We want to find owners whenever possible. There will be no charge for the return of any animal except the buying of a tag ($1.50) if it does not have one. This is called for by the Kentucky Dog Law.

Be sure your dog wears his tag at all times. This makes it possible to find the owner at once by tracing the tag number if the dog is mistaken for a stray and picked up.

Descriptions of dogs being held will be published regularly in order to find their owners or to find homes for homeless puppies, dogs and cats. There will be no charge for animals given out for adoption—we just want to know they will be given proper care, said a spokesman.

These movies were greatly enjoyed by the members.

Members present were: Mrs. Edward Andress, Mrs. Erwin Dewald, Mrs. Raymond Dickson, Mrs. Tom Ellis, Mrs. William Andress, Mrs. Wilson Hall, Mrs. Virgil Kelly, Mrs. Roy Kumlner, Mrs. William Letcher, Mrs. Raymond McHale, Mrs. Faye Powers, Mrs. William Scheper, Mrs. Anthony Schneider, Mrs. Vern Stephens, Mrs. Tony Sterbling, Mrs. William Wolsing, Mrs. Ernest Olson, and Mrs. Lloyd Spegal.

Mayor's Proclamation For Cancer Crusade

Whereas, there are more than 1,500,000 Americans alive today, who have been cured of cancer, and

Whereas, 25 years ago fewer than one-in-five cancer patients was being saved. Today, one out of three is cured of cancer, and

Whereas, one out of two cancer patients can be cured with present knowledge and methods of treatment, if diagnosed in time and properly treated, and

Whereas, an annual physical check-up and knowledge of the Seven Warning Signals of Cancer popularized by the American Cancer Society can help save thousands of lives from cancer, and

Whereas, some cancers can be prevented; most lung cancers are caused by cigarette smoking, and most skin cancers by frequent exposure to direct sunlight, and

Whereas, public education can help save thousands of lives now being lost to preventable cancers, and

Whereas, the American Cancer Society has produced life-saving leaflets about the checkup and the Seven Warning Signals, that are being distributed to the people of our county, and

Whereas, the American Cancer Society is stepping up its research efforts in the search for causes and cures of cancer,

Therefore, Be It Resolved—

That all residents of this city be urged to support the educational and fund-raising efforts of the American Cancer Society, Boone County Unit, as part of Cancer Control Month in April.

Done under by hand this first day of April in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Seventy-One.

K. DALE STEPHENS, Mayor, City of Walton, Kentucky

THANKS EXPRESSED

I would like to take this opportunity to say thanks to all the fine people of Walton-Verona for their support of this year's basketball team. It's most rewarding and inspiring when these fine boys know that "you," the fans, keep up with their progress and are always wishing them well.

It has indeed been a privilege for me to work with these fine boys. They become almost like part of the family. When I hear kind remarks about these boys, it makes me just as proud as if it were my own son. They truly have been a group of boys dedicated to one task, and that has been to win. They certainly did win and they won the best way possible. They won with hard work, team play and the greatest in sportsmanship.

Again I say you fans were great in your support. I realize that there are many who would attend more games if there were adequate facilities to sit and watch a game. We realize the situation and cannot blame no one for not attending home games, but still we cherish your concern and good wishes.

We have every reason to believe that basketball will continue to be good at Walton-Verona. We have an excellent group of boys back next year. So, I would like to invite you now to keep up with the boys next year and I am sure that will represent this community in the manner in which you would like for it to be represented.

Cochs Tillery and myself appreciate you parents and fans more than you probably would guess. So, watch those "BEARCATS" go in '72.

Sincerely,
MORRIS R. TYLER

Fly Kites Safely...away from Electric Wires!

The best place to fly your kite is in the open...away from electric wires, radio and TV antennas.

SO PLAY IT SAFE FOR HOURS OF FLYING FUN.

1. Tell dad never to use his metal ladder near an electric service line to retrieve a kite. The shock he can get... if he or his metal ladder touches the electric service wires... can be extremely dangerous. Even fatal. Of course, so can the resulting tumble from the ladder.

2. Don't climb a pole or yank on the string if a kite gets caught in an electric line. LEAVE IT THERE AND CALL US IMMEDIATELY.

3. Use a dry non-metallic string. It's dangerous to use a wire kite line or any string or kite tail with wire, tinsel or other metallic substance in it.

4. Never use metal in a kite's tail or frame. Any part of a kite that conducts electricity can cause serious injury or death.

5. Leave kite indoors on a rainy day.

6. After a thundershower, wait until the ground, grass, shrubbery and trees are dry to prevent the kite string from getting damp. (Any dry string can become damp if you fly your kite after a shower.)

7. Don't run into the street while flying a kite.

Remember... fly your kite away from electric wires on a bright, clear sunny day.

The new terminology takes some getting used to. When politicians speak of "Tax Reform" they do not necessarily mean spreading the load more equitably. What they do mean is that taxes are going to be higher for everyone.

Home Agent's Party Line

One of the best ways to save money on your food dollar is to shop the specials. It has been estimated that as much as one-third of the meat dollar can be saved by buying specials. Here are some excellent ideas for using beef chuck.

If you have some freezer space you may be in a position to take advantage of chuck values. Here is a basic starter recipe for tenderizing cubed chuck and shortening the cooking period for several different delicious dishes for later meals.

Beef "Starter" Recipe

Six lbs. chuck beef, cut in 1-inch cubes; ½ cup all purpose flour; ½ cup melted fat; 1 cup sliced onion; celery tops; 3 bay leaves; 2 quarts of boiling water.

Dredge beef in flour. Brown beef in fat. Place browned beef and remaining ingredients in a large utensil. Cover and cook over low heat about 2½ hours, or until meat is tender. Cool thoroughly. Strain beef stock. Divide meat and stock into five parts, cover meat with stock. Package each part in moisture-vapor-proof wrapping material. Freeze. Use one part meat and stock in recipes.

Now with only about a half hour's cooking you can have a variety of family favorites all ready to serve. For example:

Broiled Beef On Skewers

One part beef cubes and stock, thawed; 8 mushroom caps; 4 small white onions, cooked; 1 green pepper, cut in 1½ squares; 8 bacon slices. Place beef cubes, mushroom caps, onions, and green pepper alternately on skewers. Wrap 2 bacon slices around each kabab. Fasten with toothpicks. Broil 3 inches from broiling unit 5 minutes on each side. Penny Wise Beef Stroganoff ½ cup minced onions; ¼ cup of melted butter; 1 part beef cubes and stock, frozen; 1 teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce; dash Tabasco; 1 6-oz. can of mushroom slices, drained; 1 cup sour cream.

Cook onions in melted butter until soft. Add beef, stock, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco, and mushrooms. Cover and cook over low heat 20 minutes. Add sour cream and heat to serving temperature. Serve beef Stroganoff over rice, noodles, or warmed shoestring potatoes.

I can't think of anything worse than being all ready to duck under the covers on a zero night and discovering that the water bed has frozen solid.

COUNTY AGENT'S ½ ACRE

—by—

JOE CLAXON

On the first pretty day of spring, thousands of home owners rush to their lawn supply store to buy grass seed. But the various displays of different types of seed often confuse the homeowner — he just doesn't know what type is best for his lawn.

A homeowner can pay $3.98 for one pound, or $3.98 for five pounds, and the seed he chooses depends on the type the lawn needs. Price should not be the yardstick in measuring what you buy in lawn seed. Here are some tips on avoiding the pitfalls which trap many seed buyers:

—Read the label. It should tell the buyer what kind of lawn seed is in the package, the percent of each kind of mixture, its germination percentage, where it was grown, number of weed seed, and number of crop seed. These labeling procedures are required by the Kentucky law to protect the consumer.

—You should decide what type of seed you need before you go to the store. Most Kentucky lawns will be a Kentucky bluegrass or a mixture of Kentucky bluegrass and other grasses. For reseeding, Kentucky bluegrass should be used; preferably one grown in Kentucky or the variety Kenblue. Both of these types have proven superior to all other varieties in test here at UK. However, red fescue or other fine leaf fescue may be present in the seed bag if it is a mixture, and this is good, because red fescues grow very well in shaded areas. They are often mixed with Kentucky bluegrass when there is expected to be some shade in the home lawn.

Other lawn grasses such as bentgrass may be present, are not recommended. They demand too much watering and management for most home lawns in Kentucky.

Tall fescue, although an excellent turfgrass by itself, should not be used in a mixture. If you want a tall fescue lawn, then you should seed the straight fescue—Kentucky 31 or Kenwell, at a rate of 6 to 8 pounds per thousand square feet of lawn.

Other grasses that may be found in lawn mixtures are Meadow fescue, annual or Italian ryegrass, perennial ryegrass and redtop. None of these merit consideration for a home lawn in Kentucky.

Lawns of 100 percent tall fescue may be desirable where there will be lots of activity and play.

Hawaii has the world's largest active and inactive volcanoes.

Time Out For Beauty

The Effective Eye

There's no doubt about it; this is the beauty year of the eyes, and anyone who is still a naysayer about eye makeup is probably walking around missing nine-tenths of her beauty potential. The eyes, whether subtle or dramatic, are the focal points of the face, and beautifully made-up eyes can make a woman feel instantly glamorous while the naked, unadorned orb can make a lady feel dowdy and look peaked.

There are all sorts of ways to emphasize and dramatize eyes, and one of the most versatile inventions to come along is Dorothy Gray's Eye Effects compact. This clever little makeup case contains a pan of White Pearl powdered highlight color and a pan of Soft Brown along with green and blue eyeshadows and a handy little foam tipped applicator. All sorts of the prettiest optical illusions are possible with this one little device.

by Rosanna

H! My name is Rosanna, and about once a month I am going to pass along to you some thoughts about that comfy old shoe that we all just take for granted: salt.

It is no accident that the term "salary" grows out of the word "salt." And salt can make your salary grow, since the white gold in that familiar blue package costs only half a penny or so an ounce. You just have to know how to use it in many handy ways.

Soaked in salt, rubbed on, salt can be refresh- Chicago 60606 ing, make you healthier, even relieve tension. It can help preserve the glow of beauty one moment, yet lend a hand in cleaning and household chores the next. There are so many uses for salt that it sometimes is called the "fifth element." (Remember the others? Air, earth, fire and water.)

I will be telling you about salt's many uses later, but meanwhile, if you would like a brand new, handy little booklet that gives a lot of household hints with salt, just clip this article and the name of your newspaper and send them to me marked "Salty Solutions." Do you know why we must have salt to stay alive? Our blood contains about the same concentration of salt as seawater does. Some doctors, though, restrict salt intake in a few of their patients to help relieve certain special medical problems. If you are in this group, there is a new salt substitute on the market that is tastier than most. Just watch for the little umbrella girl.

Student: I don't think I deserve a zero on this paper, teacher. Teacher: Neither do I, but it's the lowest grade I'm allowed to give.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

OUR RECREATION DIRECTOR —RAY MERCER—has been invited to write an article about the NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH and our recreation program. Brother Ray's article will appear in a future issue of the Convention's "Recreation" magazine. This magazine is read by over one million people in our Baptist churches in America. Congratulations, Ray Mercer!

THE YOUTH CHOIR of our church is really going strong. With the recent purchase of a new church studio piano, the music ought to be out of this world. We are looking forward to hearing this fine group in the near future. Their director, Mrs. Lois Rinehart, has not given us a date for their debut in public. When this happens, we will announce it first in this column. Plans are well underway for some trips to sing in other churches in the near future. The harder these youth work the quicker these trips will become a reality.

REVIVAL REVIVAL REVIVAL! Just a reminder that our Spring Revival is just a short time away at New Banklick Baptist Church. Yes, if you are one of those who have been long awaiting for some real evangelistic preaching (the Billy Graham style of preaching) then you don't want to miss Evangelist Arzell Hyche from Florence, Ala., who will be with us during the week of April 12 through April 18. You will hear some of the most beautiful gospel and evangelistic music ever. Your soul will be taken on a trip into the realm of reality of contentment as you search for the decision for Him who paid the full price at Calvary, Jesus Christ! These are times "that really try men's souls and cause our youth to keep false relief from this world's persecutions. There has never been nor will there ever be such a relief until one receives Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour and then they can go sailing on the "Good Ship Faith" into an eternal joy and peace that surpasses all understanding. You won't need "Pot," "LSD" or "a fix" to escape the magnetic holding power of this satanic world; only Jesus Christ as Saviour and He will give you rest (Matthew 11:28-31).

We are truly expecting one of the greatest revivals in the history of our church. We can already feel the fires of revival burning in the hearts of our people at this very moment. Souls are already being saved and revived. There has never been the cooperation among Christians as we have been witnessing in our church in the past few months. This is a sign that His Holy Spirit is at work in the hearts of our people. This is the Spirit of Revival. We know that entire families are just waiting to make decisions for Jesus Christ. Husbands are ready to join wives and wives their husbands in a commitment for a Christian Home. If you are one that has wanted to put your home in the right spirit but you have not known how, why not attend our revival services nightly at 7:30 and make those decisions together. You will be glad you did, and God will bless you for your decision for His Son Jesus Christ.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN! Yes, it's that time again for VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNING. New Banklick Baptist Church is no different. Mrs. Louise Mercer, our principal has set the date of April 13 during the hours of 10:00 to 12:00 noon as the time for the first faculty meeting. Everyone who attends will be asked to bring a sack lunch. The church will furnish the beverage, coffee or tea, to those who come. Evangelist Arzell Hyche will speak to the faculty and encourage them to put every effort for a real Vacation Bible School. Our Associational VBS Clinics are to be held April 20, 9:00 to 12:00 noon at Latonia Baptist Church, Latonia, Ky., and April 22, 7:00 to 9:30 p. m., Trinity Baptist Church, Newport, Ky. Each church in our Northern Kentucky Association is urged to attend one of these meetings, and bring your entire staff of teachers and workers. New Banklick will make the one with Latonia Baptist Church.

The pastor and members of New Banklick Baptist Church always enjoy having visitors in our midst. We have a motto in which we say, "When you visit New Banklick Baptist Church, you are a visitor only once; after that we feel you are one of us." We do believe that if you do not have a church home, you will be glad you came our way. We are not the biggest church but we do try to be the friendliest.

WALTON BAPTIST PLANS REVIVAL

Revival services are being planned at the First Baptist Church, Walton, for the week of April 12-18. Services will be held each night at 7:45, and on Sunday at 11:00 a. m.

The week of services will be concluded with a Gospel Sing, beginning at 1:30 p. m., Sunday afternoon, April 18th. The Laydon-Aires from Lexington, and the Big Bone Boys Quartet will be the guest singers.

Evangelist for the revival will be Curtis Warf, pastor of First Baptist Church, Pikeville, Ky.

WALTON UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Special music was provided for the revival services by individuals and by groups, which included: Wm. Brown; a trio of Fanny Thorpe, Karen Yates and Mary Beth Rouse; Misses Patty Claser and Beth Brinkman, students at Simon Kenton High School; Miss Debbie Rose of Wilmore; Colleen Roberts and Mark Wells of Florence; Teen-Tones and Sunshine Sisters from Latonia Christian Church; Mr. and Mrs. John Ackman of Williamstown, and a quartet from our choir, Dorothy Beigle, Fay Conner, Dave Jarman and William Brown.

Pastor Robert Yates wishes to thank everyone who contributed to the success of the revival last week, with Rev. Jimmie Rose as evangelist.

Attendance and interest at the children's opening exercises on Sunday morning is growing steadily. Mrs. Gene Roland is leader. They do need a piano player.

The addition of a new Sunday School class for young adults will be a great help in reaching the goal of 200 in Sunday School, Easter Sunday.

Communion will be served April 4. The WSCS of the Walton Methodist Church will meet Friday evening, April 2 at the church with Mrs. Mary Stephenson as hostess.

A church that works at it can dispel much of the loneliness that lives with many of its members six days a week and sometimes accompanies them to church on Sunday.

Traffic Court Judge: Driving thru that red light will cost you $10 and costs, and next time you'll go to jail, understand? Errant motorist: Yes, your honor, just like the weather report—fine today, cooler tomorrow.

REJECTED CORNERSTONE

Lesson for April 4, 1971

Background Scripture: Matthew 21:1-17, 33-46.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 5:1-2.

Sometimes the parables of Jesus required some deep thinking before their significance was comprehended by his listeners. This was not true of the parable which he tells in Matthew 21:33-46. His audience surely recognized the meaning of "vineyard," for Isaiah had spoken of Israel as God's planted vineyard. My beloved had a vineyard on a very fertile hill. He dug it and cleared it of stones, and planted it with choice vines; he built a watchtower in the midst of it, and hewed out a vine vat in it; and he looked for it to yield grapes, but it yielded wild grapes (Isaiah 5:1a, 2).

The rebellious tenants

So it was not a flattering reference to Israel for the prophet was saying that, despite the tender care God gave his vineyard, it was unfruitful, failing to yield the results he had intended. Once again, then, Jesus is comparing Israel to a vineyard. This time the inference is not that the land is unfruitful, but that the tenants who tend it are rebellious against the owner, refusing to give him the fruits which are rightly his. This parable came as a terrible condemnation to the religious leaders in Jesus' day for Jesus is picturing them as willfully rebellious against God. The problem is not that they don't know any better, not that they are simply making a mistake, but that they are willfully choosing to rebel against God. It was bad enough for Jesus to suggest that they were wrong, but for him to say that they were knowingly rebelling against God must have been a bitter slap in the face.

As Bishop Gerald Kennedy has said, "One of the hardest things to understand about Jesus is his constant attack on classes of people we admire most." These men were zealous advocates of the Jewish faith; they were almost fanatical in their observance of the law; surely he should not have found fault with them!

But he did. And the fault he found was the fault of arrogant pride. They were not humble tenants on God's vineyard, but proud and willful men who were bent on having their own way. It was pride in their supposed moral righteousness that caused them to turn a deaf ear to the prophets.

He sent his son

This is not ancient history but also a description of our own contemporary situation today. God has the greatest difficulty in getting through to those of us who should be easiest to reach, yet, because of our self-righteousness, are most likely to turn a deaf ear to his messengers. Like Israel, the Church is often tempted to take the vineyard into our own hands, to enjoy its fruits and ignore the one who owns it.

In the parable and in Jesus' life, the son also was rejected and, in fact, put to death. This, Jesus points out clearly, is a rebellious, defiant act against the Father himself. So it was not just Jesus whom Israel rejected, but God.

Jesus, who should have been the cornerstone of a renewed Judaism, was utterly rejected by the very people who most should have accepted him. One cannot help but wonder whether we today might stand where they did. Of all people, we should receive the Christ at work in the world today. All that we do should be built upon this cornerstone, yet are we not in danger of rejecting him even as they did?

On a lonely hill a man died slowly, nailed to a cross.

His crime—goodness.

He walked the hills of Judea and the shores of Gallilee, healing and comforting, loving everyone He met. Confidently, simply, He spoke of the Kingdom of Heaven, and crowds hurried to hear His vital words.

To some, His clear, sure talk of the Kingdom and the Way and of Himself the Son of God seemed a threat. And so He suffered on a cross, while a faithful few huddled in its shade and wept at the sacrifice.

Today, the shadow of that cross circles the globe, as people gather in churches around the world to remember that first Good Friday and give thanks for Jesus, the gift of a loving Father. His life and death and resurrection point the way for every man to find joy in the reality of God's love.

NATIONAL POW AND MIA WEEK

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

The week of March 21 was "National Week of Concern for Prisoners of War and Missing in Action." The purpose was to demonstrate nationwide attention for the more than 1500 Americans listed as prisoners of war, or who are missing in action, in Southeast Asia. The people of the United States were called on to observe the week with appropriate ceremonies and activities to register our protest over the treatment these men are receiving at the hands of the North Vietnamese. Why the concern?

Consider the following: It is clear the parties on the other side of this conflict have deliberately chosen to flout their international legal obligations under the 1949 Geneva Convention treaty, which they signed in 1957, and their moral obligations to the prisoners and their families.

1—They are keeping families in agonizing doubt by refusing to identify the prisoners they hold and those they know to be dead.

2—They are keeping prisoners incommunicado for years or have allowed little or no communications between prisoners and their families.

3—They refuse to permit impartial inspection of prisoner of war facilities.

4—They are failing to release sick and wounded prisoners of war and those held captive a long time.

They have failed in virtually every respect to treat our prisoners of war decently or in accordance with internationally accepted standards of civilized behavior. They have chosen, instead, to try to use these men, and our deep concern for them, as bargaining pawns to achieve their political objectives. There are those of us who feel this attitude cannot go unchallenged.

The courage of these men and their families displayed in this situation not only commands our awe and admiration but requires our best efforts in their behalf. You can help—if your church, organization, club or community doesn't already have a project—by joining the national letter writing project which will show the Asian leaders a universal concern for the POW/MIA's.

Draft a letter regarding your views on the inhumane and cruel treatment of the POW/MIA's. The appeal should be humanitarian, not political—be courteous, not abusive. Then prepare and send individual copies of your letter to:

New Banklick Baptist Church Plans Revival

Bro. Arzell Hyche

Meet Evangelist Arzell Hyche. He is a native of Alabama, an active family man, having been blessed with a wonderful wife, Christine, and three boys and two girls. Hyche has preached revivals in many states, including Alabama, Kentucky, Missouri, Michigan, and several others. He was an active pastor for many years before entering full-time evangelism several years ago.

Evangelist Hyche will be preaching in a revival at the New Banklick Baptist Church, April 12-18. Time of services will be 7:30 p. m. for evening and 11:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. for Sunday services. The church is located between Walton and Independence, on Banklick Road.

The music will be under the direction of Gene Parker. The Church Music Department will be responsible for the music each night, except on Saturday night, April 17, which will be the night the Teen-Tones from Latonia Christian Church, will be bringing special music. This group has just completed their first recording. The Junior Choir from New Banklick will be singing on Tuesday night, the 13th, and the Youth Choir of the church with different groups supplying music all other nights and Sunday.

So, for some real good Bible preaching, and good Gospel singing, make your plans to attend each night and on Sunday of an "Old Fashion Revival." The pastor, James D. Johnson, believes it when he says, "if you come once, you'll come again to stay."

Form Measurements

For Kenton County

Fields throughout Kenton County can be measured for producers in the 1971 set-aside farm programs who have requested measurement service from the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

"Professional measurement, with fields staked and referenced, is a valuable aid to farmers signing up for the feed grain and wheat programs. It can assure them they have the required set-aside acreage. It can help establish proof of yields, that is, per-acre production of crops. It can help prevent mistakes which could result in reductions in their farm program payments," the County ASCS Chairman said.

Simon Kenton FHA Alumnae Meeting

The March meeting of the Simon Kenton FHA Alumnae had 14 members and 16 guests present. The meeting was opened by the president, Judy Scheller.

It was announced that the skating party will be on Wednesday, May 5th at Lloyd's. Each girl is asked to sell tickets to help make it a big success.

Plans for the Family Banquet on May 20th were started with girls volunteering for the needed committees.

The program was then presented by Mr. Gilbert Steinberger, lecturer in the Cincinnati area who has classes on ESP, Hypnotism, Reincarnation and Yoga. He discussed each and then gave a demonstration on Yoga. It is something that was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Everyone was given the opportunity to ask questions anytime during his lecture. (There were plenty of questions.)

With the limited time it was impossible to cover each subject thoroughly since they are so deep in content. He put very much emphasis on trust, faith and belief in God. In case someone was wondering, no, he did not hypnotize anyone.

The hostesses, Marilyn Young and Pam Barnes served cake and punch.

The next meeting will be held on April 15th at 7:30 p. m. in the RECC building. The program will be a knitting demonstration and each alumnae member is asked to bring size 8 needles and yarn.

Tobacco Growers' Chemical Restrictions

Tobacco producers are being reminded that they must certify they have not used pesticide products containing DDT or TDE on their 1971 tobacco plantings in order to be eligible for price support on the crop this year.

Alternate materials are available and have been demonstrated to be effective in controlling tobacco-plant pests, said Mose L. Black, Chairman of the Kenton County ASC Committee.

He said the exclusion from price support of tobacco treated with DDT or TDE is necessary in order to maintain the U. S. Export market for tobacco. Several countries which are major importers of American-grown tobacco have set very narrow DDT and TDE tolerance on cured leaf, effective in January, 1973.

SEATBELTS ARE PEOPLE STOPPERS

When an auto stops suddenly in a collision, or emergency, the people inside keep going with tremendous force. What stops them? The windshield, steering wheel, dash, all too often with tragic results.

But seatbelts stop people, too—safely. With your seatbelt fastened you stay put when your car stops suddenly.

Seatbelts are the best people stoppers!

ment, under the direction of Mr. Harold Callen, has announced the officers and teachers meeting for April 21, 6:30 p. m., due to the revival which was in progress during the regular date for this meeting. Also, the Church Wide Fellowship Supper has been changed to April 28, 6:30 p. m., to make possible for the officers and teachers meeting on the regular scheduled date for the Fellowship Supper. The month of May will return to the regular schedule.

WE ARE HAPPY to report to all of you wonderful people of Walton, Independence, Covington, and Ohio areas that we received a note from the parents of little Tommy Davis of California. They expressed their heartfelt thanks for the many coupons you sent to purchase the kidney machine. They did receive enough to obtain the machine. The total number of coupons needed was 800,000. Little Tommy is doing well. May God bless you all.

THE BILLY GRAHAM FILM, "For Pete's Sake," was previewed recently by a group from our church. Jim and Mary Johnson, Francis Beach and Margaret Straub. This is one of the finest Christian films made by World Wide Films. Our group highly recommends that you see it when it comes to your area on April 14 through 20. Our church will be taking a group of our youth to see the film. The cost is only $1.40 each when 25 or more persons attend in a group. It is well worth the price one will pay to see the movie that is as up-to-date as today. You will be glad you went, and happier still if you took a group of youngsters with you.

THE HOLY SPIRIT is really working in the hearts and minds of our people. The worship services of late have been the kind that one can go away filled with the power of the Holy Spirit and have the burning desire to do something for Jesus. Recently in one service we had two to come for baptism. Ten came for repentance and further dedication. The Lord continues to move in our midst. Our people have learned the Bible tactic in defeating Satan. James 4:7 says, "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you." Try it sometime in your church and see the happy results of a Holy Spirit atmosphere instead of friction which is the result of following the devil.

Our pastor, James D. Johnson, invites you and your family to attend Sunday School and Church with us each Sunday from 9:50 a. m. until after the Worship Hour if you do not have a regular Church Home.

WALTON UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

An Easter egg hunt for children of the church will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:00 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cox, Sr. Each child attending is asked to bring four hard-boiled decorated eggs. Miss Wilma Goode is chairman of the event, which will feature prizes and games.

Sunday is the day—200 in Sunday School! Yes, 200 in Sunday School is possible. With classes for every age, there is no excuse to feel left out. This is a day of triumph and rejoicing. Come and share this great time with your friends in the house of the Lord. Better still, bring a family with you.

Read the news item of Good Friday and Sunrise Services on the front page.

The Wesleyan Service Guild will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

David Newcomer, Monday, April 12 at 7:30 p. m.

A church member who feels it is unimportant for him to attend has placed too low an estimate on his value to God and to others.

FLOWERS FOR EASTER

The Bykota Class of the Walton Christian Church will have their annual flower sale for Easter at the Walton Garage, on Friday afternoon, April 9, and all day Saturday, April 10.

Corsages will be $2.50 up, and potted plants $1.25 up. You may place your order by calling 485-4282.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR ME?

Lesson for April 11, 15/1

Background Scripture: 1 Corinthians 15. Devotional Reading: 1 Corinthians 15: 12-19.

Several years ago a convicted murderer was sitting on San Quentin's "death row," waiting for his execution. The man had never had any substantial exposure to religious teaching, but it was suggested that he might allow the chaplain to come and speak with him. Finding the convict virtually uninformed about the Christian faith, the chaplain told him the story of Jesus' life, death, and resurrection.

Rev. Althouse While speaking of Christ's resurrection appearances to his disciples, the prisoner impatiently interrupted: "O.K., O.K., Padre, so this Jesus made it—good for him—but what I want to know is what's in it for me?"

Death shall be no more.

It may seem a very crude question, yet still a relevant one. What does the resurrection of Jesus mean? Is it simply the success story of one man who beat both death and the grave, or is there in it something to do with my life—is there something in it for me?

The early church was convinced that the resurrection of Christ had "something in it" for anyone who would turn to Christ as Lord and Saviour. In Philipians Paul says: "All I care for is to know the power of his resurrection." In Romans he speaks of being "raised" from the dead with Christ. The earliest preaching of the church in the book of Acts is a gospel of the resurrected Christ. So, to be able to sing, "I know that my Redeemer lives," means also to be able to add: "I too, I too shall live." What's in it for me is not only the knowledge that Jesus "made it," but that by his grace I can "make it" too.

John Donne, the English preacher and poet, is best known as the man who wrote, "No man is an island . . ." and that we should never seek to know "for whom the bell tolls . . ." He also had some striking words to say about the Easter faith:

Death be not proud, though some have called thee Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so:
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow Die not, poor Death;
nor yet canst thou kill me.
Why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past,
we wake eternally,
And Death shall be no more:
Dust thou shalt die.

To be able to look death in the eye and say, "Death, not I, but thou shalt die!" that is also part of what's "in" the resurrection faith for us.

Therefore . . .

How can we explain what happens at death? Even when the writers of the four gospels tried to describe the nature of the appearance of the resurrected Christ, they ended up with accounts that were confusing and conflicting. Was he a vision or something solid? Was it his physical body they saw or something else? They could agree on having seen and spoken with Jesus, but they could not agree on the specifics of that experience. Paul describes resurrection as the survival of a "spiritual body," which also may be confusing. What he's trying to communicate here is the idea that by the power of God the spiritual essence or reality of a man survives the experience of bodily death.

If we are assured of the resurrection, if we have a promise of eternity, we can free ourselves from the fear of death and devote ourselves wholeheartedly to whatever work or challenge faces us here and now. Certain of life after death, we can begin to experience life before death. That's what's "in it" for us.

Diary of Our Destiny

Scriptures selected by the American Bible Society

Thus begins the most amazing account of human experience ever written. And so simply, with just a notation of time: the hour, the day, the very moment!

But like a church bell sounding its call to worship, that simple notation of time has become the clarion of a New Life.

So deeply has it penetrated our preoccupation with the routine of every-day existence that millions gather at sunrise to greet the dawn of each Easter Day.

What has given such meaning to one moment in time?

Its PROMISE: Christ is risen. The One Who said, because I live, ye shall live also—He lives!

This tremendous moment, for all who worship Him in faith, became the first entry in the Diary of our Destiny.

Revenue Sharing

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

We continue to hear a great deal about revenue sharing in Washington these days. New plans are advanced weekly on the subject but there is yet to be the first solid legislative proposal introduced.

I fully realize a significant number of urban areas, and states, are faced with very serious fiscal problems. I realize government—at all levels—must find a solution to these serious fiscal situations. But I also feel we are facing the possibility of losing our perspective in the rush to meet the problem. There is only so much revenue (income) available to the Federal government. We are already overextended in many areas of Federal responsibility. We have an existing national debt of nearly 400 billion dollars. So where does the revenue come from?

There are common approaches to making up the revenue needed for sharing. They are (1) to reduce other Federal expenditures which might have been made or (2) to reduce categorical aid programs by the amount of revenue needed.

The best information I have at hand at this time shows the people of some states losing substantial amounts of Federal dollars they would have otherwise received under revenue sharing plans and others gaining over what they are now receiving.

It is interesting to note some of the states gaining under revenue sharing plans are not the ones with the worst fiscal problems. Kentucky is somewhere in the middle on the first plan I mentioned and a loser under the second.

Have we, in fact, acquired the objectives we are seeking? We must examine these distribution effects to determine if revenue sharing is the best answer to the problem.

One of the desired effects is the distribution of new income among the states. Every dollar of this shared revenue must obviously come from some source. All these sources originate in the fifty states. The sources are not the governments of the cities and states. It is the people.

Not likely . . . In an electrically heated home.

There are no cold, drafty floors. Youngsters can play there in comfort . . . even take off their shoes . . . if they choose.

Gentle electric heating radiates like spring sunshine from baseboards, concealed cable or wall heaters. Its amazingly uniform comfort can be controlled room-by-room.

There are central electric comfort conditioning systems too. They provide indoor climate control, year 'round. An electronic filter and humidifier can be included for a cleaner home and healthier family.

$250,000 Fire Hits Walton Last Friday

One of the most destructive fires in the history of Walton struck the central section of the old business district last Friday afternoon. At about 3:50 p. m. a call came in to the firehouse that there was a grass fire in the rear of Boone County Drugs. Arriving at the scene the Walton Volunteer Firemen found that the little fire that had been started by burning trash had spread to the roof of the adjoining garage building. Encouraged by strong westerly winds the entire building was engulfed in flames in just minutes. At one time it appeared that many nearby buildings would be lost as the flames roared into an uncontrollable inferno.

Fifteen autos, a wrecker, and two trucks were parked in the garage and were awaiting repair. The garage was recently opened for auto repairing and painting by Delbert Messmer, Philip Lipscomb, Bill Luttrell and Jim Miller. All vehicles were completely destroyed as well as the equipment.

The building was formerly operated by Clinton Shields as Walton Garage as dealers in Plymouth-Chrysler products. It was owned by Mrs. Cleo Vallandigham.

Village Barber Shop was located in the right front section of the building. It was gutted. However, some of the furniture and tools were saved but all the cabinets and decorations were lost. The barber shop was operated by J. B. Curd and Bernice Witty.

An adjoining building housing the bar known as John's Place was heavily damaged by smoke and water. A slight change in the wind direction is partially responsible in the building not burning.

The Boone County Drug Store building, owned by Wilfred Rice and operated by Preston Art was extensively damaged by smoke and water. It was open for business Saturday morning after a lot of cleaning up. Pieces of burning tar paper were blown several hundred feet across U. S. Highway 25, the Southern Railroad and down High Street in to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gernel Glacken causing a fire which destroyed the dwelling. Most all their furniture and clothing was saved by many of the people who were attracted to the scene. The Glackens had lived here only a few months, having purchased the property from Mr. and Mrs. James Ramsey.

Volunteer firemen came from all over Northern Kentucky to aid in bringing the stubborn blaze under control. Units came from Independence, Verona, Florence, Piner-Fiskburg and Willamstown.

Many local men who had previously served as a volunteer fireman donned hats and coats in an effort to bring the fire under control.

Kentucky State Police and Boone County Police assisted local officials in directing traffic and controlling the large number of spectators who came to downtown Walton.

Street traffic was rerouted onto Alta Vista then on to Park Avenue and School Road until 10:45 p. m. At this time most of the fire hoses and apparatus was moved to allow traffic to flow along Main Street. Auto traffic was extremely heavy on this particular Good Friday afternoon as shoppers and vacationers were preparing for a big Easter weekend. Traffic Saturday morning was bumper-to-bumper along Main Street as sight-seers came to see the results of the big fire.

The Bykota Class of Walton Christian Church lost many of their potted plants which were being brought in and stored in a front room of the garage building for Saturday sales. A fresh supply arrived early Saturday and the ladies were busy selling from the back of pickup trucks.

Some of the business people nearby moved their contents to safer locations. Many of the residents left their homes empty handed, others grabbed a few precious possessions and sought refuge elsewhere.

The Ryan Hardware, directly across the street was in great danger from the flames which rolled through the blackened sky. Mr. Ryan and some helpers braved the dense smoke and heat and kept the roof of the store-apartment dwelling from catching on fire by the burning embers. Two of the large plate glasses in the front of the store were cracked.

Supplies stored in the basement of the garage were owned by Buff Company. They received some water damage but were saved from burning by the concrete floor overhead.

James Spencer, Vice President and Cashier of Dixie State Bank, was still at work at the time the fire started. When he saw the magnitude of the fire he put everything loose in the big vault, locked the door and hoped the durability of the thick walls would not be tested. No damage resulted at the bank building.

Several containers of bottled gas were moved from nearby houses.

Residents can be thankful to the Walton Volunteer Firemen for their efficiency and dedication to fighting and controlling that terrific fire. This is another example of their "know how" paying off in great benefits. Several received minor burns and cuts but no serious injury occurred. Two vols from Florence were overcome by smoke but were treated at the scene.

The Ladies Auxiliary was busy aiding in communications and setting up temporary headquarters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sleet when electric power and phone service was interrupted at the fire house. They were helped by Mrs. Ann Simpson, Miss Joella Sleet, Mrs. Mable Maddox, Cliff Ryan, Les Trinkle, Charles Praither and many others who chipped in to help through the night.

Phone service to the southern part of town became "out of order" when the two large cables carrying 1200 wires were severed by the flames. Repair crews from Cincinnati Bell were on the job until about 6 a.m. Saturday splicing in new lines. Individual services were then restored.

An unofficial estimate was set at somewhere near $250,000.00. It could have been worse.

JUNIORS & SENIORS HEAR DENNIS RICH

Dennis Rich, a graduate of Walton-Verona High School, returned to his alma mater Thursday, April 7, to warn juniors and seniors to beware of the fine print when borrowing money.

Rich, now manager of the First National Bank of Covington, urged the upperclassmen to be sure they know the interest rate, the term of the loan, and the total amount to be paid.

He also issued a warning against over-extending oneself in borrowing money.

"Once it is done," he said, "it is a difficult problem to overcome."

Also outlines in his talk were the conditions the lender usually looks for in lending funds.

The W.V. graduate is to return to the school on April 19 to participate in the career day program.

GOSPEL SING AT KENTON

A Gospel Sing will be held at the Kenton Baptist Church on Sunday, April 18th at 1:45 p. m. Everyone is invited.

Walton's Beauty — Everyone's Duty

In this photo we see action taking place on Main Street, just a few minutes after the fire began. J. B. Curd is shown removing some of his barber chairs. Chief Charles Worthington and two helpers remove hose from Big Six as Guy Carlisle waits with the nozzle.

Walton Man Named Boone Dog Warden

A new dog warden, Lawrence (Sam) Vest, will soon be gathering up the stray animals in Boone County.

The Boone County Fiscal Court appointed Mr. Vest of 85 North Main St., Walton, last week after interviewing four applicants for the job, including former dog warden, J. W. (Sheeny) Craig, who resigned three weeks ago.

Vest, 63, who has been in the trucking business and has lived in the county all his life, was the choice of the county SPCA, according to a printed statement they presented to fiscal court members.

He has been hauling animals for the SPCA for the past three weeks, and he will continue using the temporary shelter near Hebron, provided by the SPCA until the group can build a permanent one.

Craig, the former dog warden, entered the meeting and asked for an application after the interviews had begun, to the surprise of fiscal court members.

The fiscal court decided to give the new employee, Vest, a six months probationary period before entering into a permanent contract.

A New President For Boone Republican Club

Dale Campbell, 45 Bustetter Drive, Florence, was elected president of the Boone County Republican Club at last Thursday's meeting. He replaces Don Brown, Florence, who resigned so he could fully pursue campaign work. Brown is seeking the Republican nomination for State Representative from Boone County.

W-V Band to Participate In Coney Island Farewell

The marching band of Walton-Verona High School has been selected to participate in Coney Island's farewell Band Festival on April 24th.

The local musicians will perform at the famed Cincinnati amusement park for their last time. In May of 1972, Coney Island will be located in their new amusement center located near Kings Mills, Ohio. The name selected for the new site is Kings Island.

Marching bands are asked to parade up one side of the Mall and down the other in order that motion pictures can be taken of each band. 200 bands are expected to participate, traveling from schools in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia.

Twenhofel Junior High FHA Meets

The regular meeting of the Twenhofel Future Homemakers of America was held Tuesday, April 6, after school, in the Home Ec room.

The president began the meeting with the opening ritual. Debbie Hutchinson, song leader, then led the group in singing the state song.

Two guest speakers, Mrs. Dietrich and Mrs. Angel, along with the advisor, Mrs. Carol Neely, were then introduced.

They presented informative talks on the dual role of women as either being housewives or career women.

Each girl at the meeting then drew the name of a teacher to assist on "Teacher-Help Day," Wednesday, April 7.

Recreation was planned by Kathy Wayne, recreation director.

Refreshments were prepared by the fifth period home economics class.

Named to Kenton Co. School Board

A Piner man, C. B. Menefee, was named to the Kenton County Board of Education and semi-final plans were announced for the new Dudley Pike Elementary School, at a recent meeting of the board.

The school is expected to be ready for use in September, 1972. R. C. Hissdale, superintendent, told the board that contracts are scheduled to be let in early June and construction may start immediately.

The new school will be unique in the tri-county area. It will consist of four "pods" centered around the learning center which will house the library.

The pod arrangement will enable teachers to concentrate on small groups and individuals.

With the construction of the school, the Kenton County system will exhaust its bonding capacity for new construction. A small amount will remain for emergency repairs.

Menefee, the new board member, replaces Franklin Breeden, who resigned due to press of business. Mr. Menefee is a 1952 graduate of Simon Kenton High School, where he played basketball. The Menefees have one daughter, a student at the Piner Elementary School.

Band Boosters to Meet

The Walton-Verona Band Boosters will meet Monday night, April 19, at the band room.

The nominating committee will give their report.

If you have a child in the band, the Boosters would like to extend an invitation for you to attend and meet with this group and help make plans for coming events.

The Walton-Verona School Board Meets

The Walton-Verona Board of Education met last Thursday evening in regular session at the Administration Building. All members were present for a lengthy session covering many subjects. J. B. McCubbin chaired the session.

One of the most encouraging items discussed was to initiate a program in agriculture next school year, if a teacher could be secured. The members also approved the establishment of two positions for teachers' aides in the elementary school; approved planning periods for all high school teachers next year and permit them to substitute for each other, and unanimously voted to participate in summer "work-study" programs for distributive education boys.

In other action, it was agreed to furnish fence and posts for the north and east sides of the elementary school property providing the Stephenson brothers would agree to erect it, and also the same arrangement will be suggested for the south boundary with Schmidt and Robertson.

The board would also like to cooperate with Bullock Pen Water District in erecting a standpipe on the elementary school property is a satisfactory arrangement could be made.

Principal Billy E. Prewitt recommended a plan regarding students' tardiness to classes, which was approved 4-0.

In conclusion, members voted to: 1) Hire Leroy Ingram as a bus driver; 2) Renew all school insurance with Hoban & Hoban, except those subject to bid; 3) Amend the school calendar year to take two calamity days because of snow, if granted by the Kentucky State Department of Education; 4) Advertise for the purchase of library and dining room equipment for the new elementary building; 5) Pay April bills and salaries; 6) Accept the report of the treasurer for March, as follows:

Walton Literary Club Has Meeting

Fellowship Hall of the Walton Christian Church was beautifully decorated with daffodils, pussywillows and forsythia for the April 7 meeting of the Walton Woman's Literary Club.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. A. H. Gaines. The Club Collect was read, followed by the pledge to the flag. The president conducted the necessary business.

Following a moment of silent prayer, the spiritual guidance was dedicated to the memory of a beloved charter member, Mrs. Julia A. Rouse. The spiritual guidance was given by Mrs. A. J. Russell. She selected a reading about that black, terrible week in Jerusalem, 30 A. D., which presaged that glorious Sunday morning—the Resurrection Morning of Jesus Christ.

Mrs. W. R. Belcher announced that she had submitted three entries in the Kentucky Heritage Folk Tale Contest from club members.

The tales were written by Mrs. Charles Alphin, Mrs. Zayda Clore, and Miss Katherine Scott, respectively. Mrs. Sam B. Sleet gave the report of the nominating committee, which was approved. Officers for next year are: President, Mrs. A. H. Gaines; Vice President, Miss Elma Taylor; Secretary, Mrs. Claude Thompson; and Treasurer, Miss Louise Conrad.

Mrs. Gaines displayed the dress made by Judy Hetterman and modeled by her at the convention. Mrs. Gaines also reported that Charles Butler won first prize in the "Student Art" contest. The club appreciates the work of these fine students.

Revival at Walton
1st Baptist Church

Rev. Curtis H. Warf, pastor of First Baptist Church, Pikeville, Ky., will be the evangelist for a week of revival at Walton First Baptist Church beginning Monday evening, April 12 and continuing through Sunday, April 18. Former pastor of First Baptist Church, Sturgis, Ky., Rev. Warf received his education from Georgetown College and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville. In his 19 years of pastoring in Kentucky, he has served on several Baptist State committees, including the State Executive Board. He and his wife, Jean, have two children.

The services will begin each evening at 7:45. Larry Cook, song leader for the services, will lead in a time of gospel singing and special music. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The revival services will be concluded with a Gospel Sing on Sunday afternoon, April 18, at 1:30 p. m., in the church sanctuary. Featured singers will be the "Louden-Aires" and the "Big Bone Quartet."

Rev. Jerry Ennis is pastor of the local church.

to study to become future teachers. Sunday School starts during the hour of 9:50 until 11:00 a. m.

THE YOUTH CHOIR is in practice for a new church presentation called "PURPOSE." If you are between the ages of 13 and 25 you are eligible to enroll in the choir now. Mrs. Lois Rinchart is directing this choir. They will be making their debut during the revival on Thursday night, April 15.

THE JUNIOR CHOIR will be singing during the revival on Tuesday night, April 13. This choir has been very active in church work and has sung in other churches in our area.

If your church would like our group to come and sing for you and show your juniors what can be done if just a little effort is put forth, please contact Gene Parker, Music Director, New Banklick Baptist Church, 225 Banklick Road, Walton, Ky. 41094, with first and second choice dates.

THE RECREATION COMMITTEE, under the sponsorship of Ray and Louise Mercer, Frank and Gilberta Kidwell, had a special Youth Fellowship at the church on Saturday night, March 27. The gala affair was attended by a large group of our youth. A good time was had by all who came. They were served refreshments at the end of the fellowship. These four members are truly showing a great concern for our church youth.

If you are a youth without a church home, why not get in on a good thing and give New Banklick Baptist Church, the Mercers and Kidwells a chance to show you a time of good, clean Christian fun.

OUR REVIVAL is here! Our evangelist, Artzell Hyche, from Florence, Ala., will be bringing some real Bible messages during the week of April 12-18. If you are tired of the old grind; the old cut-and-dried Sunday-go-to-meeting type of preaching, then you will enjoy having your spiritual cup filled by Brother Hyche. He was a pastor for many years before entering full time evangelism, and thus has a pastor's heart for all types of church members and lost people. We believe if you come one time you'll want to come again and again to hear some exciting messages from God's exciting Word! The pastor, Brother Jim Johnson, has known the evangelist for many years and is highly recommending him as a Bible preacher. The music and preaching will fill your soul from beginning to end.

LOSE DRIVER LICENSE

Listed below are the names of individuals who have lost their drivers license for the week ending March 26, as released by the Department of Public Safety to the Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee:

REVIVAL AT AMITY

Revival services will be held at Amity Baptist Church, 695 Persimmon Drive, Independence, April 11 through April 21, with services at 7:30 p. m.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Ward Spencer, pastor of the Ashland Avenue Baptist Church, Latonia. Mike Acree will be the song leader. The pastor, Charles H. Mitchell, assures everyone there will be gospel singing and gospel preaching.

You are invited to attend.

In spite of the so-called simplified income tax forms, here it is April already and most people haven't figured out yet how to file them.

WHO IS A PROPHET?
Lesson for April 18, 1971

Background Scriptures: Isaiah 61:1-9; Jeremiah 18:18; Hosea 1:1; 1:11-13; Amos 1:1; 2:1-3; 7:1-13; Micah 3:5-6; Hebrews 1:1-2; 2 Peter 1:20, 21.

Devotional Reading: Jeremiah 14:1-2.

No prophet was ever admired or valued—except posthumously. A living prophet wins no popularity contests. No one ever hears a prophet and tells him that they "liked" his sermon (unless they didn't really understand him.) Celebrated when they are dead and gone, prophets know little else than rejection in life.

Though many of us are quite "up" in knowing who were the prophets, we are not nearly so perceptive in deciding who are the prophets among us today. This is not a new phenomenon, for men have always had this difficulty. Who is a prophet?

A man like Amos

Perhaps one of the best approaches to answering that question is to take a good look at some of the prophets of the past whom we can identify. Perhaps they can tell us what to look for. There's Amos, for example. Although in his own day he was rejected by most who heard him, today we recognize that he was a prophet. One mark of his role as prophet was his commission to speak for God to the people about the sins of the nation: "Hear this word that the Lord has spoken against you, O people of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt . . ." Therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities" (Amos 3:2).

Amos did not come waving the flag of Israel and singing "God Bless the Hebrews." His message was a condemnation of the moral corruption that had pervaded the nation. The message of Hosea was also a dark warning: ". . . a culture is over the house of the Lord, because they have broken my covenant and transgressed my law" (Hosea 8:1). Not only did these men condemn the sins of Israel, they also promised dire consequences if the nation did not repent: "Israel spurned the good; the enemy shall pursue him" (Hosea 8:3).

Called to prophesy

A prophet is also a man who has received a divine call from God. He does not become a prophet because he thinks he would like to do that kind of work, but because he is obedient to God's will. Such a man was Isaiah. In Isaiah 6 we find that he is a man who was aware of his sin before God. But the Lord overcame these feelings of inferiority with the promise of his help. Isaiah did not seek the prophet's mantle; it sought him. Thus, not because he looked forward to being a prophet, but because he wanted to be obedient, he answered: "Here I am! Send me!"

Even more reluctant had been Jeremiah who, when he was called by the Lord, protested: "Ah, Lord God! Behold, I do not know how to speak, for I am only a youth" (Jeremiah 1:6). But God told him that as a prophet his confidence was not to be in his own adequacy, but in the help which the Lord would give him: "Be not afraid of them, for I am with you to deliver you, says the Lord" (1:8).

In Micah we also learn who a prophet is not. "Thus says the Lord concerning the prophets who lead my people astray, who cry 'Peace' when they have something to eat . . ." The prophet is not a man to dwell on our assets. His special task given by God is to probe into our sins, our weaknesses, our liabilities. The prophet who tells us that we shouldn't worry that "everything's going fine!" is not really a prophet.

Who is a prophet. The question is not whether, but if we have some idea how a prophet, when he comes, will make us feel of cars and dates

Let's talk a moment, parent to parent. . . . It's quite an adjustment, isn't it? Your daughter, Jill, is on cloud nine because Jack asked her for a date. Jack's driving his dad's car. That is, you hope he drives it. Maybe he just aims it and takes off.

Yes, it's quite an adjustment. And all the books say there's nothing you can do about it. Kids date. So, watch television, read a book, listen for the muffled "Good nights" and the click of the doorlatch, then stop worrying and go to sleep. Until her next date. . . .

The churches of our community have no simple solution for this problem. They have a complex solution: Through moral and religious training, develop in every boy and girl a mature sense of responsibility, a respect for life and Christian character.

The young people we'll have the greatest confidence in tomorrow are going to church today.

WALTON FIREMEN EXPRESS THANKS

As most residents of Walton and surrounding communities know, we had a fire on Main St., Walton, Good Friday. All who were involved in any way—losers, workers, spectators, etc., know it was one of the worst fires we have had here.

It was also the biggest show of co-operation from everyone that has been seen for a long while. With this in mind, the Walton V. F. D. thanks everyone who helped in any way at all in fighting the Main Street fire and the Glacken house fire on High Street.

Thanks to the Independence, Florence, Verona, Piner-Fiskburg, Williamstown volunteers with their pumps and equipment, and the men from Crittenden for their help, Crescent Springs and others.

Thanks to all the fellows who jumped in and helped hook up, fight the fire, and all the other jobs involved. Since it's impossible to name each and everyone, thanks to all. Thanks also for donations of refreshments, etc.

Let's all try to make this the last bad fire in Walton.

And we do not want to forget the ULH&P and Bell Telephone for their prompt repairs.—Walton V. F. D.

CARD OF THANKS—

It is impossible to express individually gratitude we feel to all those who helped us in the recent emergency. So may we just say "thank you, all!"

Burley Growers Urged To Vote In Referendum

County Farm Bureau President Beckham Shields issued a statement this week urging burley tobacco growers in the county to vote "Yes" in the burley referendum to be held on May 4th.

Shields said a "Yes" vote is vital because the question to be decided is whether to continue price supports and production control for burley to bacco or to have no burley program at all.

"If two-thirds of all the growers voting in the referendum vote 'Yes,' Shields said, 'price supports and production controls will remain in effect for burley tobacco. If the necessary two-thirds 'Yes' vote is not secured, there will be no burley price support or control in 1971, and there will be no supports or control in future years unless approved by growers in a referendum."

"Defeat of the burley program in the referendum could be disastrous for growers in this county and throughout the burley belt," Shields commented.

"If growers do not have price support and production control," he continued, "they will be at the mercy of the buyers who can pay whatever they want for the tobacco and buy it in whatever limited quantities they desire. Growers would have no guarantee of a minimum price for burley as they have with price supports, nor would they be able to sell the tobacco to the government pool if buyers passed it over. Farmers would be pitted against farmer for a share of the market and stability of burley prices would go out the window."

The county Farm Bureau president said defeat of the burley price support-production control program not only would hurt farmers but would damage the total economy of the county.

He concluded by saying, "Tobacco is a major factor in our economy and its future is directly related to the future of all people in this county and throughout Kentucky. I sincerely hope growers will vote 'Yes' and maintain for themselves and the county a program which has made production of burley tobacco a profitable and worthwhile enterprise."

Life insurance agent to would-be client: Don't let me frighten you into a hasty decision. Sleep on it tonight and if you wake up tomorrow, let me know then.

"Darling," sighed the enraptured young man, when I think that tomorrow is your birthday, and when I think that a year ago I didn't even know you . . . "Sweetheart," she interrupted, "don't let's talk about our past. Let's talk about my present."

Local Legislative Candidates Draw For Positions

The drawing for places on the ballot for the five candidates for State Representative in the 60th Legislative District (Boone County) was held last week in the office of County Clerk Jerry W. Rouse, Burlington.

On the Democratic slate, William K. McBee drew first place; Bill Bailey was second, and incumbent Dan J. Roberts was third.

On the Republican ticket, former State Representative Leo Lawson was No. 1 and Donald L. Brown was in second place.

Mr. Rouse explained that formerly in districts composed of more than one county, the candidates were required to go to Frankfort for the placement drawing. However, since the 60th district embraces only Boone County, the drawing, under law, can be done in the county clerk's office.

In the May 25th primary balloting, the candidates' names will appear on their respective party ballots in the positions listed above.

SEATBELTS ARE PEOPLE STOPPERS

When an auto stops suddenly in a collision, or emergency, the people inside keep going with tremendous force. What stops them? The windshield, steering wheel, dash, all too often with tragic results.

But seatbelts stop people, too—safely. With your seatbelt fastened you stay put when your car stops suddenly.

Seatbelts are the best people stoppers!

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

REVIVAL NEWS! As you read this article we will have completed our Spring Revival services at New Banklick Baptist Church. Our evangelist was Arzell Hyche of Florence, Ala. His messages were all Bible oriented and under the Authorship of the Holy Spirit. We will give a complete report in our next column. To the time of this writing there have been 13 professions of faith, three by letter, and over 25 other decisions. The Holy Spirit has moved in each and every service as in the days of Pentecost. This is truly a great revival! The Gospel music by the special groups have been just wonderful. We have heard thus far from our Adult choir, our Junior choir, our Youth choir, and the Spiritual Ares. After the bleakness of winter comes Spring. Fulfilling a promise of long ago, the seasons follow one another in divinely planned succession.

All around us we see evidence of evil, but the Church gives positive assurance that God is ever present. As Spring brings new life, so does the Church.

Consider the daffodil—its freshness and beauty speak of hope. Consider the Church—its steadfast faith strengthens mankind. God creates daffodils, but intelligent cultivation makes them even more beautiful. Likewise, He depends on us to spread the influence of the Church and to make a better world.

Accept this tremendous challenge and become a part of God's Church today.

will sing for us on Saturday night. Truly the Lord has given us a great revival.

Evangelist Arzell Hyche leaves us to fulfill other revival obligations. Before leaving he gave me the following message to pass on to our readers: "Never have I had the joy of meeting so many wonderful people in all of my life as has been mine in making acquaintance with so many of you wonderful Kentuckians. The marvelous meals the ladies prepared each evening were just like the ones back home; the ladies just outdid themselves. To Brother Johnson and all the deacons who met nightly for prayer service before the evening message gave me the incentive to permit the Holy Spirit to use me to His utmost. The Gospel music was just great! New Banklick is very fortunate to have such a musical talented people in their membership. To you who made decisions each service for Jesus Christ, you have enriched my life and I shall pray for your continued growth in the Christian Life. I do heartily recommend that each of you heed the Christian Life Class taught by the pastor. Truthfully I have enjoyed being in your community and visiting with some of you, witnessing to some of you, but most of all having the opportunity to share with you the Messages from God's Word. If you ever need me for revival work, or come to Alabama, contact me at 326 West Lee Avenue, Florence, Alabama 35630, or telephone 764-5065. May God richly bless each and everyone of you is our prayer."

THE NEW PURPOSE SINGERS, under the direction of Wilton Shelton of the Ludlow Baptist Church, will present "Now Hear It Again" Wednesday evening, April 28, 7:30 p. m., in the Church Auditorium. You are invited to come and hear this youth group present their latest Folk Musical. James D. Howell is their pastor.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNING is getting off to a fairly good start. However, there is the need for more teachers and workers. Mrs. Louise Mercer, school principal, held her first staff meeting last Tuesday morning with a slim turnout, which is usually the way with most staff meetings. Each Department Director will contact their own workers and teachers and have training session in private. If you are a member of New Banklick Baptist Church you are urgently encouraged to contact Mrs. Mercer at 341-6354, and tell her you want to serve the Lord.

VISITORS at New Banklick Baptist are special guests in our worship services. We do appreciate the many who come and stay. We believe if you enter to worship you will depart to serve. The pastor, James Johnson, welcomes each and everyone and says, "You are only a visitor once. After that we believe you will come to stay."

Husband: Honey, will you please hurry up? Wife: I wish you'd stop nagging me. I told you an hour ago I'd be ready in a few minutes.

AN OUTSIDE AGITATOR

Lesson for April 25, 1971

Background Scripture: Amos 1:1-2:4 through 3:15; 6:81-8:47
Devotional Reading: Ezekiel 18:19-29

We've been asking, "Who's a prophet?" and one of the answers that we might give is: someone who appears to be an outside agitator, if Amos is any example.

We need to remember that in his day there were two Hebrew nations, not just one. The twelve tribes had been joined together briefly under David and Solomon, but after the latter's death, the kingdom split into two hostile nations. Israel in the North and Judah in the South. Although the people of these two nations had much in common, they also differed in many ways. They were constantly acting like two brothers who might stick together when threatened by others, but quarrel incessantly at all other times.

O seer, go away!

Amos, thus, was an outsider when he went to Bethel, the religious center of Israel. He was a citizen of Judah, not Israel. Who did he think he was, criticizing Israel when everyone knew there was so much corruption in Judah? Why didn't he stay home and prophesy among his own people and concern himself with their sins? He was also an outsider in that he was not a professional prophet. He was a layman, a shepherd and dresser of sycamore trees by trade. Where did he get the authority to presume to speak the Word of God? Who was he to criticize the legitimate religious leaders of Israel? Thus, it is not surprising that the high priest of Bethel, Amaziah, greets him with: "O seer, go away, flee away to the land of Judah, and eat bread there, and prophesy there" (Amos 7:12).

When God says "Go!"

Peter and John, Jesus' disciples, were also regarded as "outside agitators." Warned to cease preaching Jesus Christ, they had said to the Jerusalem authorities: "Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God, you must judge; for we cannot but speak of what we have seen and heard" (Acts 4:19). And later when again they were hauled before that same Council: "We must obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29).

What had been said of Amos was also applicable to Peter and John. They were from Galilee, not Jerusalem or Judea. In fact that had been true of Jesus too. Jesus and his disciples, like Amos, were laymen, not recognized clergymen. These northerners, it seemed to the Jerusalem Council, had come to their city simply for the purpose of stirring up the people and creating a crisis situation.

In his Pulitzer Prize-winning book, GHANDI'S TRUTH (W. W. Norton & Co., 1969), Erick H. Erikson tells us that as the great Indian leader went throughout the vast nation of India, identifying and assisting the causes of the oppressed and victims of injustice, he was often denounced as an "outsider." But it was Gandhi's conviction that "a man who takes it upon himself to redress a local injustice even in a place remote from his own home, if he could only prove welcome as a helper to the victims of that injustice, may consider himself a native there, provided only he is willing to accept the suffering thus invited and to play the game with the fairness dictated by a more inclusive identity." Gandhi did not feel himself an "outsider," just as Amos had refused to be turned back by that charge.

Neither had Jesus regarded himself as an "outsider"—though others did—for whatever sin, evil, and corruption exist, no man with God's message is really an "outsider!"

Give a bouquet of leisure

An automatic dishwasher provides more time for gardening, hobbies, family and community activities.

It protects health too. Glassware, silverware, china and cooking utensils are sanitized in water hotter than hands can stand.

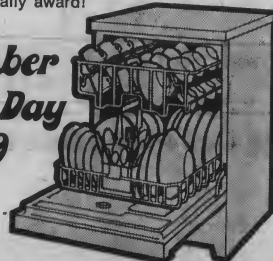

Then electrically-heated air . . . more sanitary than a dish towel . . . dries everything without a spot or a streak.

Of course, hands stay softer and smoother longer out of hot, greasy dishwater.

Compare the many automatic dishwashers on display in CG&E's downtown Cincinnati Lobby, Fourth and Main. Your appliance dealer or plumber has the make and model of your choice.

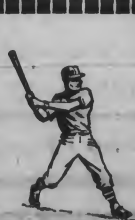

See automatic dishwasher demonstrations every Monday thru Friday, 11:30 am thru 12:45 pm.

William Calley Court-Martial

by

M. GENE SNYDER

U. S. Congressman

The people of the Fourth Congressional District have reacted strongly to the outcome of the Calley court-martial. Some have said that America now has two classes of POWs—those in Communist prisons and Lt. Calley in a U. S. POW camp.

Lt. William Calley was a volunteer soldier. He was trained, commissioned, and sent to Vietnam. This constitutes offering one's life in combat for his country.

In Vietnam, the young lieutenant was carrying out an assigned search-and-destroy mission which was the official policy of the Army at that time from the Pentagon on down. For carrying out specific orders, repeatedly given him by superior officers, Calley has been convicted of murder in the first degree and faces life imprisonment.

It is asinine to assess criminal responsibility on a lieutenant for carrying out an order, even if misunderstood, which originated at the very top of the chain of command.

In the past several weeks, 52 American servicemen refused to obey the specific orders of their commanding officers in the same war zone. For this desertion in the face of the enemy, there was no action taken. I am revolted by this double standard.

I believe Calley has been made a sacrificial lamb and led to the military's altar. It behooves us all to see that his every legal right is protected by the appeals and reviews of the trial which are available.

I also believe that Congress owes it to the American people to look closely at the circumstances which allow such incidents to occur.

I also believe the Commander-in-Chief has a responsibility to Lt. Calley.

VFW Names Chairman For Poppy Day Sales

Commander Robert L. Butler of Boone County Memorial Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 6099, has announced the appointment of Leslie Garrison as chairman of the VFW's annual "Buddy Poppy Sale." Mrs. Christine Blackburn, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, announced that Mrs. Ada Horton was chairman to assist Mr. Garrison.

The sale will begin April 30 and May 1 in the Boone County area.

For hundreds of long-term disabled veterans in Veterans Administration Hospitals and in State Veterans Homes every day is VFW Buddy Poppy Day, according to Commander Butler. These are the men who assemble the poppies, tie them in bundles of ten, and pack them in boxes of 500 or 1,000 for shipment to some 9,000 VFW Posts and Auxiliaries throughout the U. S.

It is hoped the public will join in assisting the disabled veterans by purchasing a VFW Buddy Poppy when they are offered for sale by the VFW and its volunteer workers. All proceeds are used for assistance to disabled veterans, and survivors of deceased veterans.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

The Senior Citizens group of Taylor Mill, which met at Brucewood Church, April 13, though small, was a pleasant experience. The hostesses welcomed everyone and delicious refreshments were served. Getting acquainted took up most of the time. Mrs. Griffith, one of the sponsors, told of art activities enjoyed in a couple of such groups, which she had investigated. Among the interests were games, visiting, quilting, embroidery, knitting, reading, ceramics, etc. Could have a speaker or show slides. Once a group is formed they make the program suitable to their tastes. Any one 62 or older is welcome, and if you drive and bring someone, you will find some interesting things to do. The next meeting is set for May 11. Transportation will be furnished if you will call Mrs. Griffith at 356-2352. Among those enjoying this first meeting were Mrs. Lena Keck, Mr. and Mrs. John Bruce, Mrs. Thelma Fleming, Mrs. C. Ballinger and Mrs. F. Keeney. Among the sponsors were Mrs. P. Pepoon, Mrs. D. Tillett and Rev. and Mrs. Ranshaw and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Green and family of New Lenox, Ill., visited the eye doctor and dentist in Cincinnati, for a check on Neal's eyes this past week. They called on a few friends and also attended choir practice Tuesday evening, returning home Wednesday. They always are warmly welcomed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Losey and J. B. Losey were guests Easter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Losey and sons.

I visited while Thursday with Mrs. Caroline Armstrong and found her in her usual good spirits, always interested in things going on in the neighborhood. She is looking forward to her 97th birthday, which will be April 24. Let's send a card to her at 593 Decoursey Road, Independence.

John Klein, who has been very ill, is now convalescing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lybran Richardson. He is so glad to be with some of his family and wishes to thank all who remembered him in any way.

Bernie Goodde, who has been in the VA hospital in Cincinnati for several weeks, stays about the same. We would like to hear that he is better.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Keeney and sons had as guests Easter, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Damon, Mrs. William Damon, and Mrs. Francis Keeney. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Damon and daughters called.

Traffic Death Rate Continues Downward

Arthur E. Beard, executive director for the Kentucky Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee, announced that the state's highway death toll for the first quarter of 1971 was down 13 percent from the same period during 1970, and 20 percent from the first quarter of 1969.

Beard said the toll for the first three months of this year stands at 181, as compared to 207 at the end of the first quarter of 1970, and 226 for the first quarter of 1969.

The safety official said the decrease is particularly significant, since last year's drop probably was due in large part to heavy snows that kept motorists off the road.

One of the best ways to lose a friend is to tell him something for his own good.

President of Feminine Forefront Beauty for All Ages

Finding out what women want is Berenice Connor's business. A long-time editor of leading magazines, she conducts national homemaker conferences and is a consultant to John H. Brock, Inc., on the beauty needs of today's women.

Many women believe that the carefully executed toilette is passe; since the "natural" look is in, natural it shall be. But, even this look needs some planning to appear natural... beautifully.

During countless interviews and meetings with women across the nation, I've observed that too many women seem of the over-thirty set abdicating the privilege of beauty to the under-thirties. The result is that some women who need it most do least to keep themselves attractive.

Hair coloring is the perfect example. A few decades ago, it was taboo for any woman who considered herself a lady to color her hair. But now that it's socially the thing to do, who does it? The youngsters—who really look fine "au naturel."

The truth is, beauty belongs to all ages, and it's time you claimed your right to look lovely. Starting at the top. Proper hair coloring adds to already positive features by giving hair body and the sheen it may lack. It can hide those first hints of gray, and even help you look more natural by improving the tone or shade of hair to complement your complexion. Brock Hair Color is particularly kind to

Remarks By
DAN J. ROBERTS
State Representative

Boone County is fast becoming predominantly an Urban County.

YESTERDAY — Twenty or more years ago this fact could be recognized by the citizens and our neighboring counties. The great attractions to Boone County were: the beautiful, clean land, clean, fresh air, clean, efficient county government, and the people's concern for each other, was responsible for the good moral, social environment that has existed in this county for several decades. It is rather difficult to realize the quiet, leisurely way of life enjoyed by the population of one hundred years ago. Farming provided the major part of the earnings of the citizens of that day.

TODAY — Boone Countians welcome the change in the population growth. We welcome our new people and share with them our wonderful heritage and also collect fully our responsibilities for the future.

TOMORROW — The people of Boone County have come to the realization that with change comes a few problems. Together the new Boone County is planning for future growth that is sure to exceed the past. Citing just one of the many good things happening in Boone County is the Greater Cincinnati Airport, located in Boone County, now rated as having the largest number of people employed in any of the Northern Kentucky Industries.

More people and more industry are being attracted to Boone County and feel a special welcome because we in our plan for growth are making the proper use of the land through uniform planning by the Countywide Planning Commission.

Before 1960 it was not possible to have countywide planning in Boone County. In my first term in office as your State Representative I, with the help of other interested people, introduced the enabling act to allow Boone County to organize a Planning Commission. This act was passed and became law within 10 days after its passage.

Immediately, yours truly, Dan J. Roberts, helped Boone County to organize its first Planning Commission. Rewarding was the fact that I was able to serve the first four years on the commission. Now, I believe the people can realize the importance of orderly development and the proper use of our beautiful land as one of the great attractions to Boone County.

Within the past 20 years our population has increased 150% and will continue. Also, there will be other needs brought to the attention of the people. I want to be sure these needs are taken care of as they have been in the past.

I would consider it a great honor when you choose me to continue as your interested citizen and servant, again serving you as your State Representative for the next term. My past experience in the '60's, will help me serve you better in the '70's. I will need your support. Thanks!

Home Agent's Party Line

By Nancy Norman

Lucky is the homemaker who can plan her own kitchen—"tailor made" to her own needs. But no matter what you are doing—building a new house, looking for a new ready-built house, remodeling your old kitchen or just dreaming of the future—a few principles can guide you toward a modern, efficient, organized kitchen.

A place for everything and everything in its place—this is the time-honored basic principle of storage. To the modern homemaker it is a key to running an efficient household. No where in the home is it more important than in the kitchen. There, the processes of planning and preparing meals involve a variety of tasks and problems. Where kitchen storage space and work space are neatly integrated, the kitchen can truly become the nerve center of an efficient household.

Here are a few general guides to good kitchen storage. Following in individual sections are suggestions for the special storage problem of your kitchen "centers."

1—Store supplies and utensils at the point of use and within easy reach. At your mixing center, store mixing equipment, staple foods, refrigerated foods, baking pans and all the other things used for preparing food for baking. This is storage at the point of use. The same rule applies to all work centers.

2—Arrange cupboards so that all articles are easy to see, easy to reach, and easy to grasp. One row deep on a shelf and one stack deep in a drawer provides for this. However, when like articles such as cups, are placed in front of each other on a shelf, you can see, reach, and grasp them easily.

3—Avoid clutter on shelves and in drawers by eliminating unnecessary utensils and tools.

4—Store heavy articles, heavy pans or stacks of dinner plates, on shelves that are easiest to reach. This reduces lifting or stooping when moving articles in and out of cupboards. Pull-out shelves in base cabinets and adjustable shelves in wall cabinets provide easy-to-reach flexible storage and is easy to change as family needs change. Vertical storage spaces in high and low areas are efficient and satisfying.

5—Adequate counter space usually provides enough storage above and below the counter for the supplies and equipment used in that work center. Be sure not to reduce too much of the upper cabinet space by windows or other openings over work surfaces. If you plan it right, your kitchen can have both plenty of natural light and plenty of storage space.

6—Be safety conscious. Large cabinet doors can cause accidents. Doors cut in half and hinged on the inside to fold center out are much safer. Usually wall cabinet doors are more efficient when 36 inches or less in height, and when open do not extend further than the edge of the work surface.

A class of freshmen astronomy students had their first evening at the observation lab one night. The professor went to the telescope and began to make an observation. Just then a star fell. "That was a fine shot," said a Texas student. "Why ye hardly had time to take aim."

Referendum Vote Tuesday, May 4th

County Farm Bureau President Beckham Shields, of Boone County, predicted this week that approval of the burley tobacco price support-production control program in the referendum May 4th will signal a bright future for the program and for the burley farmers.

"This program has many advantages for all growers of burley tobacco," Shields said, "and in addition it will put the production of burley on a sound basis so that price supports can be secure for the future."

The question to be decided in the grower referendum is whether (a) to approve continuation of price supports and production control for burley, or (b) abolish the price support-production control program for burley.

If two-thirds of the voting growers vote "yes" for price supports and production control, the burley program will continue. If a two-thirds "yes" vote is not obtained, there will be no price supports or control of burley production in 1971.

Approval of the program will mean production control will be based on poundage quotas rather than on acreage allotments for the next three years.

The new program will also contain the following features of benefit to growers:

1—An insurance provision which allows a grower to carry over to the next marketing year any part of his quota up to 100 percent which he does not market for the current year. In other words, if a grower loses his crop to a hail storm or fire or if he simply doesn't wish to grow it, he will not lose it but instead will be able to grow and market it the next year.

2—Up to 15,000 pounds can be leased by growers within county lines. If a small grower wants to expand his production, he can do so up to the limit of 15,000 pounds. If an elderly person or someone else doesn't want to raise his quota, he can lease it to other growers. The quotas can be transferred from farm to farm, meaning they won't have to be raised on the farm to which they are assigned, thus making it easier to raise leased quotas.

3—Special consideration is given in 1972 and 1973 to growers who had allotments of one-half acre or less under the acreage system. In those years, the minimum acreage growers will take reductions—if reductions are necessary—of only one-half what the larger growers take. In no case will the minimum acreage growers have their quotas reduced by more than two and one-half percent in 1972 and 1973, and the maximum cut any grower will take in any year is five percent.

During his remarks at the dinner Combs said that he had campaigned all across Kentucky and, "We find a real desire to return real Democrats to Frankfort. The people don't want a 'Nunn-Democrat' in the Governor's office."

Health Dept. To Enforce Regulation

"In the event a public water supply about the property, connections shall be made and private systems shall be prohibited."

The above quotation is Section 6 of the Boone County Board of Health Regulation, Number 6. This section of Regulation 6 is designed to assure a safe water supply, and thus help control water borne disease.

From a health standpoint, there are two things any heavily populated area needs—a safe water supply and a good sewage system. Boone County has a safe water supply and a good sewage system. Boone County has a safe water supply at least for most of the people. Now every citizen of Boone County should do all within their power to see that this county water system is successful.

Your Health Department in doing its part, is going to enforce, to the letter of the law, the above regulation. This simply means that if the Boone County water line is connected to your property you must connect to this public water system and stop using your private water system. It also means that if you are now on the Boone County Water System you must continue to use the public water and not use your private system.

Up-Swing In Home Improvements

An up-swing in the home improvement business in the Kenton-Boone area is in the hands of the consumer, according to a survey released by the First National Bank, Covington.

William Grieme, vice president, reported the survey showed that the do-it-yourself expert already is busy. A check of paint dealers and garden supply houses in the two counties indicate a brisk trade since late March.

However, the market is still to develop in the big ticket items, major home renovations, air conditioning, kitchens and bathroom repairs.

Builders and dealers are watching the savings now held by many consumers as a prime factor in determining the 1971 home improvement market. Nationally, they point out, savings are at record levels.

Also being watched, the bank survey shows, is the willingness of consumers to borrow to finance home improvements. Local financial institutions report an adequate money supply on hand. Building suppliers also report an up-swing in new home construction when compared with last year's poor showing.

Lawson Candidate For Representative

Leo Lawson

Leo Lawson, Hebron, former State Representative of Boone County, is announcing his candidacy for State Representative on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Lawson states that with the rapid growth of Boone County and the perplexing problems facing our county, we must have someone in Frankfort who is not afraid to speak for all its people.

He said, "I have been the only Republican ever to be elected in Boone County twice as a member of the Fiscal Court and elected in 1968 to the House of Representatives."

"I am proud of my term in Frankfort. Boone County has received more extra money for county roads in the past three years than ever before. Boone County schools have received more money in the past three years with an increase in the minimum school foundation fund than in any year in the past. You can see it in the new school construction in the county and our School Real Estate Tax has not been increased to accomplish the above. Our Highway Program in Boone County is under construction at a fast pace. In the past three years Big Bone Park has been reactivated and better than a million and a half dollars have been spent. All of the above were all promised before 1968, now they are a reality. I voted in 1968 to establish the new four-year college which should have been done ten years ago for Northern Kentucky."

"So if the people in Boone County want someone in Frankfort who will represent them instead of an emblem, vote for Leo Lawson. I will speak loud and be heard, as I have in the past as an elected official trying to serve all its people. I will be willing to debate any candidate openly on the issues and the problems facing our county—all they have to do is call me at 689-7444."

"I have been a Boone County resident for over 25 years. My wife, Helen, and I have two children, Patti Lawson with Sky Chef in New York City, and Jerry Lawson, who operates Hebron Plumbing & Heating, Hebron, and his wife, Mary, and our two grandchildren, Joey and Kathy Lawson."

Spencer is majoring in English and is very active in numerous campus committees and organizations.

After a presentation by the U. S. Marine Reserves of "Old Glory," the 4-H'ers enjoyed a luncheon and awards program.

BURLEY PRODUCERS UNITE!

VOTE 'YES'

MAY 4th TO SAVE THE BURLEY TOBACCO PROGRAM

A "YES" VOTE IN THE MAY 4 BURLEY REFERENDUM IS AT VOTE TO:

- Continue price supports and thereby assure growers a fair price.
- Keep burley supply in line with demand.
- Continue the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-op's price support "pool" which buys any burley passed over by tobacco companies.
- Insure all growers their share of the market.
- Provide protection to growers against crop failure or less due to fire, theft, etc.
- Allow leasing up to 15,000 pounds within county lines.

TAXES

Our State General Fund income has more than tripled in the past 10 years. This is partly due to the increased economy and the sales tax. The more money that we have means a way for more spending. We are hearing from some departments asking as much as 25% more for the next two year budget. Some of these needs may be justified, but with the high cost of "Petty Politics" makes it impossible to meet these needs.

I for one do not believe that additional money is the only answer to our problems. Some departments have increased their operating costs in the neighborhood of 400% within the past ten years. My belief is that we must operate state government on a more sound business basis.

We need people willing to serve the state with the courage to face the problems without fear. We need several changes in our constitution. We need to eliminate some of the elective state offices. There is a better method of filling the heads of some of the departments of state government than by election. Their employment should be based upon their qualifications to properly execute their duties in lieu of paying political patronage with your tax dollars. It is my opinion that two executive elected offices in Frankfort would be sufficient, this being the Governor and the Lt. Governor.

We are aware that it would be an impossibility to consolidate counties, but it becomes rather expensive to operate effectively some of the small units of government that are now being operated in this state. We need to make every attempt to avoid duplicate spending. It is the belief of many this can best be done by the establishment of multi county districts for the proper distribution of state and federal funds. I believe health and educational funds could best be distributed through the multi county districts. The federal government should be responsible for the fair and equal distribution of federal welfare monies in all of the states.

At present we have 191 common school districts within the state, three of which together have a total of 175,000 pupils in average daily attendance and most shocking is that one county district under one administrative office has less than 400 students in average daily attendance. My proposal to avoid wasteful spending is: To let the three large districts remain under three administrative offices and divide the remainder of the state into multi-county districts. Depending on the density of the population, establish districts ranging from 12,000 to 20,000 average daily attendance. This would give us a total of 34 districts within the state. This change would help us to make the proper distribution of our educational dollars, also helping us to reach our goal of attaining National average in many areas. It is also my belief that our children would have the best opportunity for proper instruction.

It will take some kind of courage to get these jobs done. I for one have that kind of courage. I will need your help.

The only new or additional tax that I would favor would be a severance tax on coal or minerals. I don't believe that these people are paying their fair share of our tax burden.

If you have questions on these or any other ideas that I bring to your attention please feel free to call or write to me. My address, 162 North Main Street, Walton, Kentucky 41094. My phone, 485-7262.

More later.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

THE REVIVAL REPORT for the week of April 11-18, is now in. The results were just great. The Lord truly sent us a great revival right from the very start on Easter Sunday morning. People were saved in each service. At the close of the Sunday night service there had been a total of 22 professions of faith, and four by letter, with 12 rededications. The attendance during the revival averaged over 150 each service. The revival services were well attended by church members and visitors each service. Evangelist Arzell Hyche said it was the greatest revival he had been involved in since he entered the field of full time evangelism two years ago. Several of the older men of our church said that it was the greatest revival in the history of the church, to their knowledge. One of the greatest results were the number of professions of faith by the adults and older boys and girls. Thus when one has the fine cooperation of an excellent music department as that of New Banklick Baptist, under the direction of Gene Parker, the music of Mrs. Katherine Hopperton, Mrs. Lois Reinhart who played the piano and organ, and the superb leaders of our Junior choir, Mrs. Francis Beach and Mrs. Jackie Grayson and Mrs. Lois Reinhart, leading the Youth choir, with guest pianist Mrs. Jean Padgett from the Ludlow Baptist Church. The special music provided by Mrs. Francis Beach, Ann Dunavent, Jackie Grayson and Wanda Spada (known as the Spiritual-Aires), the Teen-Tones from the Latonia Christian Church, the Harmony Four, and Mrs. Geneva Campbell. Put all of this together with the superb preaching by Evangelist Arzell Hyche and it spells—REVIVAL!

MOTHERS DAY is just around the corner, May 2nd, to be exact, and on that day our members will be asked to write in the names of any male members they feel are qualified to hold the office of deacon. Every member is encouraged to seek guidance of God's Holy Word before making any recommendations. The passages of Scripture dealing with this wonderful office of the church is 1 Timothy 3:1-13 and Acts 6:1-4. Since our church has voted to use the rotation system of deacons it will be necessary to ordain others to make this system possible. This will be another great victory in our church.

A BETHEL PROMOTION DINNER will be served Monday, May 3rd at 6:30 p. m., at the Bethel Camp. The cost for the meal is $1.25 for adults, and 75c for children under 12. We do encourage all of our members who are interested in a better camp for our Northern Kentucky Baptist Association to make your reservations no later than Wednesday, April 28. Call your reservations to New Banklick Baptist Church, 356-5538, or to our association office, 291-2026, or First Baptist Church, Cold Springs, 441-6184. The program will consist of the presentation of Camp Directors by Program Chairman Everett Walters; Open House and Dedication of New Chapel Building by R. G. Livingood, Bethel President. If you are interested in a better encampment for Christian Training, do your best to support this Promotion Dinner.

On May 2, our church will receive a special Mother's Day offering to help eliminate the $30,000 indebtedness on the Baptist Convalescent Center in Newport, Ky. This indebtedness has kept we Baptist from doing greater things for Christ in this area. We encourage our members to support Dr. Jones and Northern Kentucky Baptist to set the slate clean and go on into maturity of greater things in 1971 and the following years.

THAT WORRIED LOOK

With these young pups, that worried look isn't real. You might call it a physiological illusion. The whole problem is that their heads haven't grown enough to fill out the wrinkles in their brows.

But with people a worried look is usually real. It reflects the deep concerns that trouble our world and lives.

Yet worry isn't going to improve the world. Its only real value is that it encourages us to seek solutions where they can be found. The best thing to replace worry with is FAITH.

Through the centuries man has found hope and courage in the truths of religion. God never meant us to solve our problems alone. Perhaps our most perplexing problem today is that too many people have been trying to do just that!

'RIGHT' WITH GOD
Lesson for May 2, 1971

Background Scriptures Amos 5:4-15, 21-24; 9:7-9, 13-15.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 55:1-11.

A radio preacher recently claimed that the trouble with the church today is too much emphasis on social issues. In fact, he said, our political, economic, and social issues have nothing to do with the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

All any of us need to do, he claimed, was to "get right with God through Jesus!"

A "right" relationship with God certainly ought to be a Christian's first and foremost concern. Both Old Testament and New Testament are deeply concerned with helping us to see that this is the most vital of all issues. It is by sin that our relationship is ruptured, by atonement and grace that the relationship is repaired, and God's judgment is the evaluation of that relationship.

"Just save souls"

The problem arises when we try to define what is a "right" relationship with God. Some people hold that it is strictly a personal, individual matter that has nothing to do with our social, political, and economic involvements. These would say simply that our task as the Church is "to save souls and not change society."

Thus one of the reasons that many of us are not too taken with Amos and the other prophets, for often they will not fit into that kind of compartmentalized pattern. Amos, for example, makes it very clear that to be "right" with God, one must "Hate evil, and love good, and establish justice in the gate" (Amos 5:15). It is not enough for people to be regular in their worship. In fact, without justice in their community, the worship only makes God angry:

I hate, I despise your feasts, and I take no delight in your solemn assemblies. Even though you offer me burnt offerings and cereal offerings, I will not accept them, and the peace offerings of your fatted beasts I will not look upon. Take away from me the noise of your songs; to the melody of your harps I will not listen. (Amos 5:21-23)

If these rituals and modes of worship by themselves cannot please God, what will? But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an overflowing stream" (5:24). A person cannot claim a "right" relationship with God if he is not compassionate and just in his relationships with his neighbors and fellow citizens, particularly those who cannot help and protect themselves.

A word for the pious

Because he is Lord of history, God is concerned with the behavior of men, both as individuals and as members of groups. If man sins against his neighbor, God is concerned. If a community sins against individuals, groups of people, or even another community, God is concerned about that no less.

Amos make a very scathing indictment:

Woe to those who are at ease in Zion, and to those who feel secure on the mountains of Samaria, the notable men of the first of nations ... (Amos 6:1)

Those who feel secure because they worship in the Temple on Mt. Zion in Jerusalem (the people of Judah) and those who likewise feel complacent because they worship on Mt. Gerizim in Samaria (the people of Israel), are living under a false security. Worshipping in the "right" place and in the "right" way is not the same as being "right" with God.

Burley Tobacco Growers

Only Your YES Vote on May 4 WILL KEEP Price Supports

No Other Burley Program Is Being Offered In The Referendum. Without a YES Vote, There Will Be NO GUARANTEED PRICE on Burley!

The Referendum Question

Are You In Favor of Marketing Quotas For Burley Tobacco For the Three Years Beginning October 1, 1971?

YES ☒

NO ☐

Don't be misled. There will be no other program offered!

Vote YES For Price Supports

The new law providing for Marketing Quotas on a poundage basis eliminated the acreage system of controls and it is FALSE that there will be any other program to provide Price Supports.

The new proposal has several other advantages such as the Carry-Over provision for the unused part of your Quota and the provision for leasing of quotas.

But Unless Price Supports Are Kept By A YES Vote Burley Will Be Swept Into An Erratic Marketing System That Will Erase the Stable Economy In Effect For the Last 31 Years.

Get Information On Drug Abuse

Kenton County school teachers are receiving a packet of information in a preventive program to halt any drug abuse situation in the school system.

The material was developed out of a day-long session for junior high school teachers at which the local and national situation was discussed.

School officials emphasized that the drug problem was not a major one in the system but that steps must be taken to prevent any growth.

Teachers were given material telling of the slang terms used by the drug addict—"connection," meaning a drug supplier; "the man," meaning the police officer; "chipping," meaning taking narcotics occasionally, and "bale," a pound of marijuana.

They were also told of symptoms to watch for and instructions on what to do if a student drug user is discovered.

The Rural Mailbox Improvement Week

It is that time again when you take a look at your rural mail box to replace, repair or improve the appearance of same, says Robert X. West, Independence Post Master.

The week of May 17-22 has been selected this year as "Mailbox Improvement Week," which is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather and which are neat in appearance, conveniently located and safe to use. Neat, attractive mailboxes will make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside and the streets in suburban areas.

When checking your mailbox, look for the following irregularities: 1. Box is loose on the support or post, and is not firmly planted; 2. the door and signal flag need attention, and 3. the post and box leaning too far back for carrier to reach from his vehicle—this is one that always needs attention this time of year.

If your mailbox is located with two or more boxes, each on a separate support, perhaps, for easier maintenance, it would be better to group the boxes onto one board. This always improves the appearance of boxes that are close together.

The last item to check off, said Mr. West, and this is important, check for correct name and number on the box and make corrections or additions where needed.

SEATBELTS ARE PEOPLE STOPPERS

When an auto stops suddenly in a collision, or emergency, the people inside keep going with tremendous force. What stops them? The windshield, steering wheel, dash, all too often with tragic results.

But seatbelts stop people, too—safely. With your seatbelt fastened you stay put when your car stops suddenly.

Seatbelts are the best people stoppers!

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

James D. Johnson

CORRECTION! CORRECTION!
Last week we incorrectly listed Mother's Day as May 2. It should have read May 9th. May 9 is the correct date for the selecting of male members of New Banklick Baptist Church to be ordained as future deacons. A form will be made available in the church bulletin and at the church on May 9. Proper use of the form with the proper signature will expedite this selecting on that Sunday morning.

THE NEW PURPOSE SINGERS of the First Baptist Church, Ludlow, Ky., presented "A Service of Sacred Music," under the direction of C. Wilton Shelton, Jr., with John Haynes at the piano. The program consisted of: A Call to Praise, "I Will Extol Thee."

OUR HERITAGE: Folk Hymns: Brethren, We Have Met to Worship, arranged by Hunnycutt; Come, Thou Fount, arranged by Cram; Spirituals—Joshua Fit the Battle, arranged by Grant; I'm Troubled, arranged by Littleton; Gospel Songs—I Love to Tell the Story, arranged by Young; I Will Sing of My Redeemer, arranged by Lyall. A congregational hymn, "To God Be the Glory" by Doane. Our Present: God So Loved the World by Vicki; Just As I Am by Landgrave; This Is the Message by Butler. Then followed a new sound in church music as is reaching the ears of today's youth. Musical For Witnessing Youth—Now Hear It Again by Burroughs. This was a very unusual presentation with the use of taped music in the background, but the words were just as real as in the days of Jesus.

Our church received this fine group of singers with open arms on last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Refreshments were served to all who stayed after the presentation. The Youth Choir of New Banklick was present to witness what can be done for those willing to put in a lot of hours for our Lord. This fine group has just completed a fine itinerary as follows: April 11, Home Concert; April 12, Centertown Baptist Church, Centertown, Ky.; April 13, First Baptist Church, Franklin, Ky.; April 14, Ashby Lane Baptist Church, Valley Station, Ky. The choir consists of satt. We would recommend this fine group of youth to sing to any church interested in starting a youth program in their church. The pastor of First Baptist Church, Ludlow, Ky., is James E. Howell.

HYMN-SING ANYONE? New Banklick Baptist Church will present an All-Day Hymn-Sing on Sunday afternoon beginning at 2:00 o'clock on June 20th. It will feature the groups of our church only. There will be special music by our Adult Choir, Youth Choir and Junior Choir, plus the Spiritual-Aires from our church, and several other duets and solos. So make plans now for June 20, 1971. We will write more about this at a later date.

We are very pleased to see and meet more and more new faces in our church each Sunday. We feel that you will find what you are looking for if you come in the Spirit of Christ; and then you will come to stay. The pastor, James D. Johnson, extends to everyone without a church home to come and join our little family of Christians.

To grow healthy, vigorous grass, all you need is a crack in your walk.

WHICH WAY ARE WE HEADED?
Lesson for May 9, 1971

Background Scripture: Hosea 1:1; 4:1-9; 7:8-10; 8:4-8.
Devotional Reading: Hosea 6:1-6.

It took Leonardo DaVinci two years to paint his great masterpiece, "The Last Supper." One of the reasons it took him so long was his painstaking attention to details. This was particularly true in his selection of men to serve as models for Christ and the twelve apostles. Sometimes he searched for many days before he found precisely the face he wanted.

Rev. Althouse Two faces: one man
After a long search, he found a young man who seemed quite suitable to sit for the character of Jesus. The faces of each of the twelve were painted in turn. The last of these was to be Judas. For a while he searched without success in finding the face he wanted. He was looking for a man who would look the part of a cheat and a betrayer. These character flaws had to be evident in his face.
After a time, he found a man who seemed to be precisely what he wanted. Evil was etched in the model's face. Dissipation showed in his eyes. So the artist hired the man. He would make an excellent Judas.

When the face of Judas' was completed and the sittings were over, the man broke down and sobbed. Turning to the astonished artist, he said: "Two years ago I was the young man who sat for the face of our Lord Jesus. Since that time I have lived a life of sin and corruption and it has brought me now to the place where I can be the Judas in this picture."

The power to corrode
The prophet Hosea had seen this kind of decay, first in his own wife and, then, in his nation. Presumably, she had left him to live in adultery with another man. In time, it seems, she probably became a prostitute, going from man to man. As her moral life corroded from within, her physical body within and her whole life began to show the results. It appears that she finally fell so low that she was no longer attractive enough to ply her trade and when Hosea comes to bring her home, he must first buy her out of slavery. It must have seemed to him that she was no longer the same woman. Sin had done its work with her, too.

This, Hosea observed, was also the case with the nation of Israel. Her moral decay began in allurements to the idolatrous practices of Israel's neighbors. Just as Gomer had been united in marriage to Hosea, so the people of Israel had a similar bond, a covenant. And, just as Gomer had broken her marriage relationship to Hosea by infidelity, so Israel was an adulteress, having broken her covenant with the Lord and turned to other gods. Like Gomer, she had sold her priceless heritage for the pleasures of self-indulgence.

A thing of wood
Hosea pointed to some of the obvious signs of Israel's moral decay: there is swearing, lying, killing, stealing, and committing adultery; they break all bonds and murder follows murder. Are not those signs as evident today? Are we not plagued with violence, profanity, dishonesty, and sexual decay?

The prophet ridiculed the practice of worshipping idols: imagine worshipping something you've made with your own hands! No wonder the moral level is so low when worship is that crude. Today we do not practice that kind of idolry. Yet, do we not make things with our hands and then worship them? Don't we let man-made things take-over and dominate our lives? The young man who had sat for DaVinci was headed in the wrong direction. Which way are we headed today?

Stockholder's Meeting

Bi-County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association will hold its Annual Meeting at the Plant in Devon, Ky., Tuesday, May 11, at 7:30 P. M. It is important that all stockholders attend.

—ROBERT GRAVES, Secretary

"Look at the red kite up there! See how high it's flying!"

The little boy follows her finger, and she is warmed and gratified by his smile of appreciation.

It seems as if mothers are eternally anxious to make sure that their children get all there is to get out of life—that they miss nothing.

Mothers would, if they could, show their children all that there is to see and give them everything—time for fun, time for play—new clothes, new toys, a television to watch cartoons, endless red kites and bright yellow balloons and, later, skis and sports cars.

Yet, in this eagerness to show and to give, aren't they in danger of overlooking some of the most important things of all? What of beauty, of serenity, of joy—the knowledge of God's goodness, His love, and familiarity with His house on earth... the Church?

"It's time the working man got a break in taxes."

Bert Combs believes the working man in Kentucky has been shouldering an unfair share of the state tax burden for too long. He proposes a severance tax on all minerals mined in Kentucky—coal, oil and natural gas—to be paid by the large mining companies when the mineral is removed from the ground.

Part of the severance tax revenue would be returned to the counties and the balance would go into the state general fund. This is one more way that Bert Combs gives the working man a break.

Remarks By
DAN J. ROBERTS
State Representative

OUR YOUTH

Citizen: A member of a state or country; a person who by birth of by choice is a member of a state or nation. An inhabitant, especially one possessing civic rights, privileges and freedom.—Definition from the dictionary. You may add to the above definition, also responsibility, especially within the framework of our Democratic form of Government, which contains "built in" personal freedoms.

Without active personal participation of each citizen we take a choice on losing some of these important privileges and freedoms that have been passed to us by the sincere dedication of our forefathers. Each previous generation has answered the call to protect this type of freedom, many have paid with the greatest sacrifice.

We have had problems in the past and have problems today. These sometimes become a threat to the freedoms we now enjoy. In one of the darkest days of our history one great statesman said, "We have nothing to fear, except fear itself." I have no doubt that the same quote fits our situation today. I suppose that every generation has said, "What will the next generation be like?"

We are beset with many problems today. These are ours and must be resolved by us in this generation. Many of our problems concern our youth. Many of the problems which existed before they were born.

At a time when we were traveling faster than the speed of sound and venturing into outer space, even to the moon, it could be possible that we failed to pass on to this generation of youth the true values of living the kind of dedicated way of life that was exemplified by those traveling this way before us. Even with youth problems created by those who would like to destroy our form of government. We hold the solution to these problems in hands.

The youth of this nation is not completely destroyed. The majority are ready for the future. I have the greatest faith in this majority. Our responsibility is with the problem created by the minority that are not now stable citizens. We need to save them for society. We cannot tolerate the threats of those who disregard life and property of others under the guise as recipient of our basic freedoms led by FALSE leaders.

Let's talk with our youth not at them. Let us gain the knowledge of those in the majority and help to strengthen and encourage them to take their proper places as responsible citizens.

When you return me to Frankfort as your representative, I shall act in your behalf to correct the problem of violence in the streets and on our school campuses. Also, anything possible necessary to eliminate the dope menace. I will support any program giving the proper training to our youth enabling them to have full employment, helping them to become a useful part of our society.

I will need your help.

Write Now Right Now

Walton desperately needs a sewer system—now. But we need help from you for additional funds from the government.

Please sit down—today—and write a letter, short or long, expressing in your own words how badly we need a sewer system.

These letters will be presented to the highest authorities we can go to in the Federal Government to get more funds. The MORE letters we have the better. If the authorities think YOU are not concerned, they won't be so concerned about helping us!

We already have over $800,000 allotted in a Federal grant and loan, but the system will probably cost the City of Walton twice that amount. Either we must get more Federal aid or we citizens will have to pay more ourselves for the sewerage system.

So we ask you PLEASE write a letter today. And tell your friends and neighbors to write too. If nothing else, it might help your pocketbook tomorrow.

Send your letters, postmarked by May 15, to either of the following addresses:

Walton City Council
Walton, Kentucky 41094
Greater Walton Businessmen's Ass'n
Walton, Kentucky 41094

Six-Week Program For Kenton County

A federal grant of approximately $16,000 has been made available to the Kenton County Board of Education for a six-week program in special education at the Beechgrove Elementary School.

George Edmondson, supervisor, announced that registration is scheduled for June 11 and the program is open to public, parochial and private school students living in the Kenton County district.

All materials and supplies will be furnished but parents will be asked to pack a box lunch.

Basic skills, physical education, arts, crafts and music will be taught. In addition, Edmondson said, the children will be taken on trips to recreational and cultural centers in the Greater Cincinnati area.

The special education project is in addition to the establishment of two reading centers under Kenton County sponsorship. Students may enroll for those programs also on June 11.

BOONE MAY HAVE 2 VOC-ED SCHOOLS

Boone County may have two vocational schools, it is said.

The State Board of Education has under consideration a proposal the Northern Kentucky Area Vocational School operate an extension in the Industrial Park, Florence.

The unit would be located in a vacant 7200-square-foot factory building in the park, and would train workers for employment there.

James Patton, director of the Covington based school, told the board the school would run programs aimed at upgrading and training employees for the plants.

The Boone County Board of Education is slated to receive $350,000 from the state for a vocational school. However, the board must match the grant with $350,000 in local funds.

Regular Meeting of Capt. Lillard DAR

The Capt. John Lillard Chapter of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, met in Harp House, Williamstown, with Mesdames Abram Hedges, Evan Hance, Winston Mason, Ivan Clements, David W. Sowers, and Miss Louise Conrad as hostesses.

Following a delicious dessert course, Mrs. Charles Alphin, Regent, presided and read President Nixon's Law Day proclamation.

In National Defense, Mrs. T. A. Perry mentioned the news item that Leslie Bacon, 19-year-old, was arrested in Seattle, Wash., as a material witness in the bombing of the Capitol, March 1, which resulted in an estimated damage of $300,000.

Mrs. Abram Hedges, flag chairman, cautioned that the flag should never be displayed with the union down as a signal of dire distress.

The speaker, Miss Laura Dickerson, Kentucky State Regent, and chapter member, gave a report on the Continental Congress in Washington. The Kentucky DAR received special honors because of its increase in membership and the organization of six new chapters. President Nixon spoke at the National meeting.

Theme for the coming year is from Proverbs 29:18, "Where there is no liberty the people perish."

The Chapter's Year Book received a blue ribbon at the State DAR, and a national award in Washington.

All mothers and daughters in the area are invited to attend and try to get a Scouting program started.

Anti-Measles Day In Boone County

In view of the fact 93 cases of rubella (10-day) "red" measles have been reported by physicians in Boone County recently, there will be a mass anti-measles campaign set for Boone County at the Health Department, 267 Main St., Florence, Friday, May 14, from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon and 1:00 to 4:00 p. m.

The Boone County Health Department will conduct this program thru cooperation of the county medical society and the State Department of Health for county youngsters who have not had "red" measles or the vaccine. A technician will be present to administer the single dose of vaccine, believed sufficient for lifetime protection against the disease.

Any child in the county one year old through 14 years of age, who has not had measles or the vaccine is eligible for the preventive shot, officials said.

It is stressed that shots will be given only with the parent's signed permission. Permission forms will be available at the health department.

Rubeola, "red" measles should not be confused with (3-day) rubella or German measles. A case of one does not give immunity from the other.

Officials say measles can leave its victims with permanent disabilities, including mental retardation, deafness and blindness.

"Yet," they say, "no child need suffer again from this threat. The vaccine being offered is both safe and sure."

55th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dearborn of Wright Road, Walton, are to celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary on May 22.

Nothing special is planned, just a quiet day, as Mrs. Dearborn is an invalid. They especially request no presents, but cards from their friends would be appreciated.

Square Dance at Florence

A square dance, given by the Florence Volunteer Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary, will be held on Saturday, May 15th from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. at Firehouse II on the Dixie Highway and Industrial Road.

Bob Duffy will be the caller. Beer and setups will be available, and door prizes given.

Donation will be $5.00 per couple. Reservations may be made by calling 371-6375 or 371-4487.

Simon Kenton FHA Alumnae Meeting

The April meeting of the Simon Kenton Future Homemakers of America Alumnae was held at the RECC building with ten members and one guest present.

President Judy Schadler presided. Tickets were distributed for the skating party that was held May 5, at Lloyd's in Latonia. All who attended had a very good time.

Final plans for the family banquet were made, which is to be held on Thursday, May 20, at 7:30. This banquet is for all the alumnae members, their husbands and children.

A "white elephant" sale will be the program for the June meeting and the Senior FHA girls from Simon Kenton High will be invited.

The guest "teacher" for the evening was Mrs. Mary Jane Nie. She was invited to teach the alumnae members to knit and brought along several items that she had made.

The meeting was adjourned and delicious cakes were served by Ginger Bailey and Judy Schadler.

BANK TO CLOSE THURSDAY

Beginning June 3, the Verona Bank will be closed all day on Thursday.

Walton Homemakers

The Walton Homemakers Club will meet Friday, May 14, at 11:00 a. m., in the home of Mrs. James Burden on Jones Road.

The lesson, "Drugs and Prescriptions," will be given by Mrs. John Hetterman and Mrs. Marion Waller. Preston Art, pharmacist and operator of Boone County Drugs, Walton, will be a guest speaker.

All members are urged to be present and visitors are welcome.

PINER PTA MEETING

The April meeting of the Piner PTA was held in the school auditorium. Bro. Marshall Hills gave a very interesting devotion, as it was directed mainly to the young people in the audience.

A short business session was held and the report of the nominating committee for new officers for the coming year, was heard.

The officers are: Mrs. Cliff Martin, president; Mrs. Chloene Menefee, vice president; Mrs. Elmer Price, treasurer, and Mrs. Tommy Roberts, secretary. These officers will be installed at the May meeting.

The first two grades, under the direction of their teachers, Miss Lavonne Roberts and Mrs. Evelyn Lockhart, presented the program, "Once Upon A Time." This was one of the best and most colorful programs that Piner has had. These small children read and acted out bed-time and fairy stories. They had beautiful costumes, which were made by the teachers, and also beautiful scenery and props.

These children and teachers have been working on this show since Christmas. It drew a capacity crowd, and everyone enjoyed every minute of it.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

May Meeting of The Literary Club

The Walton Woman's Literary Club held its regular meeting on Wednesday, May 5, at 2:00 p. m., in Fellowship Hall of the Walton Christian Church.

The president, Mrs. A. H. Gaines, asked Mrs. L. M. Gabriel to open the meeting by reading the Club Collect as a prayer. Mrs. Gaines led the members in a salute to the flag and took charge of the regular business session.

Miss Louise Conrad, Mrs. W. R. Belcher and Mrs. Gaines represented the club at the 76th Annual Convention of the KFWC, which met in Louisville, April 18-21. Miss Conrad gave an interesting report of the convention.

Mrs. Gaines read two KFWC citations for the Walton club received at the convention. One was an Honor Certificate for meeting score card requirements for programs and projects. The other was for programs and projects which furthered "Art in the Community."

The club voted to give its annual contributions to the cancer fund and to the Covington Mental Health Center.

Mrs. Zayda Clore gave the Spiritual Guidance on the subject, "Prayer." Her comments on the topic—prayer is a wish turned into God—a chain of many golden links—a key to everlasting joy—a vital part of daily living were meaningful.

Mrs. John Farrell, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Robert Hume, KFWC American Heritage and Citizenship Chairman. Mrs. Hume thanked the club for having entries in the "Kentucky Heritage Folk Tale" contest for clubwomen; the "Student Fashion Sewing" contest, and the "Student Art" contest. She commended Mrs. Zayda Clore, Miss Katherine Scott and Mrs. Charles Alphin for the excellent folk tales submitted. Mrs. Hume also discussed the KFWC project, "Kentucky's First Ladies in Miniature."

Mrs. Farrell introduced the speaker, Mrs. Kermit M. Olson, Governor of the Fifth District KFWC. Her topic was Club Federation. She stated that the purpose of club women is rendering community service in music, art, beautification, health, welfare, youth affairs and many other activities. There is no way to measure the influence of the work of an active club.

A delicious dessert course was served to the guests: Mrs. Hume and Mrs. Olson, and to the members, Miss Rachel Acree, Miss Virginia Beverly, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Cameron Brakefield, Mrs. Jesse Callen, Mrs. Zayda Clore, Mrs. Carl Conner, Miss Louise Conrad, Mrs. John Farrell, Mrs. J. R. Flynn, Mrs. L. M. Gabriel, Mrs. A. H. Gaines, Mrs. George Knox, Mrs. J. C. Mayhugh, Mrs. Melvin Moore, Mrs. W. H. Presser, Mrs. L. R. Richardson, Mrs. Eleanor Rodney, Mrs. W. W. Rouse, Mrs. A. J. Russell, Mrs. Sam Sleet, Miss Elma Taylor, Mrs. Claude Thompson, Mrs. Bruce Wallace, Mrs. Melvin Wasson, Mrs. Lloyd Watson, and Miss Mary West.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Gabriel, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Thompson and Miss Taylor.—Club Reporter

Burley Referendum Carries

According to unofficial results of the Burley Referendum, Kentucky farmers overwhelmingly expressed their desire to have a continued price support program. Burley tobacco is important to the farm economy, as well as the economy of the entire Commonwealth. The results of this referendum show clearly what can be done when all groups and individuals join in a cooperative effort.

Isn't it time we had a governor...

Isn't it time we had a man who will stand up for the average citizens and taxpayers of Kentucky? Isn't it time we had a governor who will help take the taxload off the people? Isn't it time for someone to break with the political past... call a halt to the cheap politics and favoritism that has cost Kentucky millions and created national scandal? Isn't it time we had a strong voice and a clear head to stand up against the strip mine lobby and the polluters?

Wendell Ford will be a governor for all the people of Kentucky. His only special interest group is you, the hard-working, tax-paying citizen who loves his state. His only axe to grind will be providing hard-working efficiency in state government and a dollar's worth of value for every tax-dollar spent.

Wendell Ford... a strong voice, a clear head.

How We Get Out Is Important . . .

by
M. GENE SNYDER
U. S. Congressman
4th District, Kentucky

The President has announced that another 100,000 troops will be moved out of Vietnam before Dec. 1, 1971, thus increasing somewhat the present rate of troop withdrawals. He has met or surpassed the previous announced de-escalation goals, and there is little reason to believe that he will not meet this one. Nevertheless, many protests against the Administration's "war" policy are being planned for this spring, just as though nothing had changed in the last two years. A summary of the protesters' arguments would include:

1. We don't believe Richard Nixon.
2. We are getting out too slowly.
3. We have no responsibility for what follows our substantial role there.

3. Setting a date certain for withdrawal would advance the cause of peace.

I will comment on the last argument as it is the one which has had the most discussion in Congress and which seems to be the major point of the apparent presidential opponents, invites and receives logical analysis constantly.

Our withdrawal will not stop the killing; only peace can do that. The Vietnamization policy has had the virtue of putting maximum pressure on both North and South Vietnam for mutual settlement of their war while insuring that American military involvement will constantly decline. Setting a date certain would say to the communists that they have only to wait for that date not to have to deal thereafter with American power in their barbarous scheme to take over South Vietnam.

Unlike the other Presidential hopefuls, President Nixon is concerned about how we get out of Vietnam. In his April 7 talk he said: "Shall we leave Vietnam in a way that—by our own actions—consciously turns the country over to the communists? Or shall we leave in a way that gives the South Vietnamese a reasonable chance to survive as a free people? My plan will end American involvement in a way that would provide that chance. The other plan (a publicly announced date for our withdrawal) would end it precipitately and give victory to the Communists . . . we have it in our power to close a difficult chapter of American history not meanly, but nobly—so that each of us can come out of this searing experience with a measure of pride in our Nation, confidence in our own character, and hope for the future of the spirit of America."

Why does the President put so emphasis on how the war in Vietnam should end? Again, on April 7, he explained: "I know there are those who honestly believe that I should move to end this war without regard to what happens to South Vietnam. This way would abandon our friends. But even more important, we would abandon ourselves. We would plunge from the anguish of war into a nightmare of recrimination. We would lose the respect for this Nation, respect for one another, respect for ourselves."

Are the President's fears well-founded? Those who think so point to a 1969 statement by Democratic National-Fred Harris, then Democratic National Chairman: "We will hold Nixon responsible if he turns South Vietnam over to the Communists."

Alert Today—Alive Tomorrow!

Remarks By
DAN J. ROBERTS
State Representative

Issues that should be considered in the 1972 session of the General Assembly:

1.—On the question of new or increased taxes, people are not receptive to the idea of any more tax burdens. The reason being that it has become evident that there is too much duplication in spending for the unnecessary duplication of services.

For many years the large coal industries have avoided any severance tax on coal, and being foreign corporations have avoided other taxes, thus bringing more burden on other individuals and Kentucky owned industries. With a three hundred per cent increase in the retail price of coal to our local users, in my opinion it is now time to enact this taxing law. Also I would recommend that the proceeds from this tax would be equally distributed throughout the entire state.

This representative is in favor of an exemption of federal taxes paid to be taken from the gross earnings in determining the state income tax.

2.—EDUCATION. With the proper distribution of funds available, I am sure there will be a larger amount for elementary and secondary, vocational and special educational programs. Also I am in favor of the best possible pre-school training program.

To those classroom teachers who are providing the most important service in our educational system, we owe and must pay them just compensation, based on their formal training and abilities in comparison to the amount that industry pays its qualified personnel.

3.—INDUSTRIAL GROWTH. This has been one of the most important factors in the development of a good stable economy in Northern Kentucky, especially in Boone County. It is my opinion that we should continue to make any necessary concessions needed to encourage the continuation of this type of development.

Here and now I am on record as being in opposition to any individual or group that would take steps to discourage or change our present plan now in effect that has helped to increase our employment.

4.—PLANNING In Boone County. In my personal opinion this is most important to Boone County in its future growth. Perhaps we need within the county commission for the guidance of a professional planner. To the dedicated men now serving on this commission, this could help these gentlemen in making wise decisions in future zone changes, thus avoiding what could be termed as improper use of the land. This I believe could help to avoid the same kind of confusion that now exists within the city limits of Florence.

There is some consideration for changes in the present Planning laws in the 1972 session. It is possible that some change could be added to further protect the proper land use program.

You shall hear from me at least one more time before the primary. If you believe as I do, then give me your support. Thanks for your interest and your help.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

James D. Johnson

THE RECREATION DEPARTMENT of our church recently had a youth "THING" at the residence of the Frank Kidwells on Maher Road, Walton. There were all kinds of games presented for the battle of the sexes to test their skill. The food was plentiful and not one morsel was left for the dogs and cats. The food was of a poor man's philosopher, "Man, but could those cats eat." Those in attendance were: Donna, Gregg and

Carla Kidwell, Nelson and Mike Schadler, Larry and Steve Powell, Billy Hensley, Kitty and Sheila Davis, Kathy and Charlotte Disney, Pamela Disney, Rita and Ricky Fisk, Barbara Johnson, Jennie Lawson, Ricky Beach, Mike, Donnie, Doug and Kenny Mercer, Ted Reinhart, Allen Grayson, Mike O'Mara and their sponsor, Frank and Gilberta Kidwell and Ray and Louise Mercer. All these cats and kittens had a wonderful time and are asking, "when do we do it again?"

MOTHER'S DAY WAS A GREAT DAY at New Banklick Baptist Church! The joy was the presentation by our Youth Choir on Sunday morning, and our Junior Choir on Sunday evening.

The Youth Choir is under the direction of Mrs. Lois Reinhart; the Junior Choir under the direction and Mrs. Francis Beach and Mrs. Jackie Grayson; the pianist is Mrs. Katherine Hoppert. The youth presented a special program honoring their mothers. They were well received at both services and there was a nice attendance or both services. Flowers were presented to the oldest and youngest mothers present. Their names will be published in next week's article. A message was presented by the pastor from Luke 1:26-55, "Blessed: Among Women."

The message brought to light the facts of Mary's conception by the Holy Ghost; Her strict obedience to the Lord's command; Her strict raising of Jesus in the Church and in the Word of God; She recognized that she was the mother of the flesh called Jesus, but also that flesh housed the Spirit of God, called Christ. She never lost sight of this fact and recognized His Divine power in John 2; She was faithful to Him at the crucifixion to the very last in John 19:25-27, and the message concluded with the application of how this should apply to every Christian mother today according to God's Word. All in all we had a wonderful Mother's Day at New Banklick Baptist Church.

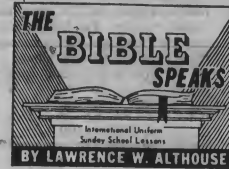

OUR FELLOWSHIP SUPPER will be held on Wednesday evening at 6:30 p. m. in the church. Every member is invited to come and bring a dish of their favorite food and share in a wonderful time of Christian fellowship, and then to stay for Prayer Meeting at 7:30 p. m. If you have a friend that would like to come, bring just a little extra food and bring them with you.

THE FOLLOWING were recently received into our membership by Baptism and by letter: Baptisms, Mrs. Phyllis and Gary Elam, Ricky Whitaker, Gilbert and Jacqueline Perry, Elza Dean, Kitty Davis, Todd Stammel, Alan Grayson, Becky Hoppert, Donna Best, Phyllis Sargent, Valerie Danner, Connie Disney, Pamela Disney, Carla Kidwell, Rene McKinley, Beverly Fletcher, Joan and Phyllis Eddins, Shannon Pether; by letter, Mrs. Donna Morton, Denise Reinhart, Linda Maxwell, and Susan J. Schadler.

... and Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." —Acts 2:47b).

YOU ARE INVITED to come and worship with us where the Word of God is preached and sung at each and every service. If you have no church home, we welcome you at New Banklick Baptist Church.

UNCONDITIONAL LOVE

Lesson for May 16, 1971

Background Scripture: Hosea 11: 14, Deuterian Leviticus Romans 8:31-39.

The prophecies of Amos and Hosea were alike in that:

—Both accused Israel of breaking her covenant with the Lord.

—Both condemned the people's indifference to the injustice festering within their land.

—Both condemned the substitution of insincere worship for the practice of righteousness.

—Both decried the growth of self-indulgence as a way of life.

—Both attacked the idolry which the Israelites had learned from their neighbors.

—Both proclaimed suffering and destruction for Israel unless the people would repent and return to God.

But Amos and Hosea were different in that while Amos was a prophet who spoke solely of the judgment of God, Hosea also spoke of God's persistent and compassionate love.

The love of a father

The difference, of course, was largely the result of Hosea's own experience with Gomer, his wife. Through this experience Hosea had come to a deeper understanding of God's nature. In the hymn, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" by Elizabeth C. Clephane, we sing:

And from my smitten heart with tears,

Two wonders I confess:

The wonders of His glorious love,

And my own unworthiness.

These two wonders, each pulling in a different direction, keep following us throughout the Bible.

Though they seem contradictory of each other, we must never forget either of them. Without the remembrance of our unworthiness, the knowledge of God's glorious love becomes a cheap and common thing. Without the reality of His grace, the fact of our sinfulness becomes a burden too heavy to bear.

We see both of these elements combined in the message to Hosea:

When Israel was a child, I loved him

... I took them up in my arms. I led them with cords of compassion

... I bent down to them and fed them. (Hosea 11:1-8)

The more I called ...

There, of course, is also the theme of man's unworthiness:

The more I called them, the more they went from me; they kept sacrificing to the Baals, and burning incense to idols. (11:2)

This is not so much the condemnation of an angry judge as it is the cry of a rejected father.

These are not mere criminals, but rebellious, errant children. The injury involved here is not concern for a broken law, but the pain of a broken relationship:

How can I give you up, O Ephraim!

How can I hand you over, O Israel!

This is difficult to understand for man often gives love only upon certain conditions. "I will love you if you will be lovable," is the basis of much human affection. Often this is only the promise of a conditional love: Do this — "get good grades," "buy me a car," "do what I want," etc. — and then I will love you.

What God gives to his children, however, is not a proposition, a deal, a promise of something to come, but the declaration of something which already exists: God loves you now, as you are!

It is the knowledge of this unconditional love from which comes the power to change and become what he desires us to be.

WALTON UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Special recognition was given Sunday to the oldest and youngest mothers present and to the mother with the most children present at the service. Those honored were Mrs. Geo. W. Hoffman, Mrs. Phil Lipscomb, and Mrs. Gerald Roland.

May 23 is set aside by our church as Heritage Sunday. The Heritage of the Walton United Methodist Church is great and many of us are not aware of the beginnings of our church, therefore, we plan to have some special information and pictures to share with everyone on that Sunday.

We still have many in our church who have helped form this heritage and that of other Methodist churches. We feel that we want to honor them in a special way. So, on May 27, we will have a dinner honoring all of our members who are 70 years of age or older. Since we aren't sure of all those who would be in this age group, please tell either Mrs. Gene Roland, Mrs. James Lawrence or Mrs. Paul Beighle if you are eligible for this honor.

At the same dinner we wish to honor our graduates of 1971. These are the ones who will be doing things which ultimately will be a heritage for their children.

When Christ, our Lord, becomes head of the home, love is born; the Word of God becomes the building light, and the altar of prayer becomes the place of power for daily living.

WHY - WHY - WHY

Why did Mr. Bert Combs give a Michigan Republican a lifetime position with an annual salary of $40,000.00 by resigning from his position given him by the Democrats—and now ask the Democrats of Kentucky to give him a four-year position with an annual salary of only $30,000.00? Could it be influence from Special Interest Groups?

Let's give him full time political retirement. Vote for FORD, the Democratic Candidate for ALL the people—not just a special few.

(Paid for by Ford for Governor Committee—Vic Miller, Treasurer)

Paper Is Late . . . And We've Had It!

For the first time in a long time, the Advertiser is late this week. It all started Monday. Jim Lawrence, our right-hand man, came down with appendicitis and was rushed to Booth Hospital, Covington, for an emergency operation. The linotype then went on the Fritz and we could set no 8-point type. Our good friend, Ty Combs, of the Owenton News-Herald, came to our rescue and set some type and worked on the linotype for a while. Yours truly was about ready to start pulling what little hair he has. However, the paper has to be printed, and we'll get the job done eventually.

We are sorry if we have inconvenienced our advertisers—and some may have to be left out—but we are doing the best we can, and trust this will never happen again. And thanks for hearing of our woes.

COUNTY AGENT'S ½ ACRE

JOE CLAXON
 Alfalfa weevil eggs have been hatching and feeding damage from the weevil approach the point where sprays will be needed soon. During the winter, with the snow cover, it looked as if the weevil might be back as strong as it was in 1965. This would be disastrous, if rains were to prevent the spraying.
 Each grower will have to check his own fields to decide on the best time to spray. A rule of thumb is to begin spray operations when five out of 20 shoots show feeding and live larvae in the bud. A slightly higher level of damaged buds might be tolerated if live larvae are not found. Farmers should not wait too long to spray. Don't wait until the fields begin to look ragged or frosted down. It's better to spray a few days early than a few days late.

 Methyl parathion, Guthion, Alfator, Malathion, Methoxychlor and Malathion-Methoxychlor mixture are recommended insecticides. Be sure to read the label and heed the directions for the insecticide used.
 The Eastern Tent Caterpillar have hatched out now—they are small and should be sprayed. Several different insecticides can be used: Malathion, Methoxychlor, Sevin. Sevin is the most popular insecticide and you may use 3 tablespoons to 1 gallon of water. If you use 50 percent Malathion liquid concentrate, mix 2 teaspoons per gallon of water or make ¼ level teaspoons full with 50 percent methoxychlor wettable powder for each gallon of water. Inspect trees very closely and you will find the silk-like nest. Break the nest before spraying so the pesticides will contact the caterpillar. The caterpillars are small this time of year and may be easily killed.
 After surviving all the furor over chlorophyll, cholesterol, the pill, cyclamates and breakfast cereals, I'm darned if I'm going to panic over a little mercury in the fish I eat. As I see it, being cold blooded, fish have always carried their own built-in thermometers so they will know how cold it is and what to wear.

Pondering about the heating for a room addition? Here's food for thought: Electric baseboards can be installed without extending your ductwork. They are economical, take up little space and blend beautifully with any room's decor.

However, as long as you are adding to your home, why not modernize it completely with a central electric comfort system?

This compact system requires so little room you can install the central heating and cooling units inside an ordinary closet.

Our illustrated brochure has more details about these and other electric comfort conditioning systems. It's yours for the asking.

Home Agent's Party Line

By Nancy Norman

Wouldn't you like your windows to invite the beautiful greenery and sunshine in? Windows can enlarge our world as they beautify. They are one of the homemakers most important assets in a home. A window is merely a hole in the wall until the homemaker with her creative talents turns it into a thing of beauty.

Decorative window shades are one of the nicest window fashions to control both the light and sun and to give privacy. One of the nicest features about window shades is that you can roll them up to enjoy a great view. Simple window treatments, such as shades are becoming very important because people are tiring of heavy draperies, etc.

Before selecting window shades, check the available hardware and mechanics involved. Shades can be installed that pull from the bottom to the top; reverse rollers are available, too. Lovely carved wood finials are available to finish the ends of the roller and to do away with the need for a cornice or valance to cover the roller.

er. Rollers and a backing can be purchased separately if you plan a special effect.

A wallpaper border or cutouts can be laminated to a purchased shade to give it a special look. The decorated area should not be rolled up as the paper would crack and pull away from the shade. It is wise to use a special glue that can be purchased for this purpose.

Designs can be stenciled or painted onto a shade, too. Remember that if the design or motif is repeated somewhere else in the room, you can achieve greater impact.

Motifs that are cut from closely woven fabrics such as polished cotton, chintz and persale are best to "aplique" onto a shade. Spray the back of the fabric with a clear acrylic spray before cutting out the design to keep the edges from raveling. Glue in place. After the project is completed, the face of the fabric may be protected by an additional coating of acrylic spray.

Shades may now be trimmed with various fringes, braids, tapes, rick rack and gimp in a large selection of colors. Use one row or several rows and mix and match if you want. It is a good time to use your imagination. Standard shade trimmings are available with adhesive backings. Usually the selection is more limited, however. Trimmings are easier to glue on than sew on.

Fabric can be laminated onto the backing by two methods: 1. Pressed on to a backing with its own adhesive. This is available in kit forms; 2. Glued on shade backings using a special glue. The backing can be purchased separately or you could use a purchased shade. For more information on fabric laminated shades, please call our office.

Kenton County Garden Club

The Kenton County Garden Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Straw, McCullum Road, Independence.

The main attraction for the meeting was a variety sale. Many articles were made especially for this event and went for good prices. Mrs. Jill Bailey was auctioneer. We had lots of fun and made a nice amount for the treasury.

After the sale, Miss Taylor installed the officers for the coming year: Mrs. Lucille Hall, president; Mrs. Audrey Gouge, vice president; Mrs. Nellie Damp, treasurer, and Mrs. Francis Keeney, secretary.

Among those present were, other than those named, Misses Margaret Stephens, Elsie Hiteman and Alice Williams; Mesdames Mildred Popp, Mary Bates, Alline Riddell, Bertha Gabriel, Kathryn Guttridge, and Leontine Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Banks, and Mike Straw.

Delicious refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the RECC auditorium, May 27. The program will be by Kentucky Conservation Commission and will be quite interesting. So, don't wait for an invitation, but come and see Kentucky scenes.

Wendell Ford led the fight to get the sales tax off medicine...

He'll continue to take the load off the people.

That's not a campaign promise. That's a personal pledge from Wendell Ford. He believes that the people—the average, hard-working taxpayer like you—bear too much of the burden for financing state government. And he knows he can do something about that when he becomes governor.

He believes that with inflation and taxes the way they are these days, state government must strive for economy and efficiency, and not give in to the cheap politics and favoritism that creates so much waste. And he knows he can do something about that, too.

Wendell Ford believes that the land and the air and the water belong to all Kentuckians and that the spoilers and polluters must be brought under control. Now. Not some never, never day in the future.

Isn't it time the people had a Governor? Wendell Ford... a strong voice, a clear head.

A FIGHTER FOR PEOPLE.

NEW BANKLICK BAPTIST CHURCH

James D. Johnson

The mothers who were honored on Mother's Day, with a beautiful potted plant each were: Oldest mother, Mrs. Anna Riddle, 249 Bramble Road; the Youngest mother, Mrs. Peggy Johnson, 814 Independence Station Road, Independence. Our prayer to God is that these ladies will enjoy many more Mother's Days with us and that their Christian witness to their children and friends will never cease.

Brother Harold Callen has brought to the attention of our Sunday School Department that we have about reached the situation point in enrollment to space for additional Sunday School class rooms. At the present time there is an urgent need for at least five new class rooms, and the need is seen for at least three more in the very near future. The most needed space for the moment is in the Children's Department. The Beginners, under the direction of Mrs. Verna Brewster, has outgrown their present surroundings three to one. She started with approximately five pupils and now has twenty with a very good prospect list of thirty. The Intermediate group of the Youth Department are also about to burst at the seams. Both the Intermediate boys classes are in dire need of space. Several of the Junior age groups also are beginning to show the need for consideration of additional space. There has also been started an additional class, The Pastor's Class, which has already reached around 14 members and more being added each and every Sunday. But to the Sunday School Director this is just great! For these are growing pains; and without growing pains no Sunday School will exist very long. We of the New Banklick Baptist Church feel that our Lord will present us with the solution for our needed space. He has never failed to point us in the right direction when He knows we are doing our best for Him.

But in the mean time what are we doing about making plans to meet the needs of more space for the future? We were informed last Wednesday night at the regular Officers-Teachers meeting that the pastor has contacted Dr. Jones of our Associational Office, who in turn has contacted a member of our Architect Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in Nashville, Tennessee, who will have a man in our area sometime in the very near future. He will give us the information we seek to aid us in our growing pains for more space to serve our Lord Jesus Christ by teaching men and women and boys and girls the real Truth about God. We do seek your prayers for our future at New Banklick Baptist Church.

The Recreation-Youth Department has also been very busy. They have also asked to be considered in the expansion of our Educational facilities at New Banklick Baptist Church. This is a great and urgent need in many of our Baptist Churches today. We have too long left our youth to root-hog-or-die for themselves. True, we reach them for Jesus Christ, and expect them to come to Sunday School and Church; but do nothing for them to cope with their physical needs as they walk through this world in which we live. Thus, too many times our youth have been ignored by the church in respect for physical needs and the youth suddenly find themselves being tempted by the desires of the world, and without any assistance from the church, whose whole attention is in the direction of the spiritual things; but the Bible teaches that we are a tripartite being, "spirit, soul and body" (1 Thess. 5:23), and are instructed to keep all three pure. Thus we must supply the physical needs of our youth, or, the world will.

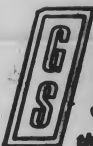

Our pastor, James D. Johnson, all our officers and teachers of our church invite you to visit us if you do not have a church home.

"Grow old along with me . . . the best is yet to be," the sundial seems to say. It's a nice thought—but is it true?

What is best in life? Childhood? Adolescence? The Middle Years? The peace that should come with the twilight of life? Who is to say?

Life is full of many questions and very few answers. The hours bring with them unexpected contrasts of happiness and sorrow—of assurance and dismay—of wealth and poverty, both spiritual and material.

Because of this very uncertainty, we need something far more stable than a sundial to "grow old along with." We need substance, endurance, solidity. We need faith.

Where to find it? How about looking, first, in the church of your choice? Next Sunday?

Dear Editor:

I have been reliably informed that proposed ads are being distributed by Ford for Governor supporters which relate to Bert Combs' position on taxes. For identification purposes I refer to language to the effect that Bert Combs has committed to spend approximately $392 million in additional taxes, or again, language to the effect that Combs is committed to the specific removal of the property tax ceiling, an increase on cigarette taxes to 6c and the appointment of a local tax commissioner rather than his being elected.

The purpose of this letter is to inform you that the above specific ad statements and similar material in these proposed "Ford for Governor" ads are false and, in fact, some so-called tax statements attributed to Bert Combs are libelous in nature.

We know that you would not want to publish any candidate's ads which are misleading to the public, possibly libelous in nature, and which is done at this time in the manner where the other gubernatorial candidate would not have an opportunity to set the record straight and present true facts by way of newspaper advertising.

If you need additional information relating to these misstatements or facts which appear in the proposed "Ford for Governor" ads, please call John Fitzwater in the Combs for Governor Headquarters, Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, Kentucky.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT MATTHEWS, Campaign Chairman

SEATBELTS ARE PEOPLE STOPPERS

When an auto stops suddenly in a collision, or emergency, the people inside keep going with tremendous force. What stops them? The windshield, steering wheel, dash, all too often with tragic results.

But seatbelts stop people, too—safely. With your seatbelt fastened you stay put when your car stops suddenly.

Seatbelts are the best people stoppers!

SPORT SHORTS

The annual Sports Celebrity home run contest will be a pre-game attraction when the Reds return home Friday, May 28 to open a four-game series with the Houston Astros at the Riverfront Stadium.

Although Johnny Bench hit 45 home runs last year to lead baseball in that department, the club record still belongs to Big Klu—Reds Coach Ted Kluszewski.

Johnny Bench owns the Reds longest batting streak of 1971—nine games.

Pete Rose and Johnny Bench are the only Reds players to have played in all the games so far this year.

Gary Nolan reached the first milestone of his career—winning his 50th game 6-1 on April 27 over the San Diego Padres.

SURVEYS TO DETERMINE IF SWORDFISH ARE SOLD

The Department of Health has requested that all local health departments in the state conduct spot check surveys to determine if swordfish is still being sold to the public.

This action is being taken in light of Federal Food and Drug Administration findings that a high percentage (811 of 853 samples analyzed) of swordfish was contaminated with mercury in excess of the FDA (five-tenths parts per million) guideline. The FDA warned that swordfish consumption posed a possible health hazard, especially for children and for women of child-bearing age.

BEECHWOOD AND PINER TO BE RECOMMENDED FOR STANDARD ACCREDITATION

Beechgrove and Piner Elementary schools are to be recommended to the State Board of Education, Frankfort, for standard accreditation, a step up from the current provisional status.

Word of the recommendation was received by R. C. Hinesdale, county school superintendent, from state officials, John Shoemaker and Wilbur Smith, members of the evaluation team.

They pointed out in a letter to local officials that the strengths of the two schools, including increasing library services, compensate for weaknesses.

Six other Kenton county elementary schools also have standard accreditation, Caywood, Park Hills, Crescent Springs, Kenton Elementary, Whites Tower and Taylor Mill.

The two junior high schools also are on the same level while the high schools have comprehensive ratings.

Three schools, still on provisional ratings, Bromley, Visalia and Ryland Heights, may receive standard accreditations next year, Hinesdale said.

After graduation today, Martha dressed her little sister, Amy, in cap and gown and let her walk across the stage. Amy chortled all the way home, "I graduated, just like Martha."

Martha is a sweet big sister. She lets Amy watch while she gets ready for dates, makes clothes for her dolls and invents endless games designed to please a four-year-old. On the other hand, Amy adores the ground her "Marthy" walks on and listens to her advice before all others. It was Martha who straightened her out when she rebelled against church-going. "We go," said Martha, "not because we have to, but because we love God and want to be good."

How glad Bob and I are that we have always gone to church and taken Martha with us! Love of God is an essential part of her life. Now she is helping us teach Amy a similar understanding and reverence.
 Go to church, and take your child. Share with him the greatest wealth on earth.

GOOD HOME MAKERS LOVE AN ELECTRIC RANGE

As a matter of fact, everyone loves the clean, flameless way of cooking with a modern electric range. Pots stay bright and shiny. Kitchen clean-up is quick and easy. And, even nicer are electric ranges with self-cleaning ovens. They stay smoke-free and sparkling clean with no work at all.

And it's all so economical. An electric range operates for just pennies a day — thanks to low-cost rural electric power.

Things get done faster and better in an all-electric kitchen! Your Rural Electric System will help you design a step-saving, cheerful kitchen. No obligation, of course.
